Imagination

Plays the leading part when it comes to buying clothes of a tailor. You imagine they are better because you are paying more.

Now, we make to order, and we make to fit; and if you buy here, we make you judge and jury, besides if the clothes wear, if they do not give satisfaction in every way, we give your money back. The most important point in a sale of clothes after the quality of the cloth is considered is the care and skill displayed in making it. On that point alone is based the charges of the highest-price tailors.

In our stock you will find skill, care and taste displayed to an extent far beyond the previous standards. By pricing it at the proper profit we have our prices right.

Corporation Commission and Commercial Fertilizer Bill.

St. John's Day Observance. Duke and Trinity College. Bar Association Meeting. Penitentiary Debt Payment Begins.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 13.—The Corporation Commission made an order recently that the minimum carload of commercial fertilizers should be 10 instead of 15 tons.

The next step taken was the securing by the Seaboard Air Line of a restraining order from Judge Simonson to prevent the order from being enforced.

The petition for such restraining order was made by Mrs. Virginia B. Matthews, of New York, holder of a quarter of a million of stock in the Carolina Central Division of the Seaboard Air Line.

Now the wholesale merchants of Wilmington take a hand in the matter, in a communication to the Corporation Commission, in which they resent what they term the interference of the Federal Court. They attack the Seaboard Road in plain language and bring up the matter of the domestication of "foreign" corporations.

June 24, St. John's Day, Gen. William R. Cox and Rev. J. D. Huffbar, of Henderson, will deliver addresses at the Masonic Orphanage at Henderson. The Grand Lodge of Masons will be present.

Washington Duke, the senior of the noted Durham tobacco firm, has given Trinity College there nearly half a million dollars, but it is said this gift is small compared to one he will ultimately make that well known Methodist institution. His son Ben has given $50,000 and intends to give an equal amount each year he lives.

Not a few of the Democratic newspapers are notifying the party that while some of the leaders of the Republicans will vote for the constitutional amendment limiting the negro franchise, yet it need not be believed that the lesser white Republicans will do so in any great numbers.

The State chartered the Mount Airy and Eastern Railway, five miles in length, from that town to the Virginia line. The owners are business men of Mount Airy and Welch, Va.

The following program of the first annual meeting of the reorganized North Carolina Bar Association at the Atlantic Hotel, at Morehead City, July 5th to 7th was arranged here: July 5th, address of the president of the association, F. D. Walker, appointment of committees; introduction of resolutions; amendment to by-laws.

July 6, reports of the secretary and treasurer and standing committees; address of R. T. Bennett, miscellaneous business; address: "Shall a Law Journal be Established in North Carolina?" by O. W. Tillett; discussion of this matter; address: "Formation of Local Bar Associations," by O. H. Gulon.

July 7th, address of H. G. Connor, including a resume of the Legislature of 1930; miscellaneous business; report of the committee to recommend officers; election of officers and members of the executive committee; banquet.

Today the payment of the penitentiary debt begins. The executive board says it is quite sure the debt will not be under $120,000 and has included all debts up to March 1st. The State Treasurer made inquiry of the Attorney General as to the date to which the law providing for debts retained, that law having been revised March 7th, while the act putting the penitentiary in Democratic hands was revised February 10th and the fiscal year ended December 31st, but as stated, the executive board has authorized debts to March 1st. There is another act which appropriates $30,000 this year and a like sum next year.

THE HOWES CREW.
Rescued by Schooner Star. Story of the Week.

Nonfolk, Va., June 12.—The schooner Jesse W. Starr, of Wading river, New Jersey, Captain Maxwell, is at Norfolk Harbor, and aboard her safe and well are the six men who composed the crew of the schooner George A. Howes, which, on Thursday last, June 8, at 6.30 o'clock in the evening, was captured off Barsgal.

The Starr arrived at Hampton Roads yesterday, and this afternoon Captain Maxwell came to Norfolk and told of the rescue of Captain Beveridge, of the Howes, and his men. The Starr sailed from the Jersey City flats at 11 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, June 8. As night fell, when off Barsgal, the sharp eyes of her captain sighted what seemed to him a barge. As he approached he saw with a glass a man aboard it, apparently signalling him. He made directly for the vessel and made the signal man out to be a sailor, who waved an oar from which flew a yellow oilskin coat. He launched a boat, in which his mate, E. S. Jones, and two sailors put off to the rescue of those aboard of what was by this time seen to be a capsize vessel.

Captain Beveridge and one of the shipwrecked men, who had been in the water for about an hour, were clinging to the keel of the upturned Howes, three were hanging to a rope which they had stretched from her stern post to her tigger, and the sixth man who bestraddled a floating hatchcover, had drifted a half mile away from the wreck. This was sinking, and about 15 feet of the keel was already under water. Help came too soon, for the cook of the Howes when rescued was insensible from exhaustion, and had to be hoisted over the rail of the Starr. All the others were worn out and fearful, as darkness was coming on, but none were so badly off as the poor cook.

The men lost everything save the clothes they stood in and some had no shoes. Captain Maxwell fitted them out as best he could. All live at Beaufort, N. C., and will proceed home by rail tomorrow. The Howes was light, bound from Patehogue, L. I., for Bogus Lake, N. C., when a squall struck her. She took in sail and weathered it. The second squall, which capsize her, came, Captain Beveridge said, without warning.

To cure piles, STRIKE AT THE ROOT—that's the way. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve STRIKES AT THE ROOT—it removes the cause, quickly and permanently. Don't squander time and money in a vain effort to remove the effects. F. S. Duffy & Co.
