POPULIST CONVENT OK.

Middle-of-the-Road Men Meet. Nominating Candidates for 1900. De-source Butler, which Leads to a Split.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3.—The middle-of-the-road, or straight-out populists, re-organized the people's party at their convention here today, renewed its former declaration of principles and nominated a national ticket two years and two months in advance of the date of the date of the election.

The object of this early action was to hold off any such fusion as that of 1896. While the radicals controlled the convention, they could not carry out their programme without a bolt, made chiefly by northern delegates. Western and Southern delegates nominated Wharton Barker and Ignatius Donnelly for President and Vice President, respectively, and declared the principles of the re-organized party.

While the people's party was heretofore divided on the issue of fusion, it has now been found that even the anti-fusionists are badly divided and that the fighting among the middle-of-the-roads themselves has just begun.

An address to the people of the United States was adopted and was afterward incorporated in the convention's platform. It reaffirms the previous platform of the Populists, and covers many additional questions, in referring to the present situation it says:

"Senator Butler, who is the chairman of our national committee, preached disintegration and demoralization, just as Benedict Arnold stipulated for the scattering of the American forces, that the British might the more readily overthrow the young republic. Mr. Butler taught our forces that the first duty of a soldier was to break ranks and go over to the enemy. All efforts to chain the boundless subtlety of this cunning man have been in vain."

The platform which was adopted later incorporated the provisions of the Omaha platform as well as of the address just quoted. One plank especially denounces Senator Butler for attempting "to drive the Populist party into the Democratic organization."

Previous to the adoption of the address Mr. Foster, of Minnesota, created a scene by his bitter objections. He was hissed down, as were others of the Butler faction.

A hot discussion then followed on a motion to proceed with nominations for president and vice-president. The Butler faction moved to amend by referring the whole question to the national committee. This caused a great disturbance and the Butler men were butvoted.

At this juncture the disturbance of the small crowd became so fierce that Mr. Hazebett, manager of the Lyceum, appeared and requested the assemblage to vacate the hall, as he was fearful of the security of his property. The Butler faction, led by Mr. Palmer, then left the hall and the other factions proceeded with the nominations.

The convention adjourned without fixing any time or place for another convention, and the members consider their campaign for 1900 now open.

PORTO RICO COMMISSION.

Arrived in San Juan. Admiral Schley Welcomed.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, September 6.—Admiral Winfield S. Schley, Gen. W. W. Gordon and their staffs arrived here on the steamer Seneca this morning.

As the Seneca entered the harbor the guns on the New Orleans and the Wasp boomed a salute. Flags on the Spanish ships were dipped courteously. Admiral Schley's flag lieutenant came ashore and engaged apartments at the Hotel Inglaterra.

Early in the afternoon General Brooke entered the city with his entire staff. A little later Schley and Gordon came ashore. The three American commissioners called on General Macias at the palace. There was an immense throng in the street and neighborhood. The crowd was quiet, and no demonstration, offensive or otherwise, was made.

The first meeting of the commission has not yet been arranged for. The sittings are not likely to occupy more than a few days.

REPUBLICAN PREFERRED.

By Congressman Linney Even for Army Appointment.

The Hot Wave. Next State Fair Preparations. Confederate Home Needs Money for Expenses. Question of Taxing R. & G. Railroad.

JOURNAL BUREAU, Raleigh, N. C., September 7.

It had become ridiculous, but now it has reached the disgusting stage. The way in which the 1st, and 2nd, Regiments are being tossed up and down in the matter of which one of the regiments is to be mustered out of service. It seems useless to continue to say one day that the First will come home, and the next day that the order is revoked and the 2nd comes home. It will probably be wisest just to wait until the regiment is finally here, and mustered out before making any more statements.

The intense hot wave seems to be universal all over the country. With yellow fever making its appearance in so many places this hot weather brings not only discomfort but fears of the worst kind, for it gives this fever so much headway that it will be hard to handle.

The Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees of the University was in session here yesterday. Mr. Archibald Henderson of Salisbury who recently graduated there was elected one of the instructors in mathematics.

Space at the Fair Grounds is being taken rapidly, some even doubling the space they have heretofore occupied. There will be found many improvements at the grounds for the exhibitor and the visitor. The directors of the various departments have been well chosen, being men well versed in the lines they have been selected to superintend. If the Fair is not a success it will not be the fault of Col. J. S. Cunningham, President, or of Secretary Nichols.

The question has arisen whether the county has the right to tax the million dollars worth of property of the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad in stock owned by that road in other corporations and returnable to the home office here. The county commissioners will look into this matter when they meet again within the next few days.

The equipping of the handsome Capital club building here is not quite completed, but it will soon be done. The handsome opera chairs for the spectators in the ball room will be here by the end of the week.

Mr. John Nichols who is one of a limited number of members of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the United States has been presented with a centennial medal. It is a bronze medal issued only every 100 years.

The Democratic candidates for the county met here today to confer with county chairman as to plans for the coming campaign.

The Confederate Home here is without funds. The annual appropriation is not available until December 1st, and it needs $500 to carry it through September, October and November.

Senator Pritchard and Congressman Pearson endorsed a gentleman for a staff appointment when it was thought North Carolina would have a brigadier General. He was a Democrat. Congressman Linney writes him he "preferred Republicans to Democrats even on the field of battle."

Tomorrow the Populist Congressional convention meets here. Otho Wilson will call it to order. The Republicans are pledged to endorse and vote for the nominee.

RETRIAL FOR DREYFUS.

Seems to Be Assured. His Arrival in Paris will Create Great Excitement.

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Virtually the first steps have been taken toward a revision of the Dreyfus case. The appointment of General Zurlinden to the ministry of war has been fairly well received. He is a military man, first, last and always. The fact that he will be minister of war during the revision will satisfy the army that its interests will be defended.

There is a great deal of croaking on the part of the anti-revisionists who say disorders are sure to result from the arrival of Dreyfus in Paris. These fears appear to be groundless. There is a perceptible feeling now that Dreyfus may possibly be innocent. The great step that has been taken by public sentiment is sufficiently indicated when you remember that a week ago to advance such a theory would almost have laid one's self open to the charge of being mad or a traitor.

Even Rochefort, one of the most bitter opponents of revision, seems to be preparing the way for a possible acquittal. In an article this morning he says desperate efforts will be made to buy over the revisionary jury by the famous Jewish syndicate, of which we have heard so much and seen so little. In other words, if Dreyfus is acquitted Rochefort will be liable to say that the verdict was bought, and point to the fact that he predicted it long beforehand.

It appears hardly likely that the case will be revised in Paris, where the feeling is bitter. The code expressly stipulates that in case of retrial a prisoner must be brought before an entirely different jury. It is rumored today that Dreyfus will probably be tried at the French port where the ship that brings him from Devil's Island ends its voyage. This would be in a probability best. The excitable Paris public, may, therefore, not even have an opportunity of showing satisfaction or the contrary over the revision.

To Strengthen His Forces.

MANILA, Sept. 6.—It is reported that General Aguinaldo is calling out in Manila all natives capable of bearing arms. The insurgent leader is "anxious to strengthen his forces in every possible way."

At a meeting yesterday of twenty leaders of the Filipinos of all sections, called to discuss the future of the islands, eighteen of them were emphatically in favor of outright annexation to the United States and two were in favor of a republic.

The United States cruisers Olympia and Raleigh returned here from Hong Kong today.

Secret Sessions of Cortes.

LONDON, September 6.—A special dispatch from Madrid published here this afternoon states that the cabinet has decided to prevent the newspapers from printing accounts of the secret sessions of the Cortes. The Spanish newspapers generally blame the government for attempting to control the debates of the Cortes, saying the convocation of the legislators is useless if closed doors are added to the silence imposed on the press.
