TERMS ARE SUBMITTED.

Spain Can Now Decide For Peace or More Trouble.

AGUINALDO MAKING TROUBLE.

Dewey Cables to That Effect. General Shafter Explains Concerning General Garcia, Santiago Uncertain of Its Future. Ponce Pleased With Its Change.

Special to Journal.
WASHINGTON July 30.—The cabinet has submitted the terms which the United States asks of Spain for peace between the two countries.
The conditions were handed to Campon the French Ambassador to be sent to Spain. The terms are as already outlined except as to the disposal of the Philippines. Before hostilities shall cease Spain must withdraw from all the West India Islands, and must cede Porto Rico to the United States.
The island of Guam, in the Ladrone must be given to the United States as a coaling station.
The question of the Philippines is to be submitted to a commission of representatives from the two countries for a settlement. Meanwhile the United States is to control Manila and the surrounding territory.
Ambassador Campon was with President McKinley all the afternoon, in relation to the questions of coming to satisfactory terms.

There are no indications that Europe is anxious to interfere with any settlement of the Philippines question, which the United States may suggest, nor is it probable that Europe will interpose objections now, when peace terms have been decided upon, affecting all other points of possible dispute.

It is probable that Europe would prefer to see the Philippines in the hands of the United States than in those of Spain because the commercial value of the islands will be greater to the world under an American than a Spanish government.

Dewey and Manila.
Admiral Dewey cables that the insurgent leader Aguinaldo is defying the American control, and that if it becomes necessary to subdue him it may be required to have one hundred and fifty thousand American troops in order to subdue him.

The British gunboat Plover has arrived at Hong Kong from Manila. She reports that when she left Manila last Wednesday the situation there was unchanged and the Americans had not yet attacked the city.

It is said at the War Department that at least three of the six military expeditions which have been dispatched to the Philippines from San Francisco are now at Manila, affording an army of between ten and fifteen thousand men, backed up by Dewey's ships and sailors.

At Santiago.
General Shafter cables in regard to the reported troubles with the insurgents that he invited General Garcia to be present at the surrender of Santiago. Shafter says that the Cuban troops were delinquent and that he had to extend his own lines in front of those of General Garcia. It is reported from Santiago that the insurgents had a fight with the troops of General Lugo, who commands at Holguin. According to his story, the Cubans used a dynamite gun with great effectiveness, killing or wounding 300 Spaniards. The story is not confirmed.

Business in Santiago is at a standstill, as merchants, including Spaniards, Cubans and foreigners, are unwilling to risk anything until sure that the Americans are going to guarantee a stable government.

New Ponce Surrendered.
Ponce, Porto Rico, July 30.—The main city of Ponce, a short distance inland from the port, was formally yielded to the Americans this evening. Ferdinand Toro, British consul, acting for the Spaniards, gave the city to Generals Miles and Wilson.

The occasion was more like a gala day than a surrender. Most of the residents remained in the city and welcomed the Americans.

An American guard in front of the public building forced a way for the generals through the cheering crowd. In the building the consul and mayor were formally presented.

Senor Toro said the citizens were anxious to know if the same municipal officers and system would hold temporarily. He was told that municipal affairs would not be disturbed and for the time being the same local officials would serve, but they would be responsible to General Wilson as military governor, who would keep the city under the form of martial law, oppressive to none.

Generals Miles and Wilson then stepped out on the balcony in view of the square. The crowd cheered wildly and the Generals hastily withdrew from the ovation, afterward going back to their headquarters.

Mayor Colon said he was glad the Americans had come to the island, would now enjoy prosperity and peace. The best citizens, the mayor said, wanted American rule.

The ships' anchors had scarcely touched the bottom of the harbor in the morning before they were surrounded by swarms of boats filled with men shouting welcome. Flags of all nations except the Spanish floated to protect houses from bombardment. Some of the houses bore the flags of six nations.

The commandant, Colonel San Martin, was ordered by Governor-General Macias to fight the Americans and prepared to resist. At the solicitation of all the foreign consuls, however, he retreated to the mountains with the garrison of 1,900 regulars. Many volunteers remained and welcomed the Americans.

