THE CRISIS IS HERE.

Negro Rule in Eastern Counties Told by Richmond Times.

Says Craven County is "Hacked," "Press the Button and Negro Magistrates Come Forth." Negroism to be Overthrown. Greenville Situation Shown.

RICHMOND, November 2.—Of all the counties in North Carolina accused by negro rule Craven, in which is located the pretty town of New Berne, is the most severely afflicted. Here is the list: Register of Deeds and two deputies, four deputy sheriffs, coroner, four constables, twenty-seven magistrates, county commissioner, member of the board of education, thirteen school committeemen, three road overseers, city attorney, three aldermen and four policemen.

ARE WE HACKED? Craven is the only County the Democrats have any doubt carrying at the coming election. Negro rule there has been so complete the white people are somewhat hacked. They are making a desperate struggle against fearful odds.

Craven County is one of the best counties in the State as far as fertile lands and high-toned white people go. But in the last few years she has been captured by the negro politicians. Here are the negro office holders of Craven county at present: 1 register of deeds and two deputies; 4 deputy sheriffs; 1 coroner; 4 constables; 27 magistrates; 1 county commissioner; 1 member of the board of education; 13 school committeemen; 3 road overseers; 1 city attorney; for New Berne the capital city of the county; 3 city aldermen; 4 policemen.

The Republican ticket in Craven county for the coming election is what put the white people of the east to thinking. The clamor for more offices was so vigorous at the Craven County Republican Convention by the negroes that the white people began to be alarmed. A negro politician said at the Craven Convention:

"In 1894 we pressed the button, and behold John B. Willis, register of deeds came forth; again we pressed the button and Robert Hensley, county commissioner, came forth; we pressed the button and deputy sheriffs came forth; we pressed the button and magistrates came forth.

"And now in this convention we have again pressed the button, and behold C. C. Bosch, for county treasurer is before us, and with the past and present before us what shall the future give us."

This is the slogan of the negro politician. But the call of the men of the east has been heard by strong men all over the State. In every county old time Republicans and honest Populists are joining the white through that is now marching to overthrow fusionism and negro domination. On November 8th the white man will win. They are fighting for their sons, their daughters, their wives and their homes!

To avoid conflicts good white people give way for turbulent negro crowds. But the day is soon at hand when this will cease. This crisis is here. If in the coming election the yoke of negro domination cannot be hurried off there will be race war here in North Carolina. It is a case of self preservation. In many towns in the negro counties, such as New Hanover, Craven, Edgecombe, Bertie, Halifax, Pitt and others, the values of property have depreciated on account of negro domination.

GREENVILLE OVERTHROW. The intelligent white people are thoroughly aroused to the condition of things. In order to put Greenville under control of ignorant negroes and mean white men the Legislature of 1895 passed a bill laying of the town in four wards. By a gerrymander the like of which has never been known for crookedness of lines and alternation of territory, those wards were so shaped that the negroes would carry two wards and the whites two wards. At the last May election the number of voters in these wards showed a white majority in the town of 23, and if the people had been allowed to select their own mayor, as well as their councilmen and the councilmen had been honestly apportioned, a Republican form of government would prevail in Greenville to day. But the bill which the Legislature passed had in it the strange provision that the two negro wards containing a majority of the voters and their negroes should be entitled to two councilmen each and that the white wards should have one each, and these six men should elect the mayor and other town officials.

Hence Greenville has four negro and two white councilmen. The latest poll by the city officials last year in Greenville were as follows: the radical mayor paid above poll tax 43 cents, the chief of police 90 cents, Moses King, negro policeman $7.75, the first negro councilman 84 cents, the second 63 cents, and the other two nothing.

This is the kind of rule the fusionists have given the counties and towns of the east.

E. W. Carpenter's Answer. ED. JOURNAL.—In several issues of your paper slanderous attacks have been made upon me, and in your last issue you reiterate one of them, and state that I have not denied these charges and that if I choose to do so that I shall have the free use of your columns. I gladly accept of your generous offer.

You state that it has been published that I "have lived with a negro woman called Sarah many years, and that my negro children are on the streets of New Berne." Now in regard to this charge I will state that it is untrue. This woman never had a child in her life, which is generally known by all the old citizens of New Berne who have known her from childhood. She has reared several colored children, relatives of hers, who did not have a drop of white blood in her veins. Some years since she kept a boarding house for white table boarders, among whom were some of the best citizens of New Berne. I also took my meals at her table with these gentlemen. My sleeping apartments have been in my office building ever since I have lived in New Berne, which I still occupy and I take my meals at the hotel. I am safe in saying that there is not a colored woman in New Berne who is more highly esteemed and respected by white and colored than "Aunt Sarah" as she is called, who is a devoted member of the church and faithfully lives up to her religious duties. Since the war I have been the attorney for her and a large number of women, white and colored, collecting rents, etc., for them, and not one of these women can say that my relations with her has not been strictly moral and honorable in every respect. I have also transacted business with many white and colored clients during this period as office attorney, and I have yet to learn of a single client who can truthfully say that I have knowingly wronged him, or her, out of a cent.

