STUFF AND NONSENSE!

Some of the negro office seekers are saying that the Democrats are crying too much "nigger," and by this cry are uniting the negroes, who fear disfranchisement, if the Democrats carry North Carolina.

This is the same stuff and nonsense which Democrats hear in every State and National campaign, the negroes are getting scared, when instead of being made afraid it ought to be the Democratic policy to placate them, so that they would feel favorably inclined to hear Democratic speeches, and hearing Democratic doctrines would vote the Democratic ticket.

The negro who makes such a statement as this either wants money or is frightened at his chances of getting elected.

The negro has nothing in common with a Democrat, in fact a Democrat is the most abhorrent creature on earth to the negro at election time, although the other eleven mouths will find this same negro asking favors of the white man who he has abused at the polls.

The negro likes the Populist, for the office seeking Populist who takes the negro to his heart finds in the negro a friend and a brother, therefore they have a common object, office getting, and they can delude themselves to any extent in order to get this for themselves.

The idea that there is any kind of political soothing syrup which is efficacious in getting the negro to leave his Republicanism, such an idea must be dispelled in North Carolina where the negro now realizes that he is the party, that all the offices are his and he can give his white Republican or Populist brother just what he wants to, this renders the negro wholly indifferent, and for him to cry about being called a "nigger," therefore will not vote for any Democrat, is too ridiculous to be funny.

The negro has seized the political reins and is driving the Republican team. The occupation is exhibiting and the negro delicious in his new found power drives over his white Republican friends regardless of future consequences.

Therefore what a buff and nonsense to think for a moment that any less Democratic cry of "nigger" would make this same negro vote change in a single instance.

A WARNING TO GEORGIA.

Every true man and good citizen must look upon the political situation in North Carolina with shame and righteous indignation. From the hour of fusion, four years ago, between the Populists and Republicans—and the negroes are included in the latter—the good people of that state have looked upon nothing but public corruption and their degradation. It seems incredible that there could be in any state of the south—and least of all in the old liberty loving, proud spirited North Carolina—such a state of affairs as now exists there. Senator Butler and his deluded followers sowed the wind and they are now reaping the whirlwind. The situation is so bad that honest men with out distinction of party, have sworn a great oath to stand by one another until the state is rid of private rogues and public robbers. The carpet baggery of thirty years ago throughout the South was decency itself compared with the Populist and negro fusion of today. The former was bold, open handed and brazen, and we knew what to expect in fighting such an enemy; but the latter is a worse combination than John Randolph's hybrid of "the puritan and the black leg."—Washington (Ga.) Gazette.

Truth warts well. People have learned that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are reliable little pills for regulating the bowels, curing constipation and sick headache. They don't gripe. F. S. Duffy.

Frank Toothache Cure. Before the days of dentists, and when people generally believed in the value of charms, there were ever so many mysterious ways of preventing tooth-ache. One of these was to dress the right side of the body first—right stocking, right shoe, right sleeve, right glove. A favorite plan in Scotland was to draw a tooth, salt it well and burn it in full view on glowing coals. In Cornwall many save their teeth by biting the first young ferns that appear. The custom of catching a common ground mole, cutting off the paws while the little creature still lives, and wearing them, is traced to Staffordshire, England. Some people who are fond of exercise believe that walking 13 miles—no more, no less—to get a splinter of the toothache tree that grows particularly well in Canada and Virginia will drive away the worst ache and pain that ever tortured a poor tooth. The belief that toothache is caused by a worm at the roots is prevalent in many parts of the world; hence this cure: Reduce several different kinds of herbs—the greater variety the better—to a powder. Put a glowing ember into this powder, and inhale the incense. Afterward breathe into a cup of water and the worm will be gone forever.

Extraordinary Drinks. Of the many extraordinary drinks regularly consumed the blood of live horses may perhaps be considered the most so. Marco Polo and Carpini were the first to tell the world of the practice of the Tartars and Mongols opening the vein in their horses' necks, taking a drink and closing the wound again. As far as can be seen this has been the practice from time immemorial. There is a wine habitually consumed in China which is made from the flesh of lambs reduced to paste with milk or brewed into pulp with rice and then fermented. It is exceptionally strong and nutritious and powerfully stimulating to the physical organism. The Laplanders drink a great deal of smoked snow water, and one of the national drinks of the Tonguiness is a drink flavored with chickens' blood. The list would scarcely be complete without mention of absinthe, which may be called the national spirituous drink of France. It is a horrible compound of alcohol, anise, coriander, fennel, wormwood, indigo and sulphate of copper. It is strong, nasty and a moral and physical poison.

Snow Trade in Sicily. The principal export from Catania is snow, in which a most lucrative trade is carried on in Malta and parts of southern Italy. It is collected during the winter in hollows in the mountains and covered with ashes to prevent its thawing. It is brought down in punions on mules to the coast at night. The revenue derived from this source is immense and renders the Prince of Paterno one of the richest men in Sicily. Snow is the universal luxury from the highest to the lowest rank and is sold at the rate of 4 cents for 30 ounces. The poorest cobbler there would rather deprive himself of his dinner than of his glass of "acqua gelata." It is extensively used in hospitals and a scarcity of it would be considered almost as great a misfortune as a famine and would occasion popular tumult. To guard against such accidents the government at Naples has made the providing of it a monopoly, the contractors being required to give security to the amount of 60,000 ducats, which sum is forfeited if it can be proved that for one hour the supply has not been equal to the demand.

