RALEIGH.

Interest In The Affairs Of Camp Ship At Morehead.

Election Returns Copies. The Proposals For State Bonds At Work On The Roads. The State Farms Look Well.

RALEIGH, July 20.—Adjutant General Boyter was here on his way to Camp William E. Ship to see the Second Regiment under canvas. He said that in the fall he would complete the Third Regiment by adding four companies. It now numbers only eight. When asked if the trouble in regard to the Asheville companies was adjusted, he replied that he thought it would adjust itself.

The following commissions were issued to officers of the Third Regiment which goes into camp near Morehead City next Saturday afternoon: B. C. Woodall, of Durham, adjutant Third Battalion; Thos. H. Cradock, of Kittrell, commissary; F. P. Wiggins, first lieutenant; and E. C. Price, second lieutenant, Company H, Warrenton.

The quartermaster general has completed the equipment of the Third Regiment. Col. Loge Harris has gone to Camp Ship.

The Secretary of State is having prepared, at the instance of Congressman W. T. Crawford certified copies of the election returns for each precinct in the ninth district at all the elections from 1892 to 1898, both inclusive.

The Neuse River Manufacturing Company was chartered today, capital $100,000. This is the company which will build and operate a 10,000 cotton mill at the Falls of the Neuse, near Wake Forest College. The stockholders are R. H. Battle, J. G. Brown, C. G. Latta, J. S. Chamberlain, W. W. Vass, E. H. Lee, J. A. Jones, and V. B. Moore.

State Treasurer Worth has issued his proposals for bids for the $60,000 of bonds with which to pay for the Caledonia farm. The bonds run ten years, and are a 4 per cent, bearing interest from July 1, 1899. Bids will be opened August 15th. Bids under 104 will not be considered, and the right to reject any or all bids is reserved.

The people here, who recently voted so unanimously for the issue of street improvement bonds, which brought 106, congratulate enterprising Greensboro on yesterday's handsome majority for bonds.

The most earnest efforts will be made by President Richard H. Battle, Secretary Joseph E. Pogue and other officers of the State Fair, to get rate of one cent a mile. This is the proper rate. To give it means money for the railroads, as well as the fair.

As a result of the five days' work of the Superior court here last week, 27 persons were sent to the public roads, bringing the road gang up to 100. The force is now at work on the road in what is known as "Rhamkette" (a corruption of Ramegate) southwest of Raleigh. Along this high plateau run the "King's highway" between Salisbury and Wilmington, and there it was that Cornwallis made all his camp-followers stop on his retreat from Guilford Court House.

Secretary Brown, of the corporation commission, says that though he is going ahead with the work of preparing the returns of assessment of the property of railroads and transportation companies, he cannot certify these to the Auditor and Treasurer, as the order of Judge Simonkin forbids it.

Mention was made of the fact that the knitting mills now here are to be enlarged. It is said today that Julian S. Carr will move his knitting mills from Durham to Raleigh.

J. R. Tillery, chief supervisor of the penitentiary farms was here and when asked some questions regarding the farms, said: "The cotton on the Roanoke farm is remarkably fine and early; full of blooms and heavily fruited. It was blooming as early as June 26th. I never saw so many blooms this early. We look for 8,000 bales. Peanuts are fine. If the price remains at the present figure, $1 a bushel, we will, with the expected crop of 20,000 bushels come out ahead this year. The corn crop is fairly good, say an average one; our worms having damaged it. A 10,000 barrel crop is expected. The rice crop is good. The Caledonia farm, which the State will buy next year, is of 7,500 acres. It was first leased some years ago. I am sure that the improvements the State has put on it, levees, canals, ditches, building, etc., could not be duplicated for $150,000. There are nine miles of levee, much of it 15 feet high and some, where ravines are crossed, 120 feet wide at the base. There has been only one break in this immense levee, that having occurred two years ago. These farms are now healthy. Driven wells have wrought the change. There are 450 convicts on the Caledonia farm and only four are in the hospital. The State will not buy the Anson farm."

ALGER GOES OUT.

Tenders His Resignation In Person To The President Who Refused To Indorse The War Department At Alger's Request.

NEW YORK, July 19.—Algerism is at least at an end. Official ostracism, aided by the sage advice of Vice-President Hobart, has finally brought about the result so urgently demanded by the country—the resignation of Russell A. Alger as Secretary of War. The resignation was not voluntary. Had it not been tendered, it certainly would have been requested.

The climax in the career of General Alger as head of the War Department occurred at the White House shortly after noon today, when the President declined to longer carry the heavy load which the Secretary had become. The Secretary suggested a means by which he could be induced to remain in the Cabinet. This suggestion was nothing more nor less than that the President should publicly announce his satisfaction with General Alger's conduct of the War Department.

Thereupon General Alger informed the President that his resignation was at his disposal and produced a formal letter of resignation, which he had prepared in anticipation of the President's declination to comply with his wishes, such resignation to take effect at the pleasure of the President.

The formal exchange of letters which will terminate Secretary Alger's connection with the War Department will be concluded with the President's acceptance of the Secretary's resignation. These letters, like those which passed between the President and former Secretary of State Sherman, will be friendly in tone and will give no indication of General Alger's reason for resigning and the President's reason for accepting the resignation.

To his personal friends the Secretary expressed bitter regret at the treatment he has received. There is no question that he is glad that he has tendered his resignation and that he can now retire to private life to obtain the rest he so greatly needs.

A Cotton Trust.
FALL RIVER, MASS., July 19.—For some weeks a quiet investigation has been going on as to values of New England mills making coarse grades. If the mills of Fall River combine under one head or are bought out by a single organization, this, it is expected, will be the nucleus of a gigantic combination of cotton mills interests all over the country, involving the expenditure of more than $300,000,000. A combination would stop the present competition between Southern and New England mills.

It is expected that when the men who are now at work on the project get at the bottom of the details as to the debt and the earnings per spindle there will be a distinct offer made for each concern in the city except the fine goods and yarn mills.

A mill treasurer who has just returned from New York says that the Standard Oil Company, under its charter, could acquire the cotton mills of the country, and that it was the interest which the Standard Oil men and some New York bankers had shown in the project, that had caused the investigation which has proceeded so far.

It is estimated that for $225,000,000 the cotton mills combine can take in all the mills of the country. There is one somewhat formidable obstacle in the scheme on foot. Mr. C. D. Borden, of New York, a great producer and distributor of cotton goods, is said to be antagonistic to the scheme and his objections may go a great way toward keeping it back.

Big Gun For Manila.
SAVANNAH, Ga., July 19.—A fourteen ton breech-loading rifle was brought up to the city last night from Port Pulaski, where it had been mounted during the Spanish war. It was loaded on a flat car and shipped to San Francisco, whence it will be forwarded to Manila.

It is understood the rifle will be employed in the defenses of the Philippine capital.