The Spanish soldiers in the island it is said here, number 70,000 regulars and 5,000 volunteers.

Colonel Allen, of the signal corps, is arranging to operate the cable at Ponce. In a day or two he goes to St. Thomas, where he will confer with the cable company.

The cafes tonight are filled with Spaniards drinking health to the Americans, who are welcomed into the citizens' homes. Ponce instead of Guanica will be the base of operations. The harbor of Guanica is poor.

Official circulars have been distributed in Ponce, advising the citizens to obey General Wilson and praising him. These circulars declare that prosperity will come with the American invasion.

Our New Possession

PORT OF PONCE, PORTO RICO, July 31.—Greater enthusiasm for the American soldiers has not been seen even at home. The people are, man for man, immeasurably superior to the Cubans. They look prosperous and intelligent. There was apparently not a single Spanish sympathizer in the town. Every American soldier and sailor was given the freedom of the town, and as the flags were raised on different official buildings the people gathered in the streets below and cheered the United States and the American soldiers.

The town is clean and well built, and it bears every sign of prosperity. The country beyond is rich in pasture land and is as beautiful as any part of Cuba, the climate being far superior. Our troops have been moved outside the city.

The men are well and all are in high spirits. There is an incentive in this campaign which was lacking in that on Santiago. Then the men were fighting for the Cubans, for whom they soon obtained a very low opinion. Here they fight that they are winning the land for their own people, for themselves, in fact. Every foot of ground over which they advanced means to them so much more territory added to the United States.

BREAKING CAMP.

Will Miss Soldier Boys. Colored and White Soldiers Together. Entire Pretends to be Against Republican Fusion.

JOURNAL BUREAU.
RALEIGH, N. C., July 30.
The breaking of camp here tomorrow (which now appears to be almost certain) will leave many persons without some place of resort, for the afternoon's crowds flocked to the camp daily, and the street car company has reaped a harvest from the soldier boys and their visitors. Colonel Burgwynne hopes to have this part of the regiment travel at night.

At the raising of the flag by the Seaboard Air Line employees, at the Seaboard shops here, this afternoon, Mayor Russ introduced Colonel Burgwynne who made the address. The soldiers participated in the flag raising. The flag was unfurled by little Miss Myrtle King daughter of Master Mechanic D. M. King of the Raleigh shops.

There are some denials regarding the fact that white and colored soldiers are thrown together at Fort McPherson, but there are men whose word deserves credit, that say they have within the last 10 days seen this thing. White and colored soldiers on guard together, and in the Hospitals the cot of one stands side by side with the other. This will eventually produce trouble, for while there are some who will submit because of orders, there are many who will never submit to this—and who will blame them—surely no southern man or woman.

Finishing touches are being given the handsome Capital club building here. A steel ceiling is being put in the ball room.

The government building here that contains the Post office, Revenue office and Federal court rooms is to be made fresh with paint. Collector Duncan has advertised for bids for the work, and it is estimated that the improvements will cost about $5,000.

State Populist chairman Cyrus Thompson says that the State committee has not met, and acted on the matter of Populists fusing with either of the old parties. That was simply Senator Butler's own idea.

The Populist office holders are for fusion with the Republican party except Senator Butler, but they say he will fall in line finally.

Adjutant General Cowles says he hopes in three weeks to be able to walk. He will then go to St. Simons Island with the regimental officers and four companies.

Bishop Wingfield of California whose death is announced is a brother of Mrs. M. M. Marshall of this city. Dr. Marshall is rector of Christ Church here.

Lieut. Smith of Asheville will be commissary of the Second Regiment to succeed Lieut. Rowland and asks to be sent to join his old company from Lumber Bridge.

Judge Eugene D. Carter, lately appointed by Governor Russell as Judge of the 12th district court came here today.

One of the United States convicts that escaped from the penitentiary a few weeks ago by crawling through the drain pipe was captured and has been brought back to the prison.

Governor Russell who has been spending some days at his cottage on Wrightsville Beach has returned to his duties here.

A big 87 foot gun is here on its way to Charleston. It has been seen today by hundreds of people.

The Railroad commission were kept busy yesterday hearing exceptions and excuses from the railroads, and from the express and telegraph companies. They are still in session today.