The Savage and the Birdcage. A gentleman who went out with Stanley to Africa took with him a number of birdcages, in which he hoped to bring back some specimens of the rarer birds of the interior. Owing to the death of his carriers he was obliged to throw away the birdcages with a number of other articles. These were seized by the natives in great glee, though they did not know what to do with them, but they eventually decided that the small circular cages were a kind of headgear, and, knocking off the bottom, the chiefs strutted about in them with evident pride. One chief, thinking himself more wise than the others and having seen the white men eat at table out of dishes, thought they were receptacles for food and took his meals from one, ceremoniously opening and shutting the door between each mouthful.

Jack Tar at a Christening. A sailor went up to the font to have his baby baptized. Sailors as a class claim little stock in babies, and, naturally enough, this one presented the infant feet foremost. "The other way," said the minister, and, accordingly, Jack turned the infant upside down. "Excuse me," said the clergyman, "I mean the other way." So back came the embryo foretopman to the first position, to the discouragement of everybody. "Wind it, Jack," said the nautical assistant, and with an "Aye, aye, sir," Jack promptly turned the baby end for end, and it was duly christened head first.—"On a Man-of-war."

A Literary Slip. One of the most literary of the London evening papers makes the following startling announcement: "A complete set of hydrants and fire appliances will be arranged, and the itago is to be fitted with a double asbestos and steel fireproof curtains, controllable by one man. The latter is designed to be one of the largest in London—namely, about 80 feet wide and 50 feet deep."—Glasgow Times.

First Caricatures. Probably the first caricature in manuscript is to be found in the Egyptian papyrus in the British museum, where the lion and unicorn are represented playing a game of draughts.

BABY'S AWFUL HUMOR

My baby sister had a rash, causing her to suffer. We had doctors, and tried everything, without a cure. It would break over, crack open, a watery matter would ooze out and the rash fall off. We procured a box of CUTICURA (ointment), a cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and she was entirely cured without a scar being left.

LAWYERS GET THEM. Spokane, Washington, is now facetiously called the "City of Busted Millionsaires." The beautiful residences of the town were built on a bluff overlooking the river, and were originally designed for two classes of citizens—the real estate men and the bankers. They are now said to be principally occupied by the lawyers who acted as receivers for the banks, or who otherwise helped to conduct those and other institutions through insolvency.

More than twenty million free samples of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve have been distributed by the manufacturers. What better proof of their confidence in its merits do you want? It cures piles, burns, scalds, sores, in the shortest space of time. F. S. Duffy.

Prudent. She—You know I love you, but don't you think we had better not marry until you get an increase of salary? He—Oh, we won't have to live entirely on my salary. I have been looking around a little, and I think I know where I can get you a position, also.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHERRY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

The Horrors of War. "The war," she said, reflectively, "brought about, or at least hurried, a great many marriages." "True," he replied, "but why dwell on the horrors of war?"

Swapping Telephones. The following story comes from the Grand Rapids Press and has to do with a man and a woman who are employed in different offices in one of the large buildings of that city. Each office has a telephone, but as it happens one is an instrument belonging to the Citizens' company, the other a Bell instrument. One day the man had occasion to use the Citizens' line and stepped across the hall to the lady's office. "Have you a Citizens' phone?" he asked, and she replied in the affirmative. "Well, be ventrased: 'I'm a citizen. May I use it?"

Why, of course he might use it, but inwardly she was inclined to envy his ability to stand up and assert his citizenship in this way, for some of her womanly propensities were of the "newish" sort. An hour later she balanced accounts with him. "Have you a Bell telephone?" she asked on stepping into his office. He did not try to deny it. "Well, I'm a bell. May I use it?"

The Howell Torpedo. Commodore John A. Howell, who has just been promoted to the rank of rear admiral, is the inventor of a self propelling torpedo that differs in several respects from the Whitehead. The chief novelty of the American system relates to the mode of driving the screw. Whitehead stored compressed air in a chamber in his torpedo and placed in an adjoining compartment a small engine which should be operated thereby at the right juncture. Howell employs a heavy flywheel, which is put in rapid rotation, just before the torpedo is launched, by connecting its projecting axle with a steam engine that is entirely independent of the torpedo. The Howell system has been improved since it was first patented in 1871, and it has been extensively used in the United States navy.

A CRITICAL TIME

During the Battle of Santiago.

SICK OR WELL, A RUSH NIGHT AND DAY.

The Packers at the Battle of Santiago de Cuba Were All Heroes. Their Heroic Efforts in Getting Ammunition and Rations to the Front Saved the Day.

P. E. BUTLER, of pack-train No. 8, writing from Santiago de Cuba, on July 23rd, says: "We all had diarrhoea in more or less violent form, when we landed we had no time to see a doctor, for it was a case of rush and rush night and day to keep the troops supplied with ammunition and rations, but, thanks to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, we were able to keep at work and keep our health; in fact, I sincerely believe that at one critical time this medicine was the indirect saviour of our army, for if the packers had been unable to work there would have been no way of getting supplies to the front. There were no roads that a wagon train could use. My comrade and myself had the good fortune to lay in a supply of this medicine for our pack-train before we left Tampa, and I know in four cases it absolutely saved life."

The above letter was written to the manufacturers of this medicine, the Chamberlain Medicine Co., Des Moines Iowa. For sale by F. S. Duffy.

Teddy's Blue. When Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was about to lead the Rough Riders up San Juan Hill, Santiago, he tied a blue handkerchief, polka-dotted, around his hat. This was done in order that his men might keep track of him. Later he wore the handkerchief in the trenches.

Just now there is a terrific boom in blue handkerchiefs, polka-dotted. If Roosevelt should run for Governor of New York they shall be in evidence everywhere throughout the Empire State.
