Kilgo-Clark Controversy. Two Had Deaths, Increased Valuations on Railroads. Butler Slings Russell's Praises.

JOURNAL BUREAU. RALEIGH, N. C., June 30.

The trouble between Dr. Kilgo and Judge Walter Clark is still a subject of discussion for the people and the press. Mr. Southgate has, as president of the Board of Trustees published, quite a lengthy correspondence between Dr. Kilgo, Judge Clark, and himself, and does nothing to help Judge Clark's side of the case.

It will be remembered that last winter a man named Langdon from Philadelphia forged a check here was arrested and put in jail. Yesterday a lawyer, Mr. Uhle of Philadelphia came here and procured bail for young Langdon and carried him off to his home. Langdon's people are wealthy and will give him one more trial to do better.

The death yesterday of Mrs. Pence, the mother of the city editor of the Morning Post, and the death of Mr. B. F. Park, both well known people of this city has cast a gloom over the community.

Major Spier Whitaker has joined his regiment at Knoxville. His salary is $3,500 and when ordered to the front will be $3,000. At the age of 64 he can retire on a salary of $1,800 a year.

A court martial's court has been ordered for the camp out here to try deserters. The order comes from assistant adjutant general W. P. Hall.

The passenger rate question before the railroad commission is held over until the 12th. The commission has increased the assessed valuation of railroad property in this State a little over six million dollars. Atlantic Coast Line $2,780,096 in its different lines. The Southern's increase $1,536,725, and the Seaboard-Air Line $786,970. The Norfolk and Southern valuation is increased $162,850 and the Atlantic & North Carolina $218,845.

The valuation of the Western Union Telegraph Co., is increased $620,000; the Postal Telegraph company $63,000; Pullman cars $160,000.

The North Carolina railroad under the assessment is $4,340,000; that of the Western North Carolina railroad is $2,040,000.

Only two officers have been sent to Sullivan's Island to learn heavy artillery drill. At first six were ordered there from here.

Today 548 negro soldiers passed here on their way to Fort Macon.

Some of the officers of the immune regiments think after this war they will be transferred to the regular army.

Senator Butler slings Governor Russell's praises in his editorials in the Caucasian and he also tries to defend Judge Clark in his controversy with Dr. Kilgo.

The nomination of O. H. Dockery as Congressman from the 6th, district has been announced.

Yesterday was a day for marriages here, there being no less than six bridal couples who left here.

The church of the Sacred Heart on yesterday afternoon entertained fully half of the Second regiment on their church lawn. Col. Burgwyn said he could not allow all of the soldiers to leave at one time, although the entire regiment was invited.

The Second regiment is now short only 25 men—having 1,335 in ranks.

Camara Hates. Admiral Camara has asked for coal and awaits the reply of the authorities. He hopes to proceed Thursday.

The situation is unchanged. One man has been landed, who is suffering from small pox.

Admiral Camara has decided to leave the destroyer Audaz. Repairs to the Audaz will take ten days from today. It is practically impossible to take the destroyers across the Indian ocean, as southwest monsoons are heavy between Aden and Colombo.

Spaniards Will Fight. NEAR SANTIAGO, June 29.—The 11 inch guns from Cervera's warship have been mounted on hills commanding the principal approaches to Santiago and the warships themselves have been so placed as to use the remaining guns effectively in opposition to the American advance. It is plain that Cervera has cast his lot with Linares, and will stand or fall with Santiago.

Apparently he has abandoned hopes of escaping with his fleet and is now depending solely upon the submarine mines and Morro batteries to check Sampson. Additional mines have been placed in the Santiago channel and a new line of fortification has been erected east of Morro.

Last night a scout reconnoitering the Spanish position around Santiago, saw the Cristobal Colon, Oquendo, Vizcaya and two torpedo boats anchored in the inner harbor with guns trained on the valleys to the eastward, through which the American army must pass in approaching the city. Picked men from Cervera's fleet had gone ashore to serve the ship's guns mounted there. These guns are designed to pour in a destructive cross-fire upon the advancing columns of America's troops, and to support the lighter batteries mounted in the foothills.

Spanish reinforcements encircle the city, but the strongest batteries face to the eastward, from which quarter the Americans are advancing in force. The surprising energy displayed by Linares and Cervera induces caution on the part of Shafer.

Forwarding Troops. Three transports sailed with troops last night from Tampa for Santiago, and three sailed this morning. Two more are loading. General Coppinger will leave soon.

Government agents at Manchester England bought seven steamers of the Wilson line.

The relief committee at Key West reports that a large number of Cuban refugees are destitute at that place.

Mines Explode. During a storm at Fort Washington on the Potomac below the Capital the lightning struck the switch board connecting with wires to the mines in the river and the mines were exploded.

BEFORE SANTIAGO.

Attack Delayed Until All Preparations Are Complete.

DESPERATE RESISTANCE.

Situation at Manila Viewed With Anxiety. Transports Leaving Tampa for Cuba. Mines Explode in the Potomac. Refugees Destitute.

Attack Postponed.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Secretary Alger says that General Shafter is left to act on his own discretion. He can move forward the army in the attack on Santiago when he chooses.

According to advices from the front, General Shafter may attack the city next Monday, but will not until his artillery is put in position nor will he order an attack until each soldier has three days' rations in his knapsack. This will be impossible until the roads can be prepared for transporting supplies.

The military overland telegraph has been established between Sevilla and Playa del Este. The troops are repairing the road at Siboney and getting up artillery. The American outposts are in sight of Santiago.

Before the Struggle. General Shafter's headquarters are at the front at Siboney, and the army is expecting the big battle at that point. General Garcia with the Cubans will lead in the attack at this point. Siboney is now the base of operations of Garcia's 4,000 Cubans.

General Lawton's men, who are within three miles of Santiago, have taken the most advanced position of any of the American troops. From their headquarters, on the Guama river, they can see into the heart of the city.

General Shafter's men are stretched along the main road to Santiago for nine or ten miles, while six thousand Cubans are scouring the country to the right and left of the city.

An immediate attack was ordered on an outpost of the Spanish at Caney but the Spaniards fell back on Santiago.

Gen. Rabi with two thousand Cubans have gone to oppose the advance of the Spanish troops under General Pando who are advancing from Manzanillo.

Admiral Sampson's men have succeeded in raising the Santiago cable and a cable station will be established at Agudores, only two miles from Morro Castle.

The Philippines. The President is reported as anxious about the situation at Manila. He fears that Germany may seize an island to be used as a coaling station. At Madrid it is hoped that the German warships will attempt to prevent the bombardment of Manila.

General Otis reports from San Francisco that the three expeditions to Manila comprised 11,000 men and officers.

General Merritt took with him on the steamer Newport Wednesday, three million dollars for use at the Philippines. The next expedition will carry forty-seven hundred troops.

Forwarding Troops. Three transports sailed with troops last night from Tampa for Santiago, and three sailed this morning. Two more are loading. General Coppinger will leave soon.

Government agents at Manchester England bought seven steamers of the Wilson line.

The relief committee at Key West reports that a large number of Cuban refugees are destitute at that place.

Mines Explode. During a storm at Fort Washington on the Potomac below the Capital the lightning struck the switch board connecting with wires to the mines in the river and the mines were exploded.
