THE RAIN FELL

And Helped Crop Conditions in this State.

Optimism on Copper Mining Property. Political Feeling Causes Incarceration. Greenville Building up. Postmaster Short. Society of Cincinnati.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 5.—The State has chartered the Scotland Cotton Mills, at Laurinburg, capital $100,000, stockholders, A. L. James, John F. McFair and 50 others. The optimism on the copper mining property on the Raleigh and Cape Fear Railway, near here, have been taken up. The buyers are Raleigh men, and they will make a thorough test of the ore. The commissioner of insurance says in regard to the incendiary fire at Wilson, which are now being investigated, that they originated in the political feeling which followed the last election. The work of preparing the site for the encampment of the Second and Third Regiments of the State Guard, at Morehead City, has begun.

The Attorney General has given R. S. McCall leave to bring suits against each of the solicitors of the Western Criminal Circuit Court, in the various counties composing it, to oust them and take charge of the offices himself. Not long ago Greenville suffered a loss of more than $100,000 by fire. District Attorney Bernard says that work is now in progress at 17 brick stores to replace those burned. State Treasurer Worth says he has acted on the opinion of Attorney General Walter. In the E. C. Reddingfield case and has paid the latter's salary to date. United States District Attorney Bernard says that ex-Postmaster R. A. Gagnor, of Bebel, Pitt county, was $600 short. The Society of the Cincinnati has re-elected all its officers. Wilson G. Lamb is president. It elected as new members Julian S. Carr, Ralph G. Middleton, of Baltimore; Congressman Polk, of Pennsylvania; and Phillip Brest, of South Carolina. Colonel Arnsfield, of the First, and Rodman, of the Second Regiments, are here in conference with Adjutant General Hoyster. Colonel Arnsfield says his regiment will not make a practice march this year. It appears that while it is rapidly reorganizing its complete equipment cannot be procured in time. A glorious rain has fallen and the farmers appreciated every drop of it. The wind was from the northeast and this led to the hope that the rain was general. The government crop bulletin, indicated that the drought was becoming general throughout the State. Light scattered showers occurred on three days, which were poorly distributed and entirely insufficient for the requirements of crops, though in several counties larger amounts fell (Marion, 2.89; Wilmington, 1.94) and crops there continue to do well. The drought is most severe in Mecklenburg and adjoining counties, and thence northeastward to Gates county, covering the central-west portion of the State. The temperature was below the normal, which did not last long enough to be injurious. The amount of sunshine was abundant. In general crops have been well taken care of, and except where the drought is most severe are still in good condition. In many counties good rains occurred and crops continue to do well, especially in the southeast and in mountainous districts. Corn is suffering most for lack of moisture. The crop is coming into silk and tassel generally, and laying by is nearly finished. Army worms are doing much damage to corn in many counties, chiefly Bladen, Johnson, Wake and Cumberland. Cotton continues to do well, holds a good color, and appears not yet to have been injured by drought. Some blooms were reported on early plants in the following counties: Anson, Franklin, Johnston, Jones and Graves. Tobacco continues to be promising in the east, but is not as good elsewhere. Popping is under way, and a few early cuttings have been made in Lenoir, Bladen and Duplin counties. In some counties it is growing too tall and narrow. Harvest is over, threshing is under way with excellent yields but grains of fairly good quality. Spring oats are ripening very low and are poor. Rice is doing very well, with good stand, and a large yield is expected. Vegetables, peanuts, potatoes and melons need rain very much. Meadows are being mowed with apparently excellent results. Fruits, even wild blackberries, are very poor, only grapes are promising. The critical period of the crop season is now at hand.

Thomas Rhodes, Centerfield, G., writes "I suffered from piles seven or eight years. No remedy gave me relief until DeWitt's Witch Hazel Ointment, less than a box of which permanently cured me." Southern Medical, perfectly guaranteed. Beware of counterfeits. F. S. Duffy.

A few days ago a prominent lady remarked that drinking glass of Coca Cola at Lewis' Soda Fountain. "That is the best glass of Coca Cola I ever drank for my life."

LIVELY DOVER.

Some more new buildings started up last week. Our town is widening out and continually adding some improvements, we only need a few more factories and it seems to us we have the best location for a furniture factory in Eastern Carolina. Am satisfied we will have one or two tobacco houses by next season. There is some talk of a large school starting in the near future conducted by a graduate of the University of this State. Our people generally are all working together for the upbuilding of their town, both spiritually and otherwise. Though we have a few grumblers who are continually growling, we suppose all towns are well supplied with such beings. We boast of the liveliest town, Kinston excepted, and the best town morally, Kinston not excepted here, in eastern Carolina, we have church services twice nearly every Sunday, and population considered the best Sunday School in the country. We invite all good people who are seeking a healthy or business location to visit us, our latch string hangs on the outside. Mr. Phil Thomas of New Bern, is visiting relatives in our town. Mrs. G. V. Richardson and Miss Mittle West went to Kinston Tuesday to have some dental work done. Rev. Carraway of Beaufort, filled Bro. DuRant's pulpit here Sunday morning and at night. He preached two very good sermons. Mr. Ed. Avery of Core was in town this morning. One of Trenton's prettiest girls passed through on the mail train this a.m. We know that Jake would liked to have been around. The people here were glad to see a nice rain yesterday which made the weather more pleasant and was very beneficial to the crops which were suffering for want of a good rain. G. V. R.

THE KISSING BUG. Melanolestes Picipes. We fed on ants and bumblebees. Bat on a day he tired of them. "A change, a change!" he said. He circled wildly through the air. He spotted a maiden passing fair. A clear-eyed girl with golden hair. And, O, her mouth was red. Melanolestes stayed his flight, Eying the mouth with keen delight. Then down he swooped and took a bite. His little, ugly mug transformed. "Away," he cried, "with bees!" Red lips for me, such lips as those! I'd be no longer Picipes. I'll be the kissing bug. Forevermore that name he'll keep. O'er covarets he'll softly creep. He'll bite the mouths of maids asleep. In Bala, Troy, Oshkosh.
