TWO DAYS WORK.

Judges Norwood and Brown Furnish The Excitement.

Dispensaries Wanted. Foolish Debatings. Bills Harried Through. Sherrill for State Librarian. Abolishing Criminal Courts. Building Well Heated.

JOURNAL HERALD.
RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 14.

It was a moment of solemnity when Representatives Craig, Allen and Foushee entered the Senate Chamber yesterday, bearing a message from the House for the impeachment of Judge W. L. Norwood. As they came forward the Senators arose and Lieut. Gov. Reynolds said, "All persons are commanded to keep silent, under pain of imprisonment, while the House of Representatives presents articles of impeachment, against Judge W. L. Norwood for high crimes and misdemeanors."

Representative Locke Craig spoke for the House Judiciary Committee in the matter and submitted in writing a notice that formal articles of impeachment would be presented by the House. On motion of Senator Osborne the Senate delayed discussion or action until today when it becomes a special order of business. There was a suggestion given out that something might yet be done to avoid the final humiliation of the Judge. This could only be however by some action of Norwood himself, and it seems too late for that now. It is only lately that Norwood has declared that he intended "to rest upon his rights." The debates on the impeachment have been enlivened by references to those "higher up" who are escaping and some speakers have not hesitated to call Russell by name. There is not much respect paid to "the co-ordinate branch of the government" these days in either House or Senate.

The resignation number two of Norwood is probably on the way. It is a question whether it would be accepted now. A report that Governor Russell had received a telegram from Norwood to that effect is in circulation.

The Dispensary bill for Smithfield has become a law. Petitions have been presented for a Dispensary at Charlotte, Statesville, Waxhan, Union county, Durham and other places. Each application brings on a fight that takes much time and talk to settle, and large delegations from the places interested.

The heating of the Capital is a vast improvement over old times when comfort depended entirely on big grate fires instead of the steam heat. This steam heat comes in pipes from the opposite side of the street from the Supreme Court building, so that there is no heating apparatus in the Capital building itself, except the pipes and steam radiators. Some legislators want more comforts and bills have been introduced to provide a better system of ventilation and for elevators. It is probable that the law makers will climb yet awhile.

The general insurance bill has been made a special order for today. It will come up in the form presented by the committee.

The committee on Public Printing made its report. Hoy explained the bill saying the price of composition had been reduced by it from 35 to 30 cents per 1,000 ems. He said the contract made in 1893 was the best ever made to that time and that the bill would effect a saving of $5,000 a year as compared with the contract of 1893. The bill gives power to give the public printing to the person selected by the Democratic caucus. The laws are to be all printed in 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature. The Commissioner of Labor and Printing is to pass upon all work. He said the cost of the public printing during the last 4 years of Democratic rule was $97,000, and during the 4 years of fusion regime was $68,000. On motion the bills were ordered printed and made the special order for Wednesday.

The Stevens anti-trust bill came up on third reading as a special order. Winston offered an amendment providing that the bill shall not apply to any charitable or educational institution or corporation holding trust certificates or evidence of indebtedness. He spoke in support of it saying that Wake Forest College holds $50,000 of Standard Oil stock. Gilliam asked if the penalty for violation of the law was made a felony. Stevens said he thought it was.

Gattis offered an amendment to section 9, so as to obviate any change of the rules of evidence. Lowery offered an amendment designed to prevent trustees from entering this State and pulling prices down so as to cripple State concerns.

Boushall offered an amendment that nothing shall effect the investments of charitable or educational institutions. Boushall said that if $5,000,000 were offered to Wake Forest tomorrow by the Standard Oil Company he would favor its acceptance. Hanson said excepting churches and colleges would build up regard for trusts. Thompson of Onslow took ground against Boushall's amendment, saying the churches and colleges ought to be above even the appearance of evil. Robinson offered an amendment to make the term "Thompson said he would like to force the colleges to sell what stock they now have. Boushall accepted the word "present," and his amendment was accepted by Stevens. Gattis' amendment was lost. Lowery's amendment was lost.

In spite of the snow and cold the House held a session last night. The storm had passed over and paths had been cleared for the pedestrians.

A large number of bills had passed a first reading and rested on the Speaker's desk for further consideration. The House attacked the calendar and had disposed of many bills when it ran afoul of one requiring those practicing medicine to take a three years course at some reputable medical college and then be examined before the State Board. This was called by one speaker as forming a trust in favor of physicians already "in." Speaker Cannon took the floor and spoke strongly in favor of the bill. A dozen other speakers followed, some for and some against. The more the matter was discussed, the more the opposition grew until the "previous question" was called.

The result was the passing of the bill by a vote of 40 to 28 and the bill was ordered enrolled and ratified.

One of the funny things that occurred was the move of the opposition to hoodoo the bill by offering an amendment as follows: that all physicians now practicing in North Carolina be compelled to take a three years course and stand examination before the State Board. This was a hit at the doctors who have no regular diploma, several of whom are members in the Legislature. The amendment was promptly voted down but it actually got 20 votes in its favor.

