THE WHOLE EARTH

Cond-mas France For the Sentence of Captain Dreyfus.

Opinions of Length of Sentence. How the Prisoner and His Wife Received Verdict Against The Paris Exposition. Germany Has Proofs.

LONDON, September 10.—Dispatches received here state that with the exception of the Jesuit organs in Rome and the anti-Semitic papers, the press of the whole world is ringing with execration against the Dreyfus verdict. Papers of all nationalities fall in with the idea of boycotting the exhibition.

The verdict of the court-martial has caused indignation everywhere in England. The excitement in the Jewish quarters of London was great. Special prayers were offered throughout Saturday in the synagogues in behalf of Dreyfus and as soon as the verdict was known persons were seen at every street corner in that section, expressing execration and many sobbing bitterly.

In almost all of London's places of public worship today pulpit references were made to the verdict. Canon Scott-Holland, at St. Paul's Cathedral, said:

"A nation is on its trial. France stands at the judgment bar. All civilization is waiting to know whether tomorrow's news may add anything to qualify the asked cruelty of the telegram, anything to relieve the staggered conscience."

Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, the well known Wesleyan divine, preaching at St. James' Hall, said:

"Five unhappy judges have already taken their places, in the judgment of the human race, besides Judas Pilate, Judge Jeffries and other creatures. They have sentenced their victim to a decade of imprisonment, but they have decreed themselves forever to the scorn, derision and execration of the human race. Unless France shakes off this infamy she will be left without an ally or a friend. The Daily Mail says: 'Rennes is France's moral Sedan.'"

The Daily News remarks: "It is no longer Dreyfus, but France herself that is on trial."

The Daily Telegraph says: "There seems nothing left for France but a revolution and a war that will reduce here to the level of Spain."

The Times says: "We do not hesitate to pronounce it the greatest and most appalling prostitution of justice the world has witnessed in modern times."

Berlin, Sept. 10.—The Dreyfus verdict causes a feeling almost of stupefaction in Berlin.

It is agreed here that the second verdict is a grave political blunder, a violation of the laws of civilization and act of moral cowardice which the world will find it difficult to pardon.

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, Sept. 10.—The following semi-official statement has been issued:

"A movement is on foot against sending exhibits to the Paris Exposition in 1900. Many intending exhibitors have withdrawn their notices of participation on the ground that the present state of things in France renders it unsafe to send exhibits."

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—An informal meeting of prominent merchants was held yesterday shortly after the Dreyfus decision became known. It was unanimously agreed that not one of them would attend the Paris Exposition nor make an exhibit. It was also decided that they would use their influence to deter others from attending or making exhibits.

RENNES, FRANCE, September 10.—In a conversation today with Major Garnier, the Government's commissary at the court-martial, he said that Dreyfus' appeal would be sent to Paris without delay to be dealt with and that the results of the deliberations would probably be made known within a fortnight. An officer in a high position, who has been well and publicly known throughout the trial said:

"I do not think Dreyfus will undergo a second degradation, although strictly speaking he can be made to suffer. This punishment in connection with the enforcement of his sentence. For the sake of humanity, however, he will probably be exempted from this dreadful ordeal."

Mathieu Dreyfus said:

"The Captain bears up admirably. He is wonderfully self-possessed. The first thing he said on hearing his fate was 'Take care of my wife.'"

"Mme. Dreyfus is well and is as brave and courageous as ever. The struggle will go on."

Rennes today has been perfectly calm. There has not been a sign of demonstration, nor a cry for or against Dreyfus heard anywhere.

The troops and gendarmes who yesterday gave the centre of Rennes the appearance of a military camp have vanished. There are hardly any guard-armies in sight except near the Dreyfus residence, where a few are posted.

One strange fact is the extraordinary difference of opinion respecting the effect of the judgment—whether Dreyfus can be degraded again, and whether the five years solitary confinement he has undergone will be regarded as equivalent to the 10 years' detention to which he is now sentenced. This question is aside from the general impression that he will be pardoned in a few days by President Loubet, who can find ground to exercise clemency.

M. Demange thinks the five years will count for nothing, and that Dreyfus, according to law, will have to suffer 10 years' detention. Many others, including several lawyers, hold a contrary opinion and declare that Dreyfus will be released in October.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Details are sent by Matin's correspondent at Rennes regarding the manner in which Dreyfus and his devoted wife received the news of the sentence.

Mme. Dreyfus' brother, M. Hadamard, brought the news to the villa Godard. After a fit of violent despair Mme. Dreyfus mastered her grief. She was able to receive a number of visits from friends, who called to assure her of their sympathy and unflinching confidence in the future.

Numbers of kindly telegrams arrived at the villa, nearly all expressing the hope that shortly the Captain's innocence will be vindicated.

M. Desmoulins, a well known engraver, told the Matin's correspondent he had just seen Mme. Dreyfus.

"I am filled with admiration for that noble woman," he said. "There she is already up and doing, ready for the greatest sacrifices to save the honor of her husband and children. I know nothing nobler than a woman, who thus boldly faces misfortune. She proclaims aloud the innocence of her husband, and declares that the injustice of men can neither subdue her faith nor lessen the love she bears her husband and children."

When Labori and Demange met after reading the sentence they embraced and the latter said: "Never mind this temporary check. We have truth, law and justice on our side. Such a cause cannot be immediately lost."

When Labori went to inform his client, he said:

"Well, my poor friend, we have been beaten."

"To this Dreyfus, overcome by his emotion, replied: 'We shall have our revenge. I am innocent. You know it. I will patiently await the hour of justice. Console my dear Lucia. Tell her I do not consider myself affected by the sentence and am ready for her and our children's sake to endure the worst tortures.'"

The Journal des Debats says: "Dreyfus will spend the unexpired term of his sentence at Corte, a fortress in North Corsica, on the site of a ruined town."

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A dispatch from Berlin says: "It is now permitted to be known that the War office holds documents conclusively proving that Esterhazy and Henry betrayed their trusts, and only the permission of Emperor William is awaited for the publication of documents showing the sentence of Dreyfus to be a brutal act of injustice."

There's always hope while there's One Minute Cough Cure. An attack of pneumonia left my lungs in bad shape and I was near the first stages of consumption. One minute Cough Cure completely cured me," writes Helen McHenry, Bismark, N. D. Gives instant relief. F. S. Duffy.

RALEIGH.

Need of Room For Insane. Wholesale Conspiracy. What Harris Says. Bishop Charles Dead.

RALEIGH, Sept. 11.—When asked whether the Democrats on the penitentiary board would resign, Senator Travis said he did not know, but supposed that matter would be considered on the 18th. He added that he had no doubt the Legislature, when it meets next June will settle completely the penitentiary question. A bill could have been drawn this year, which in very few words would have given the Democrats the desired control and not have given the Union Supreme Court a whack.

The State board of public charities is called to meet at the Western Hospital for the Insane at Morganton, September 19. The meeting is at the special request of Dr. Murphy, the hospital superintendent, who wishes to show the urgent demands of that hospital for more room for the insane. He tells the board that while there is great sympathy for convicts who have been cruelly treated, yet that the sufferings of convicts do not seem to compare with those of insane persons, who are now in jails in western North Carolina because there is no room in the hospital for them.

Last month, it will be remembered, six convicts, four of them Federal prisoners, escaped from the penitentiary here at 7 o'clock one morning—the boldest escape ever made in the State. It is now learned that 21 convicts, nearly all Federal prisoners, were in the plot to
