Official Paper of New Berne and Craven County.

New Berne, N. C., Oct. 80, 1898.

Was a great State ever so deeply disgraced as North Carolina has been during the past few weeks? It's Governor Russell, fearing the doom which an impeachment brings, with the assistance of Senator Pritchard calls for Federal troops; It's other Senator, Marion Butler. and the Secretary of State, Cyrus Thompson, going about among the negroes in the black districts, gaining the applause of negroes by making faces and telling smutty stories. Could men fall any lower?

HOW THE NEGRO STANDS ALONE.

The declaration for White Supremacy in this campaign has provoked in some quarters the retort that the negro is independent, and that the white people most suffer, if he, the negro, should cease to work or patronize white people.

The assumption by the negro is that he can stand alone, independent of white men and their assistance.

No better illustration can be found of how well, the negro can live alone, can prosper, build up his home, and develop the resources at his hand, than by taking James City, across the Trent river from tion. New Berne, as a typical example of the negro's ability to progress by himself. James City, became the residence of negroes when New Berne fell into the hands of the Federal army, during the civil war, in 1862.

From that day until the present time it has been solely inhabited by negroes, with no white influence nearer than New Berne to affect their material or social development

James City is not an incorporated town, but is under County governcharter and make it a town, have proven failures as the wrangle mong the negroes for "first places" broke up all such attempts. Its officers, constables, magistra-

And this is James City, said to be the only settlement of negroes of its kind in the United States.

This is an illustration of how the negro progresses by himself, of how annecessary the white man is to him to help him in his material development. It is an illustration and proof of he entire failure of "Negro independence," and how the negro pro