Now in regard to the Jane Hill case, which you and Mr. Watson have alluded to, I will say, that my connection with her pension claim, consisted in swearing her out her witnesses and placing the seal of the court upon her papers, the same duties that all clerks of courts are required to do by law. Through deception and fraud on the part of a namesake of her deceased husband's, the government was made to believe that her pension claim was a fraudulent one, and notwithstanding she produced in court two soldiers, as witnesses to the government's one, who were members of her husband's company, the jury ignored this preponderance of evidence in her favor, and brought her in guilty. The Judge, however did not believe her guilty, as he stated in open court, when passing the sentence, that there was great doubts of her guilt, and gave her a light sentence, and after this trial he told one of her attorneys that had he been on that jury, he would not have agreed to such a verdict, which shows that he did not believe her guilty, and since her trial, it has been ascertained, beyond a shadow of doubt that she was not guilty, and that she is the lawful widow of said soldier and was justly entitled to the pension allowed to her out of my pocket which I ever received. Which statement Jane Hill will also make if necessary as well as the party who sold the property she purchased with this pension money, for several hundred dollars less than what it cost, which property I did not own at the time she purchased same. This is all there is to the Jane Hill case.

In conclusion I will say, that I can safely compare my moral life with my political opponent, and if he leaves the clerk's office with the same good record awarded to me, by a Democratic committee, he will have occasion to be as gratified as I was, when I left the same office some years since.

TRIED TO ESCAPE.

Federal Prisoners Tunnel Under The Wall.

Democrats Watch Registration Books. Republican Device Ticket. Red Shirts in Different Places. Editor Bailey in Reform Mood.

JOURNAL BUREAU. RALEIGH, N. C., November 2. It was discovered yesterday that Federal prisoners out in the penitentiary were tunnelling under the wall, so as to escape. They had sunk a shaft about six feet deep behind a pile of trash, and had tunneled about half way under the wall. These Federal prisoners, so the authorities claim, have more time and latitude than do the State prisoners. This tunnelling was done during their dinner hour. This seems that there is much carelessness there, that men are allowed to go about the grounds and dig, and no guard or official looking after them.

The cotton receipts for the past year here have been 29,804 bales as against 23,279 bales for the year previous. The receipts have been about 25 per cent. greater than last year and the price about one cent less per pound.

The registration books are being carefully examined here, and it is found that there are ex-convicts registered, and 40 dead negroes. All these will of course be taken off the books, and the strictest watch kept at the polls.

The device on the Republican ticket is a picture of McKinley, over the picture is an eagle with out spread wings and flags on either side with cannons, guns, bayonets, a sword, a drum and cannon balls. The Democratic and Populist tickets are plain.

Things are in bad enough shape here, but in Wilmington and New Berne and all that eastern section things are "red hot."

Red shirts are going to figure pretty lively in the State next week, and "red shirts" and negroes always clash. It is said that quite a number of men wearing red shirts went quietly into a negro church on the Southeastern part of the State on Sunday and took their seats. The preacher very thoughtfully closed his sermon soon after, and the congregation dispersed as rapidly as possible.

Right now everything seems to be entirely interested in the coming election; it is to be hoped that there will be no falling off in the interest. Business will be practically suspended here on the 8th.

It is said that some of the officers of the Second Regiment have been so careless with government property that they will have trouble when settling day comes. They are required to account to the government for all its property

The annual reports from all the county superintendents except the one from Mitchell county have been sent in to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Mr. J. W. Bailey, editor of the Biblical Recorder, and general fault-finder is again on the war path attacking the State Fair and its management. He objects to many of the side shows, and what he terms gambling devices. He describes them separately, so he evidently knows what he is talking about, or thinks he does. It is a pity Mr. Bailey has to live in such a wicked world with his satiric views.

The Republicans issued a campaign circular today using the statement of the Halifax negro Steptoe, that Capt. Kitchen, his son and others assaulted him and broke into his house. Steptoe has secured a bench warrant for their arrest.

Anything regarding the reorganization of the State guard into three regiments will not be given out until after the election. What it has to do with the election is not understood.

Governor Russell is in Wilmington in conference with O. H. Dockery, Sr. The Democrats will have to be on the watch for otherwise some trick will be played upon them.

THE CENTEMERI KID GLOVES!

Formerly Known as the Centemeri Gloves. Now Known as the Maggioni Gloves. The maker of the gloves known as "The Centemeri Gloves" that won fame at the Centennial Exhibition in 1876 is, and always has been, Maggioni Francisco of Milan, Italy. P. Centemeri & Co. never were the makers of these gloves, but simply controlled the sale in the United States with the right to sell the glove under the brand, "P. Centemeri & Co. until 1888, when their contract with Maggioni expired. We quote the Dry Goods Economist: "The Maggioni Francisco gloves, which for about fourteen consecutive years, up to 1888 had been imported by Mess. P. Centemeri & Co., as the "Centemeri Gloves" are very well-known, have stood the test of years and are considered standard in the American markets. Mess. P. Centemeri & Co., whose contract with Maggioni of Milan expired in 1888, have no longer the gloves of this make for sale." The above explanation is due to the well-earned laurels of these celebrated gloves. Our new lines for Fall are in store and inspection is invited.
