THE COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

On the Investigation of Mismanagement Department of Normalized. Generally Favorable.

New York, January 25.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says: President McKinley will have in his possession on Thursday next the complete report of the war investigating commission. The report will comprise about 40,000 words. Attached to it will be an appendix of 500 printed pages, setting forth all of the testimony taken by the commission during its investigation.

It has been determined by the commission not to mention any names or to make any recommendations, but simply to record, under the head of each department and each camp, the inefficiencies and scandals which have been developed by the investigation, but the identification will be so complete that the President will be able to fix the responsibility. These are the main facts as summarized.

The Secretary of War ordered the major-general commanding to make an inspection tour of the camps. The major-general commanding returned the order to him and informed him that he was in the habit of making out his own orders. The major-general commanding was permitted to go to Santiago de Cuba, and at the same time the Secretary of War informed General Shafter that General Miles was not to supersede him in command.

A large number of civilians were appointed to staff positions who were without experience, but they rapidly learned their duties.

The charges preferred against the Secretary of War that he and members of his family were interested in sites selected for camps and in contracts are without foundation. The major-general commanding recommended the location of camps at Chickamauga and Tampa, and an officer on the staff of General Miles selected the site for Camp Alger. The Secretary strongly opposed the location of a camp at Miami.

The Secretary of War did not learn of the condition of the troops at San Juan until the "round robin" was circulated, when steps were taken to bring the troops north.

The work of the adjutant-general's and paymaster-general's departments is declared satisfactory.

A sufficient number of inspections were not made by the Inspector-General's department. Had such been the case, the camp conditions would not have been as serious as they proved to be. The commission will show that this department should be radically reorganized.

No irregularities have been found in the quartermaster-general's department, notwithstanding the many charges preferred against it. So far as the clothing was concerned, it will be found that in some cases the prices paid were cheaper than those paid for the same articles before the war.

The commission has found no evidence of scandal in the matter of purchase of transports.

The administration of the Commissary General department will be commended, attention will be called to disbursements amounting to about $35,000,000. The statement will be made that the government obtained full value.

Regarding the beef controversy the commission will find: That the charges that chemicals were used to preserve the beef are without foundation; that the refrigerated beef furnished the army was excellent in quality and sufficient in quantity and sufficient in quantity. Attention will be called to the fact that the beef upon which chemicals were employed was placed on board a transport at Tampa by Mr. Powell, and did not belong to the government.

An insufficient number of inspections were made by the Surgeon General, department, proper sanitary regulations were not strictly enforced and there was delay in some instances in furnishing medical supplies.

No fault will be found with any of the other departments. General Shafter's admission of mistakes will be recited. The commission will commend the Santiago Porto Rico campaign.

GETS WORSE

As Investigation of Penitentiary Matter Goes On.

Will Abandon State Farms. To Secure White Supremacy. Jim Crow Car will Become a Fact. Disorderly Negro Soldiers.

JOURNAL BUREAU, Raleigh, N. C., January 30.

The affairs of the penitentiary are still the leading sensation, considerably over one hundred thousand dollars in debt and the books in such a fix as to make a close estimate impossible. But the report of the sub-committee that visited the State farms is much worse. No record has been kept of many of the sales and of several hundred cords of wood shipped there is no account kept at all. Only a portion of the farms were under cultivation last year and thousands of dollars are due merchants for supplies furnished. The sub-committee have handed in the report to the joint committee and this committee will report to the Legislature with recommendations. One will be the abandoning of all the State farms with one exception and will name the farm to be kept, and will recommend the concentration of the convict labor to make it more effective.

The discussion before the committee will be active each day this week. Among the proposed bills for discussion will be on Thursday the one to reduce auction fees on leaf tobacco from 15 to 10 cents.

The amendment to the constitution to secure white supremacy seems to have reached the stage when little or no change will be made in it. The last joint caucus after much talk recommended no changes in its form. The restricting clauses in the 4th and 5th sections are as follows:

Section 4. Any person presenting himself for registration or voting shall be able to read and write any part of the Constitution in the English language, and shall have paid by the first day of February the poll tax for the previous year, as prescribed by law, and shall exhibit the receipt therefor. Poll taxes shall be a lien only on assessed property, and no process shall issue to enforce the collection of the same except against assessed property.

Section 5. No male person who was on January 1, 1867, or at any prior thereto, entitled to vote under the laws of any State in the United States wherein he then resided; and no son or grandson of any such person not less than 21 years old at the date of the adoption of this amendment of the Constitution shall be denied the right to register and vote at any election in this State by reason of the educational qualification prescribed in this article, provided he shall have registered prior to December 1, 1908, in accordance with the terms of this article and no person shall be allowed to register under this section after that date.

There is no doubt about the passage of the "Jim Crow Car" law for separate cars. There will not be over 25 votes cast against the measure. The objection by the railroads is of course that extra and at times almost empty cars will have to be hauled. The proposition to divide the cars into two compartments has not met with much favor, nor has the plan to have none but first class fares. Some of the western members say that in their section they do not need the law and hope that certain small roads will be made exempt. This can well be left to the Railroad Commissioners.

A battalion of the 6th Virginia Regiment, colored, passed through here yesterday. It is said that this Regiment has earned a worse reputation at Mason than the North Carolina 3rd. They were at the depot here but a few minutes Sunday morning but there was noise enough during their stay.

The snow fall of 7 inches has about gone and the sleighs that were out Saturday night are stored away again.

These are dangerous times for the health. Croup, colds and throat troubles lead rapidly to Consumption. A bottle of One Minute Cough Cure used at the right time will preserve life, health and a large amount of money. Pleasant to take; children like it. F. S. Duffy.

AGUINALDO'S BARBARISM

MANILA, Jan. 29.—The Spanish civil prisoners have not yet been released. Tales of suffering, hunger and dishonor come from the provinces. Young Spanish girls, it is said, are forced to live with Indians. The parents of some of them, being powerless, appealed to Aguinaldo. His reply was a letter from a suffering—saying she is happy and contented. Ladies have suffered untold humiliations to save their husbands from cruel treatment.

Five priests have died in one province from hunger and cruelty, although $60,000 had been sent by the corporation for their maintenance.