The separate car bill was reported from the committee yesterday and will take its turn on the calendar unless plashed through under suspension of the rules. It is not likely to be much debated as so much talk has been done before the committee and no better plan seems to be forthcoming.

RALEIGH, N. C., February 15.

The session of yesterday was the introduction in the House a resolution by White of Davis county, a Republican, declaring that it is a matter of public notoriety that Judge George H. Brown, Jr., was publicly drunk, and that he was in that condition at the reception given by the Capital Club January 15, and raising a committee to investigate and report whether Judge Brown was publicly drunk and has given just ground for impeachment. Julian at once moved to lay the bill to the table, and Leatherwood seconded the motion. But Allen, of Wayne, asked its reference to the judiciary committee, saying he knew Judge Brown would desire that course to be taken. Notice was given that the judiciary committee would hear the matter in the afternoon and White was asked to be present with his evidence.

When the committee met it was found that the evidence was of a decidedly hearsay character. The fact is that there has been a lot of exceedingly "good" people hanging around this Legislature, who are anxious to reform the morals of all mankind by law. Hence the great desire for the dispensary bills and like legislation. Two meetings were held by the committee, one in the afternoon and one at night. White finally withdrew his charges and the matter has dropped. It seems that Davis of Haywood made the statement that started White. He is "sorry he spoke" and has nothing more to say.

White proposes to formally retract his charges and apologize to the House. There was a long string of testifiers who denied the story of Judge Brown being in any such condition as was charged. However, the Capital Club "receipt" of the 16th afforded an opportunity if there was a desire to drink, and no doubt about that. So far as Judge Brown is concerned, nobody knew anything except what he heard some one else say. It has been an unfortunate episode.

It was expected that eleven o'clock yesterday in the Senate would be an exciting hour. But nothing happened. The House had sent word that it was desired that the Senate postpone the hearing on the impeachment of Judge Norwood. The effort is made to avoid the overthrow of Norwood by impeachment by his resignation which is supposed to be on the way. It is difficult for those who formerly felt sorry for Norwood, to help feeling that he is humbugging the entire Legislature and State. It is astonishing with what facility these serious matters degenerate into a farce.

A number of bills are still going in. The limit set for their introduction was set for the 15th but the resolution did not pass the House. A bill was introduced by Travis to authorize and regulate the action to test the possession or control of the State Prison. This bill was placed upon immediately passing, and passed third reading, as did another new bill introduced by Senator Travis, which provides that the State Treasurer shall pay the per diem and mileage of the newly appointed directors of the State Prison. By Rountree to amend the pilotage laws, and by Winston to provide injunctive relief against foreign corporations.

This provides that in all actions now pending or which may hereafter be brought in the courts of this State, in which a foreign corporation is party the courts shall have the same power orders and injunctions and to grant injunctive relief against such foreign corporations as said court have power and jurisdiction to issue restraining orders and injunctions to grant injunctive relief against corporations created by the laws of this State.

As a special order the House took up the Senate bill to give the Democrats charge of the three hospitals for the insane, at Morganton, Raleigh and Goldsboro, placing them in charge of a board of 9 directors for each, to be nominated by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. The bill provides that a wall shall be built so as to entirely separate the criminal insane ward or hospital from the penitentiary. The bill passed its second and third readings without debate.

Resolution to pay the new Democratic directors of the penitentiary per diem and mileage came up and passed. By leave, Allen of Wayne, introduced a bill to provide the election of a Commissioner of Agriculture by the people and to reorganize the department of agriculture and immigration, and Ranson a bill to allow the people of Mecklenburg county to vote on the issue of $100,000 of bonds for the macadamizing of roads.

A bill to incorporate the Oliver Roney Free Library of Raleigh. R. H. Battle, Bishop Chesire, Gustave Rosenthal and other trustees, was taken up and explained by Patterson of Caldwell, who said the building was to be a memorial to the late Mrs. R. B. Roney, and would be a free circulating library, opened to white people. The bill passed.

The insurance bill, made the special order yesterday, was not printed, and so was made special order for Thursday at noon, by which time it will be printed.

A bill passed the House to prescribe a short form for agricultural liens and chattel mortgages, and to fix the fee at 10 cents for the clerk and 20 cents for the register of deeds. It applies to Granville, Vance, Nash, Edgecombe, Greene, Duplin, Wayne, Lenoir, Cumberland, Buncombe, Person, McDowell, Martin, Rutherford, Onslow, Pender, Wilson, Robeson, Halifax, Bladen, Brunswick, Craven, New Hanover, Gaston, Cherokee, Richmond, Gates, Lincoln, Catawba, Jones, Beaufort, I. it, Northampton, Alamance, Caswell, Cleveland, Carteret, Alleghany, Rockingham, Warren, Sampson, Watauga, Ashe, Chowan, Burke, Polk and Moore. The bill goes into effect January 1, 1901. The county commissioners are required to furnish the form book used by the register.

The House caucus last night put up M. O. Sherrill of Catawba county for State Librarian. He is an old veteran and lost a leg in the war.

The caucus also again discussed the Criminal court districts, but arrived at no conclusion in regard to whether any districts should be abolished.
