3,000 FILIPINOS KILLED.

American Now in Full Possession of Territory.

Special to Journal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6.—General Otis wired the Department, the American loss in the Manila fight was twenty killed and two hundred wounded. Four thousand Filipinos were killed. The fighting lasted two nights. The Americans are now in full possession of all the territory surrounding Manila.

VICTORY AT MANILA.

The Filipinos Attack Americans Not Driven Off With Heavy Losses.

MANILA, Feb. 5.—Defeated in a desperate effort to break through the American lines and enter the city of Manila, the Filipino forces, after many hours of continuous fighting, have been driven from the villages of Santa Anna, Peco and Santa Mesa.

They have been compelled to retreat to a position a considerable distance farther out in the suburbs than the one they held before attacking the city.

Although it has been impossible thus far to estimate accurately the number of Americans who fell, it is believed that about twenty were killed and 135 wounded.

The losses of the Filipinos are heavy; the American troops having gone into the engagement with great enthusiasm and determination. They made the streets of the city ring with their cheers when they were notified of the attack and were ordered to advance.

Several of the vessels in Admiral Dewey's squadron took part in the fight, firing on the natives in Malate and Calvoan and driving them from both those places.

The battle was brought about by the action of three native scouts, who advanced close to the American lines, near Santa Mesa, and made a feint to go through. They retreated upon being challenged, but returned again in a short time. Once more they retreated.

When they returned a third time and attempted to make their way past the outposts of the Nebraska troops a corporal challenged them and then fired. One of the natives was killed and another was wounded.

The American troops lost no time in replying to the attack. Members of the North Dakota, Nebraska and Montana Regiments returned the Filipino fire with great vigor and succeeded in holding the natives in check until the main body of the American troops arrived on the scene.

There was a slight lull in the fighting after the first reply of the American troops, but the firing was continued five hours with much regularity. During the early hours of the morning it became brisker, and at daylight the American troops made a firm advance.

In the daylight it was found that the Filipinos had massed themselves about Santa Mesa and Calvoan, and also had a considerable force about Gagalangin. General Otis' troops ultimately drove them out of these villages. When the fighting lulled again the Americans were in possession of Santa Anna, in which village the natives had rendezvoused for weeks prior to the battle.

While the American troops were doing such effective work in repelling the attack, news of the fight was received on board the vessels of the American squadron. The monitor Monadnock, which was lying off Malate, opened fire on the Filipinos with her 10 inch guns, joining the gunboat Concord and the cruiser Charleston, lying off Malabon, in the firing.

The splendid police system prevented a general outbreak in the city, though several soldiers were attacked by natives in the streets.

Lieut. Charles Hogan and Sergeant Wall were shot by natives, the former being seriously wounded and the latter slightly. Lieutenant-Colonel Cotton was attacked by a native with a sword while riding in a carriage to the front. He killed his assailant with a revolver. Col. William C. Smith died of apoplexy.

Many of the insurgents were driven into the Pasig river and drowned. Several hundred were taken prisoners.

La Grippe is again epidemic. Every precaution should be taken to avoid it. Its specific cure is One Minute Cough Cure. A. J. Shepard, Publisher Agricultural Journal and Advertiser, Eldon, Mo., says: "No one will be disappointed in using One Minute Cough Cure for La Grippe." Pleasant to take, quick to act. F. S. Duffy.

THE LEGISLATURE.

No More Russell's Braves To Disgrace The State.

Special Merchants Purchase Tax Likely to Be Defeated. Cost of Judge Norwood. Jim Crow Car Bill Hangs Fire.

JOURNAL BUREAU.

Raleigh, N. C., February 6.

The reorganization of the State Guard effected by the new law is marked by two features. The first is the battalion formation, twelve companies to the regiment. The second, the provision that there will be no colored companies as long as white ones can be obtained. This will shut out the colored company at Charlotte and is one of the fruits of the behavior of the 3rd North Carolina Regiment, Russell's Braves. The negro is not needed as a soldier and will not be called on again. The naval reserves of course, come in under the operation of the new law.

In spite of the great effort to rescue the repeal of the merchant's purchase tax, by the many delegations from various cities, it is not to be done. The majority of the committee on finance that has the bill in charge is said to be unfavorable to a repeal. Of course the House and Senate may not agree with the report of the committee, but the habit is to so agree.

The snag on which the Senate has run nearly every day for a week has been cleared away by the agreement on the insanity laws. The dangerous insane will be kept in the west wing of the penitentiary. The penitentiary is to be known by that term no longer but is the "State Prison."

