Watson To Sail After Porto Rican Invasion. Schley To Be Kept In Western Waters.

New York, July 23.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says: Consideration of the advisability of dispatching the eastern squadron to Spain given the matter by the President and Secretary Long today has convinced those officials of the necessity of such action. It can be announced on authority that it was determined to make all arrangements for sending the fleet abroad as soon as the army of invasion is landed in Porto Rico.

The fleet of colliers which have been assembled at Hampton Roads will be retained at that point in anticipation of the early departure of the fighting ships.

Secretary Long has definitely determined, I understand, to retain Commodore Schley in western waters, and although his flagship, the Brooklyn, will probably be assigned to the squadron, he will be retained on duty in Cuban and Porto Rican waters. He will undoubtedly be given a protected cruiser, perhaps the Cincinnati, for his flagship.

It is believed in official naval circles that Commodore Watson will be able to handle the dozen vessels which will be placed under his command without the assistance of another flag officer, and, if necessary, it was pointed out today, the senior captain of his fleet could be placed in charge of a division.

The call of Ambassador von Holleben, of Germany, upon the President today gave rise to the report that he protested to the President against the dispatch of the Eastern squadron to European waters. Officials with whom I talked declared the report ridiculous, and a member of the cabinet emphatically asserts that no objection had been filed in opposition to the campaign which the Eastern squadron or any other squadron may engage in.

Commodore Watson has made all arrangements for sailing, and as soon as the army of invasion is landed and no further assistance from vessels selected for his squadron is required, he will be ordered to proceed on his mission.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

New Cylindrical Cotton Bale. Judge Ewart's Successor. North Carolina's Quota Causes Discussion.

JOURNAL BUREAU.

Raleigh, N. C., July 23.

It has been about decided that if Chemist Withers finds the water in the wells at the Fair grounds (where the second regiment is in camp) pure, the regiment will not have the camp site changed. It is claimed that now the camp is thoroughly cleaned and that more soldiers are discharged from the hospital daily than are admitted.

Adjutant General Cowles, on yesterday reviewed the troops on the field for the first time since his accident nearly two months ago.

A bale of cotton is here on exhibition shipped from Waco, Texas. It is what has been discussed right much lately a cylindrical bale. The one here is 35 inches high, 23 inches in diameter, and weighs 270-pounds. It is said that plants for baling cotton in this form will be put up in North Carolina.

The Agricultural Board did not at its meeting make any appropriation to the State Agricultural society. J. W. Bailey, editor of the Biblical Recorder has resigned as a member of the board. He was one of Russell's appointees.

No report of the work of the Penitentiary Board could be gotten for the press.

Governor Russell has appointed D. V. B. Blythe of Hendersonville the successor of H. G. Ewart as Judge of the Western Criminal court.

Col. Cowles is now president of the General Court Martial at Camp Russell. The officers of the Second Regiment here say that the men from the cities and towns stand camp hardships, and the practice marches much better than those from the country.

And still comes hot indignat denials of the slander of North Carolina to furnish only 85 men under the second call for volunteers. North Carolina's quota is 8000 and Adjutant General Cowles gives the straight statement that the State is only short 94 men of this number.

Letters come here from other States where there are North Carolinians living who are anxious and willing to join the army under North Carolina commands, and thus save their STATE's reputation, but fortunately the State does not need any help except the truth told of how well she comes to the front always. One of these offers comes from far off Detroit.

Quartermaster Z. P. Smith of the 1st Regiment is here on a furlough from Jacksonville. He has on the Khaki (Brown canvas) uniform which in a few days he says will be issued to the entire regiment. Tan shoes will also be issued to the men, and the officers will use them also.

Not Our Way.

El Herald de Madrid says that Don Pedro Verdú, a lieutenant-colonel in the Spanish army, has been compelled to stand on the street corners in that city and beg for alms in order to keep his wife and children from starvation. He commanded a regiment in Cuba, and, having been severely wounded was sent home, being unable to collect his pay, he was reduced to beggary.

Not Our Way.

When in the home stay at the Lupton House for good accommodations.

PORTO RICO

RICO TODAY.

Army Expected To Reach That Port.

GERMANY STRICTLY NEUTRAL.

Reports From Manila. Aguinaldo Assuming Authority. Lieut. Hobson at New York. Gen. Wood Not Governor of Santiago

On to Porto Rico.

SPECIAL TO JOURNAL.—WASHINGTON, July 23.—The three expeditions under General Miles are reported as continuing on their way to Porto Rico.

Early this morning several of his vessels were reported as having passed to the northward of Haiti, and the troops will probably be landed at Guanica, a port on the southwest coast of Porto Rico some time during Sunday.

That Garcia Letter.

That famous letter of General Garcia to General Shafter, explaining the reason for his no longer co-operating with the Americans, which has caused so much discussion, proves to be a veritable fake, the letter having been written by a newspaper correspondent, as now intimated, General Garcia being ignorant of it.

Is it a Cuban Trick?

A dispatch from Santiago says that General Garcia, who left Santiago with his army because angry at General Shafter, is reported to have met a body of Spanish troops on their way from Holguin to surrender to the Americans according to the terms of General Toral's capitulation. The Cubans laid an ambush for the Spaniards, but were utterly and completely routed, forty one Cubans being killed and a large number wounded.

It is stated that the Spanish commander told Garcia that he was on his way to surrender to the Americans, but this did not prevent the Cubans from continuing their fierce attack.

This reported conduct of Garcia the department is disposed to discredit, as it would be utterly foreign to the usages of civilized warfare. Serious trouble will ensue if it proves true, although no credit seems to attach to the report.

Not Governor of Santiago.

The War Department says that the report of Brigadier General Leonard Wood being Governor of Santiago is not true, as no such office exists.

Hobson is Busy.

Lieut. Hobson was in New York today busy looking to the arrangements and making suggestions as to plans for raising those war vessels of Cervera's fleet which it is thought possible can be saved.

After completing his business at New York, Lieut. Hobson probably will get a short leave of absence to visit his home in Alabama.

As to the Philippines.

General Otis with nine hundred troops sailed today from San Francisco, bound for Manila.

Reports from Manila say that the Spaniards there still think that Admiral Camara is on his way to help them, and that he will reach Manila early this week.

Aguinaldo, the insurgent leader continues to assume greater authority, his last act being to proclaim himself dictator of the Philippines.

Germany All Right.

The Administration has been assured by the German Ambassador to the United States of the friendliness of the Berlin government, and that the policy of Germany at Manila will be a strictly neutral one.

Aguinaldo's government will not be recognized by the German Government, and whatever course this country takes at Manila, the same will be followed by Germany.
