DEMOCRATS SMOKE
And Help Pay Campaign Expenses of the 1900 Fight.

CHICAGO, ILL., February 2.—It is a part of the plan of the Democratic party to run its campaign of 1900 through the medium of tobacco smoke.

It is figured out by Senator J. K. Jones, former Governor of Illinois, former Governor Stone, of Missouri, Senator Teller, of the Republican silverites, and other members of the ways and means committee of the national Democratic and national silver committees, that the gain to the campaign fund from this source will be from $10,000 to $40,000 a month.

Two former office holders during Mr. Alge's administration and a Chicago cigar manufacturer are given the concession for the manufacture of cigars and the ways and means committee will sell labels to the company at the rate of one cent for ten cent cigars, and one half a cent for five cent "smokers." These will be paid for when delivered, as revenue stamps are, so the committee will get its profits in advance and will depend on the loyalty of the followers of silver men to buy the cigars.

The cigars will be called the "Jefferson" and the label will bear the picture of Thomas Jefferson on the right side and the profile of the cigar manufacturer on the other.

Between these portraits will be the announcement: "For every cigar sold under this label one cent (or in case of the five cent cigars, one cent) has been contributed to the national ways and means committee of the democratic party of the United States."

Underneath will be signatures of W. H. ("Coin") Harvey and of the treasurer of the national democratic committee. Every precaution will be taken by the ways and means committee to insure that the cigars shall be fully up to the standard of the Chicago platform. The "five cent" will be a domestic, but the ten-cent production must be seed Havana of good quality.

THE LEGISLATURE.
New Suffrage Law Proposed Seems Satisfactory

The Criminal Issue. After Railroad Commissioner. Captain Day May Fight. Scotland County Fight. New Bern Fair.

JOURNAL BOARD,
Raleigh, N. C., February 3.

The revised form of the amendment that will be submitted to the people for their decision at the polls in 1900, being "An Act to amend the constitution of North Carolina" is now probably in its completed state.

The caucus made many changes in the proposed amendment, it is now very simple. Article VI of the Constitution is abolished, and the new article is composed of but eight sections. Of course the chief interest is in regard to limiting the suffrage and just two ways are proposed. It is required "to read and write any section of the Constitution in the English language," and it is required to exhibit a receipt for poll tax paid before February 1st for the preceding year.

All property qualifications have been struck out that were in the first draft of the amendment. The clause relating to those who were legal voters before 1867 remains, and these are required to register before 1901 and their names to become a permanent matter of record with the Secretary of the State. Of course conviction for crime remains a barrier.

This plan, education and the poll tax, looks very simple, but it is thought that it will do the work. It is not likely that any further change of importance will be made in the proposed amendment before it is placed before the legislature for the necessary majority in order for it to go to the people for their vote in 1900.

There is a difference of opinion among Democratic members about restricting the suffrage. It appears that some of them during the campaign promised not to restrict it. Just what happens they had to do any campaigning under such circumstances is not very clear, but they were in the west where negroism was not so apparent.

That the educational qualification will disfranchise some whites is not to be denied. But there are many intelligent whites, who are not up in book learning, that are willing to lose their votes for the general good. It will be remembered also that the campaign literature contained something about no disfranchising which some of us did not endorse over during the fight for white supremacy.

The Senate spent the greater part of yesterday's session in discussing the bill relating to the criminal insane. No new features were brought out during the talk.

The big Wilmington delegation was here yesterday. They came to advance the candidacy of Frank McNeill as Railroad Commissioner. It seems a little early to be making such a move for no bill is yet before the legislature looking to taking possession, but they want to be in line apparently. However it is probably a trip to see the legislature at work for many of the most prominent citizens of Wilmington are among the sixty in the party, such as Col. Roger Moore, Gen. L. Morton, Walker Taylor, H. C. McQueen, Jno. D. Bellamy, E. G. Parmele and J. C. Stevenson.

The caucus went into the naming of the board of Internal Improvement and the directors of the penitentiary. The caucus was of course secret and the names selected are not given out only a few being mentioned as probable. The entire list will probably become known in a few hours. As the future control of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad and the penitentiary depends on the men selected, there is much interest in the result.

It is thought that Capt. Day, Supt. of the penitentiary by the good will of Russell, may be able to cause some trouble if he insists the action of the Legislature and taking the law to court gets it declared unconstitutional. If he resigns from the office Russell would then be free to appoint a straight out Republican to the place and would probably avail himself of the chance.

The Legislature is keeping a card up its sleeve however, by determining to adjourn before the 30 days allowed by law are used up, so as to be able to meet again if desired or rendered necessary by the acts of the Governor. Russell will probably be more "uphill" after the Legislature adjourns, for at present he is in a few and trembling in dread of impeachment. He need not worry on that account at present.

The big fight before the committee on the formation of the new county of Scotland was continued yesterday afternoon and the decision will be announced soon. It has been the most hotly con-

General Miles Bore by His Stand on Embalmed Beef Issue.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Gen. Miles, by reiterating his statement that embalmed beef was furnished the army and announcing his readiness to prove it, has seemingly invited a court-martial of himself, thus forestalling what has been publicly announced for weeks past as Secretary Alger's dearest wish. In fact, the last statement of Gen. Miles is regarded as a dare to the Secretary of War.

It would be wise on the part of the administration to give Gen. Miles an early opportunity to prove his charge for it cannot be truthfully denied that public opinion, as represented by the masses who are not interested in the welfare of particular officials, either civil or military, is at this time inclined to believe that Gen. Miles is right, although it has been semi-officially stated that the report of the War Investigating Commission, which, by the way, was to have been made this week, but has not been, would declare that embalmed beef was not issued to the army.

The people want the truth and the whole truth, regardless of consequences, in this business, and sooner or later they will get it.

Cuban Railroad Combine.
HAVANA, February 2.—The Cuban railroads are to be controlled in New York. The contest for their ownership has been a hot one and American capital with an English alliance has won, the opposition coming from an all-English syndicate.

Thirty three million dollars were recently raised in New York city for this deal, which, if carried to a conclusion, will require $10,000,000 in addition in amount. The transactions which called public attention to this great combination of capital were the acquisition of the United Railroad of Calbarien and the Matanzas and Sabanilla Railroad, following the purchase of the Sagua la Grande Road.

Chances For Peace Treaty.
WASHINGTON, February 3.—Although the opponents of the treaty of peace are still claiming 34 votes against it, the general impression is that the treaty will be ratified when the vote is taken on Monday, because some of those who are on the list as opposed to the treaty will fear to go on record against it.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepard, Publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Eldon, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe." Pleasant to take, quick to act. F. S. Duffy.

PHILIPPINE SITUATION.
Edward A. Andree, Belgian Consul on Philippines.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Edward A. Andree, for the past sixteen years Belgian Consul at Manila, is in this city, enroute to Washington, on a secret mission.

It is understood that he is to offer the United States his good services as mediator between this country and the Filipinos.

Speaking of the present condition of affairs in the Philippines, Consul Andree said that should the Americans and Filipinos clash the loss to the Americans would be great, not so much, however, from the force of bullets, but from sickness, which would follow an active campaign. The Filipinos had, he said, modern rifles, and could inflict much damage before being subdued, but he did not look for any serious disagreement.

"The Filipinos," he said, "do not understand their position. As soon as they can be made to realize that the United States will not make rash promises, then as soon will the Filipinos welcome the protection of this country, but until that time arrives there will always be some signs of discontent. As soon as the natives realize that they can make money and live comfortably they will cease fighting. The recent proclamation of the President did much to relieve the anxiety of the people, and the conferences between the American commissioners and the Filipinos will result in much good."