The bill reducing the fees of all county officers, introduced by Winston, was taken from the calendar Saturday and made a special order of business for today. The idea is to make it a law quickly if it is to become one, as the registers of deeds are pulling in too much money during the interval they say. Probably some of the large counties may pay too much in fees, although the officers don't think so, but it will hit some of the smaller fellows pretty hard.

The House Judiciary committee decided in the Norwood case as follows: "Resolved, That W. L. Norwood, judge of the Twelfth Judicial district, is liable to impeachment if he has committed any act to justify it." This simply means that the committee recognizes that Norwood is still judge, and not as some have held that by his semi-resignation he had ceased to be. To be consistent, the committee reports favorably on allowing Norwood the three months salary of $500 for last June, July and August. The only steps now required to secure impeachment is proof of drunkenness, which would not seem difficult to obtain if the truth of the many eye-witnesses is to be believed. The final vote was 13 to 6.

The anti-trust law now before the House and which some papers think too heavenly for anything, has one clause that is certainly of the devil. The 5th section provides that suits for debts due by North Carolinians to any firm which is a member of a trust cannot be enforced in the courts. It is claimed by some that this encourages dishonesty and it looks like it. The bill is a copy of the Missouri law and is worded in the same way.

The separate car bill still hangs and drags. There are so many bills and propositions on this matter that it seems a matter of difficulty to fix on any one plan. Of course something will be done, but too much pressure has been brought to bear, not to mention the individual campaign promises, to fall to afford relief. When one of the railroad men remarked that the people did not demand such a law, the righteous indignation of Senator Ward became stirred, and he declared that such "insolent words and fantastic efforts to balk this action would before high heaven make angels weep!" It is to be noticed that the "voice of the people" is breaking out in various papers of the State wanting to know why the law is not already passed.

The formal election by the Legislature of the committee on Internal Improvements will be the chief point of interest until over with. All but the member from the seventh district were selected last week. With his name added, the disposition of the committee in regard to the Presidency of the A. & N. C. Railroad can be pretty closely arrived at.

HOUSE BEGINS NIGHT SESSIONS.

Small Attendance Both Houses and No Matters of Importance.

Special to Journal.

RALEIGH, February 6.—Sickness among the members, and general bad weather prevailing caused small attendance in both Houses.

Bills and business of the session were unimportant.

The bill reducing fees of county officers was referred.

The Trust bill was discussed in committee and comes up for action, Wednesday.

The House begins holding night sessions.

The Treaty Ratified.

Special to Journal.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The Treaty of Peace was ratified in the Senate today.

McEnery, Democrat, of Louisiana, McLaurin, Democrat, of South Carolina and Jones, Silverite, of Nevada, changed their votes, favoring the ratification of the treaty.

There were three votes more than necessary to carry the treaty.

To Crush Aguinaldo.

New York, February 5.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says: Instructions will be sent to Major-General Otis tomorrow to follow up his victory over the Filipinos and crush the power of Aguinaldo in the Philippines.

This was the decision reached at a cabinet meeting held in the White House tonight attended by the President, Secretary Hay, Secretary Alger, Attorney-General Griggs and Adjutant-General Corbin. It was further decided, now that Aguinaldo has thrown down the gauntlet, that Hullo shall be taken and the islands of the archipelago occupied as rapidly as possible and to the extent that General Otis' forces will permit.

It was pointed out that Aguinaldo and his followers have put themselves within that provision of the President's proclamation declaring it to be the purpose of the government of the United States to hold to strict accountability those responsible for the disturbance of the peace and order of the islands or who fail to recognize the supremacy of the United States.

Wheeler Ready For Manila.

New York, February 5.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says: News of the attack on Manila has again aroused the military ardor of Maj.-Gen. Joseph Wheeler. He said tonight: "What is chiefly needed in dealing with the Filipinos is policy and diplomacy. I found not the slightest difficulty in getting along with the Cubans after I got to know them. When they came to me I received them politely and took pains to examine anything to them which they did not seem to understand. By doing this I found it easy to convince them over to our side."

"In the event you are sent to the Philippines, General, in what capacity will you go?"

"I do not even know that I will be sent there. I am ready to go tomorrow. It is the height of my ambition to serve in the army where my services may be needed."

It is said among the friends of General Wheeler that it was upon intimation from high authority that he might be required in the army in the spring that he refused either to resign his commission in the army or his seat in the House of Representatives.
