His Snap Shot of a Drink That Killed

Two Men.
"The most remarkable snap shot pic ture in the world is ewned by a friend of mine in a town in Georgia," said an enthusiastic amateur photographer. "Its story is extremely curious. It seems that he went one day to a blacksmith shop to get a shot at the men at the forge. The smith was engaged on a difficult piece of ironwork and had two helpers. Just behind them on a shelf was a pint flask full of yellowish white liquor, evidently the corn whis-ky for which the native Georgian has "As my friend was preparing to take his picture one of the helpers caught sight of the bottle and communicated his discovery by dumb show to his companion. The smith's back was turned at the moment, and the first man reached stealthily for the prize. while my friend, unnoticed in the corner, quickly aimed his camera. It was a comical scene, and in his mind he had already named the photo 'The took a swift gulp, and his comrade snatched it and did likewise. Then for a brief, breathless instant they looked at each other, and as they did so their foolish grin gave way to such a stare of questioning horror as I never saw before upon a human face. I know because it was then that the camera clicked, and the picture is as clear as crystal. The flask contained carbolleacid. Within an hour both men were

"When my friend took one print, he broke the negative so as to make the photograph absolutely unique. It shows the forward end of the shop In the foreground is the anvil, with the smith bending over his work. Behind him are the two helpers, one still holding the flask, looking at each other. houses, fences, trees, just as easy as you please? Get a hustle on its jaws? Swipe the earth with fiendish claws Hump its back and take a run through the orchard just for fun? From a hill to hollow flit, seeming to get strength

Ever see a cyclone, say? Take its track and speed away? Switch its tall and snort and bound, just like light ning o'er the ground? Get a swift move with its feet, racing for the winning heat? Then cavorting up and down, heeding no laws of the town? Pushing everything aside? Out upon a gayly ride? As though owning all the track, ever onward, never back? Never seen one? Well, I swow! It's a buster, Yachting on Salt.

Save during the rainy season Lake Lefroy, in western Australia, is quite dry. But as the water evaporates as the hot weather approaches a smooth, glassy floor of crystalline salt is deposited. Those living on the shores have found a means of utilizing this Ail boats which sail on the lake when possible are, during the rainy season, fitted with four wheels, and thus are enabled to continue their travels. As Lake Lefroy kins an area of 100 miles, and the surrounding country is extremely rough, this means a great saving in expense, labor and time. The speed attained by these wheeled rachts is very considerable, though not quite equal to the pace of the lee yachts so popular in Canada.—Gincinnati Enquirer.

A Senstorial Slander.

Two ladies visiting in Washington during one of the sessions of congress want to the capitol to hear the proceedings in the United States senate. Most of the galleries being filled, they approached the doorkeeper of the senators' zallery, where admission is by eard. As they did not possess this passport, the doorkeeper suggested that they procure one from any senator they might be acquainted with. "But we do not know any senator."

they replied.

"Well, it is very much to your credit," said the doorkeeper. "Pass right in, ladies."—San Francisco Argonsut.

MUSIC IN EVERYTHING.

Pretty Surprises Met With in a Ge-neva Music Bax Pactory. The chief industry of Geneva is the sands of men, women and children are employed in the factories, one of which was visited by a traveler who gives ome interesting particulars about his

est. He did so, and strains of delightful music came from the chair. He stick in the stand. Music came from both rack and stand. He wrote his in the visitors' register, and on dipping his peu into the ink music burst forth from the lakstand.

The manager of the factory explained the process of making musical boxes, a business which requires patience and nicety. The different parts are made by men who are experts in those parts and who do nothing else year in and year

The music is marked on the cylinder by a man who has served several years of apprenticeship. Another man Inserts in the marked places pegs which have been filed to a uniform length. The comb, or set of teeth, which strikes the pegs and makes the sound is arranged by a man who does nothing else. The cylinder is then revolved to see that every peg produces a proper tone.

The most delicate work of all is the revising of each peg. It is done by a workman who has a good ear for music. He sees that every peg is in its proper place and is bent at the correct angle.

When the lustrument is in its case, an expert examines it to see that the time is perfect,-St. Louis Republic.

How He Wanted to Pay.

Some years ago an affray among miners in the west resulted in murder, and Senator Thurston, believing the accused to have been innocent in intention, took up his case and greatly mitigated the lad's punishment. Six months afterward a man, armed to the teeth, appeared in Thurston's office. "Be you Squire Thurston?"

"Yes." "Be you the man that defended Jack Balley at court?" The senator, thinking his last hour was come, again answered, "Yes." "Well, I'm Jack Balley's pardner, and I've come to pay you. I haven't got any money, but I'm a man of honor. Anybody in town you don't like?"

As the senator smilingly disclaimed any thirst for booty or blood, the callet insisted incredulously: "Put on your hat, squire, and just walk down the street. See anybody you don't like, throw up your thumb and I'll pop him."-Youth's Companion.

The Chinese saying is, "For each pair of bound feet there has been a pair of bound feet there has been a CAROLINA DISPATCH LINE whole kang, or big bath, full of tears." and they say that one girl out of ter dies of foot binding or of its after ef feets. When I quoted this to the Ital ian mother superior at Hankow, who has for years been head of the great girl school and foundling establish ment there, she said, with tears in her "Oh, no, no! That may be true o the coast towns." I thought she was going to say it would be a gross exaggeration in central China, but to my horror she went on, "But more here--more."-"Intluste China," by Mrs. A. Little.

Bookkeeping Comes High.
"It makes me tired," said the young man—"these sudvertisements guaranteeing to teach a person bookkeeping for $10."

"But can't it be done?" was asked. "Not on your life! Why, I spent six months and over $100 to learn the art. and what do you suppose happened at the close of the first year?"

"Got your figures mixed?"
"Well, I should smile! There was a discrepancy of $700 between the cash-book and my ledger, and my father had to make it good, while I hunted for an-other job!"—Brooklya Citizen.
