WASHINGTON, January 8-The declara on of Richard T Croker, the Tammany IS HUBSE DY COSHOT. eader, in favor of expansion and signinet sliver has been generally discussed by Democratic members of Congress, Reppresentative de Graffenreld, of Texas, said yesterday:

"In giving out his interview at this time Mr. Croker could have had but one An Amusing Demand. The "Only object-to array himself against his party. Bryan can take it for granted that Tammany will fight him in the next national convention. Mr. Croker's outburst will do him no good and will not injure Mr. Bryan's chances. Whenever Tammany has left the pregincts of New York for a wider political field it has the war received his nomination in the south and west are not inclined to repolitical magnate."

Mr. de Graffenreid is a pronounced anti expansionist. "I cannot but regard the acquisition of the Philippine group with a feeling of horror," he said. "Macaulay, in one of his essays, says: "Doctrines must generally be embodied before they can excite a strong public feeling. The mutitude is more easily interested in the most unmeaning badge. or the most insignificant name, than it the most important principle.' It is so with expansion. What possibility is there that the people, the great mass of the bone and sinew of the country, wil calmly and dispassionately analyze the respective merits of expansion and antiexpansion theories

"To the average American voter expan sion is symbolized by a banner with a portrait of President McKinley or A miral Dewey on it, while the anti-expan sion blea is conveyed by a caricature o Senator Hear, dre-sed as an old woman With ideas so typitied, men are led to worshiper and, blinded by the radiane of the suddenly developed halos about the heads of the military and naval hatoes they regard with highest favor situations and conditions which would have been revolting but a short time

"If, two years ago, a proposition had been submitted to purchase the Philippines for $20,000,000, would It have received a vote in either branch of Conress. Like other members of the Texas lelegation, I am bound by the instructions of the State convention to favor the liberty of Cubs and the acquirement of Porto Rico. Nothing was said, however bout the Philippines, and even if I had been instructed by the State convention o favor their acquisition, I believe l should disregard such instructions, s strongly am I opposed to this project.

The presiding of Lieut, Gov. Reynolds in the Senate has met with no criticism in the Senate as yet. He seems anxious for the prompt and harmonious despatel of business. The amusing demand of the negro Senator Fuller in the Senate to know "whether he would be heard on this floor in behalf of his race," when he was being quietly listened to with no indication otherwise, led to some amus ing remarks. After adjournment Rey nolds jokingly demanded of a group of Democratic Senators, "aren't you going to let our man be heard."

As predicted Craven's only Isaac H mith has made bimself heard and as a result of his voting for Judge Conner he s non grata persona to his party. In their caucus the Republicans cast him of and he is now a party all to himself, The talk of creating a Commission of nmigration has lead Senator Brown to say that he does not think that the peo ple would approve of the creation of the ew office at this time but he would be very valuable official. Senator Brown has much experience in bringing immi grants to Columbus county and speaks of the great work the Seaboard Air Line has done in that direction.
