Excursion From Spring Garden to Riverdale.

Belleisle, July 7.

On the 6th inst at 7:30 a m a part of Beech Grove and Spring Garden schools had assembled at Spring Garden landing and were soon wending down the Neuse on the "Vanceboro." At Street's ferry we were joined by fifty more of our comrades and friends, and at Hog Island a few more joined us. Steaming on we arrived at New Bern where we stopped for other friends. A dozen or more joined us at the latter place, and after taking on ice and water we moved down into the refreshing breeze that swept so pleasantly from the south west.

Our destination at first was the mouth of Secaucum creek, but having lost some time at New Bern and the weather looking quite equally it was not considered safe to go so far down, and after a consultation with our general captain, Parsons, as to time, weather, etc., we decided to stop at Riverdale, which point we reached about 12:30. We were soon disembarked and with baskets, boxes and buckets we moved out to a nice shade near by and spread a bountiful dinner for one hundred and forty hungry men, women and children.

The weather was threatening but rain did not come till we had ample time to eat, gather up the fragments and some strolling on the beach return to the boat. Just before 3 p m, we loosed our mooring from Riverdale wharf and started on the return trip. We had rain most of the way up to New Bern, but it was not severe and we suffered no serious inconvenience. Some of us really enjoyed it, because we were sure it was needed at home, and this made us enjoy it more.

Touching at the several places for our friends to get off, we were soon thinned down to the little band that started from Spring Garden and at sunset we were all ashore and wending our way homeward, generally feeling happier wiser and better for the trip. It was a day of needed rest for the weary farmer and his wife and a day of refreshing merriment for the children and young people.

Especially did the smaller children, and some not so small enjoy the wading in shallow water at Riverdale. One noticeable feature of our excursion was the extremes of age. We had a number of babies and enjoyed their innocent presence, we also had the presence and counsel of some who had passed their "three score years and ten," or soon will pass it.

Perhaps we will not all gather again on the banks of the romantic Neuse for an excursion but we will remember this as one of the most pleasant our Sunday Schools have taken. It was not only a Sunday School excursion but also a bridal tour for Spring Garden neighbors who were married on the evening of the 6th and joined us on the 6th.

This newly married couple, seemed so loving that other couples who were aboard may have been induced to undertake to follow their example some time in the future.

Colored Committee For Colored Schools. To the White People:

ED. JOURNAL—Allow me a little of your valuable space to speak to the white people of Craven county.

Tomorrow the board of school directors will appoint three persons in each township in Craven county known and styled as school trustees for that township.

The law makes it the duty of these trustees to appoint a school committee of three persons for each race for that school district.

The recent Legislature of North Carolina favored each race having its own school committee. The white people of Pamlico and Jones counties for years have been giving their colored people a representative, racial school committee.

Since there can be no better hearted white people living anywhere than those residing in the grand, old historical county of Craven, I feel that I can safely ask them to give the colored race in each school district, a school committee of its own race.

I have information that the race want this, and have agreed on the three men to be appointed throughout the county.

The only reason I know of why the Legislature did not use the word "ahall" it was suggested that it might be in some district hard to find colored men who could read fluently and write legibly.

In that case white men were to be appointed to the colored school for that district, but could not act for both races. Thus you see clearly that the Legislature and law intend that colored school committees be appointed wherever suitable persons could be had within the race.

It gives the following percentages of acreage and condition, as compared with last year: Cotton, 83 per cent acreage, 93 per cent condition; corn, 104 acreage, 95 condition; tobacco, 105 acreage, 91 condition. Arrangements are made to form a company to develop and operate the water power and minerals on the J. M. Keck property, near Lockville. The company is now formed and is named the Cape Fear Power Company. Its capital is $475,000. It will develop the power at Lockville, Buckhorn and Battle Falls for electrical operation of industrial plants. Richmond and Durham capitalists are the owners. W. M. Morgan, of Durham, is president; J. S. Carr, vice president; R. P. Gray, of Greensboro, secretary and treasurer. The company owns 3,000 acres of land. It will own and operate cotton and other mills. It has contracted to furnish power to the Sanford cotton mill.

The executive board of the penitentiary decided to issue warrants on the state treasury to pay all the employees at the eight farms their back salaries, from October 1, 1898, to January 1, 1899, and from March 7th of this year to July 1st. It will require some $22,000 to do this. They drew warrants for $11,000 of the amount. The executive board and Superintendent Day have gone to the Caledonia farm, near Weldon, this being one of the two leased farms which will be purchased before this year ends.

Wilson has been very much exercised over the arrest of Messrs. Brooks and Cooper, furniture dealers on the charge of incendiarism. These young men came to Wilson highly recommended and from Plymouth, where they had been in business during the past several years.

Insurance Commissioner Young went to Wilson to investigate the cause of the fire and be deemed the evidence sufficient to have both parties arrested.

The case was brought before Magistrate Lancaster. Many prominent citizens who were in the building during and immediately after the fire, were examined. After a thorough examination Mr. Lancaster ordered their release.

The State charter the Belle Hanscom Mining Company, of Hendersonville, capital $200,000, H. J. Pullen, D. D. Battle and W. F. Wright being the principal stockholders. The Asheville Land Company is also granted a charter. Its capital is $10,000 and W. T. Weaver, J. L. Wagner and others are stockholders.

Robert C. Strong, as attorney of the Southern Bell Telephone Company has filed notice of appeal with the corporation commission from its order fixing the rates of rental of telephones.

Mr. George T. Winston replies to the official notice of his election to the presidency of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, accepting and pledging his best efforts to advance all its interests.

The Atlantic Coast Line railroad has brought to the Ashley silk spinning mill a large and beautiful Corliss engine, to be put in place immediately, and this will be followed by other machinery to keep pace with the rapidly approaching completion of the building, which is now up in its third story, and will be an imposing structure. Not far off a great force of workmen are busy on the Tolar, Holt and Hart cotton factory, which will have 25,000 square feet on each floor, and comprise a commanding position overlooking the beautiful old town.
