

Editorial

EDITORIAL.—In looking over the contents of the JOURNAL each morning, I note the wish of candidates placing themselves before the voters.

Now all this is amazing, perhaps, but does it not look like all "demagogues" to see such a scramble for office?

Business must be done, but when such a crowd want to get into petty office which the best of them, hardly pays enough for a comfortable living.

Of course every one in his choice but to the outside spectator it looks like an unseemly scramble, or to repeat, "demagogues."

SPRATTON

William Dunn For Mayor

ED. JOURNAL.—Without detracting from the claims or merits of other gentlemen whose names have been mentioned as candidates for the majority of the city, I desire to present the merits of our highly esteemed citizen and Christian gentleman, Mr. William Dunn for Mayor.

subject to ratification by the majority of the Democratic voters at the approaching primary election to be held on January 19, '99.

Mr. Dunn has always been loyal to Democracy, a liberal contributor of his means in its support, has never held a political office, belongs to no political faction, he is one of our most enterprising citizens, being connected with many industrial interests of the city.

President of the East Carolina Fish & Agricultural Fair has given years of his time and attention without stint, at great personal sacrifice, without reward, save the merited praise of its success, to which his efforts contributed so greatly.

And truly may it be said our Fair would have long since been an iridescent recollection of the past but for his tireless energy. He has done much for the development of our trucking interest which has been so beneficial to all classes of our community.

He is indeed a man of affairs, practical, liberal and energetic, and if elected would undoubtedly wear the emblems of this high and honorable position with great credit to himself and all the people would feel justly proud of having bestowed upon him its highest honor. "Let the office seek the man."
