DESTRUCTION POR THE BOERS

The war which has begun in the Transvaul between the Boers and the English, can have but one result, namely the complete destruction of the Boers,

The course of the Boers in themselves being the aggressors in starting the conflict, places them in a bad light to begin

That they thought war inevitable, and did not want the English to take all the advantages of delays, may account for their desire to be the insugurators of the conflict, but with the intense hatred the Boers have for anything English, and remembering their achievements in deconsequent dectors' bills; the money remembering their achievements in deconsequent dectors' bills; the money apent in other churches, for if they come to your entertainment you must did not want the English to take all the feating their enemy at Majuba Hill, come to your entertainment you must be come to your entertainment your must be come to your entertainment you must be come to your entertainment your must be come to yo frenzy which seems to inspire their actions, it is not surprising that action first came from the side of the Boars.

But as to the causes for the present

The remonstrance of Great Britain in the interest of the disfranchised and degraded Outlanders bed ample warrant. The restrictions gradually placed in the way of immigrants to the Transvasl who wished to acquire citizenship, until naturalization became practically impossible, were in direct violation of the spirit of the London conventions of 1881 and 1884. The promises then made by Kruger to the effect that all white men coming into the country would be treated on a basis of equality with the old burghers have not been kept.

The Boers were of that time an xious for foreigners to come in and occupy, and in 1884 President Kruger went to London and invited Englishmen to settle in his such great numbers the Boers became alarmed, and saw that if admitted to citizenship, the foreigners and not the natives would govern the country. Therefore, the Boers Look steps to preserve their independance by restricting the voting privilege.

They first raised the probationary term of qualification to five years, and then to fourteen years. It was required that the head and eyes with the most marked prospective citizen should forswear allegiance to any other State, and even at the expiration of the term of probation his admission depended upon the will of the President and of the legislative assembly, called the Volksrand

Thus it was that the Ultlander, or foreign citizen, had no guarantee nor even assurance of citizenship.

The assault upon an English miner who shot a Boer policeman who was attempting an unlawful entry into the miner's house, was the beginning of the present trouble, which led to meeting and counter meetings, with appeals made to the higher authorities. In the meetings between President Kruger and England's Governor of Cape Colony, who represented the British interests, the question of the Transvasl being a dependency of England was urged, hence there could be no arbitration between a suzerale State and its dependency, which led to the Boers refusal to accede to any such proposition. But however great Injury the Box may inflict upon their adversary, the English, there must be to the Boar at last destruction, and really one of his own inviting.

The excevation is begun at the runs of the lot, and the earth forming the causeway, running up to the level of the street at the front, is left until the last. In the later stages of the excevating the causeway is left just wide enough at the top for the earts or wagons in more on, and its sides slope down precipitously. The driver who backs down on one of these narrow cellar causeways simply must left it right. New York Bun.

What the Church Carpet Cost.
The Chicago Advance gives the following estimate of the direct and collateral cost of a church curpet. The price was $800, but as the women of the church raised the money by giving entertainments the paster's estimate was that when all the items of cost were figured in the earpet had cost fully $4,000. He reached this astonishing total by estimating the work, worry, nervous strain, bodity weariness and heartnehes of 100 women, the horole efforts of men, women and children to est the things which were to be eaten and hear, see or buy things gitimate giving which follow in the train of such methods of raising mon-ey. HIS HEAD LIKES THE HEAT.

It has often been said that the ca-pacity of the negro race for enduring heat has never been fully tested. An incident related by a dairyman living bear out this assertion.

This dairyman has a young negro boy who looks after the cattle and does chores around the place. The on-ly effect that the heat produces in his case is a desire to slumber. The dairy-man had a young calf in the barnyard, and as the sun was pouring in on the poor animal his wife sent "Carlina" out to turn the calf loose, so that he could seek a shady spot. After waitmig an hour for his return the house wife went to the barnyard to investi-gate. There she found both boy and calf curied up in the hot and atfiling barnyard. The calf was dead from the effects of the sun, but the boy was alumbering peacefully by its side.

While a negro can stand any amount of heat on his head he loves to cool his heels. It is a common sight in the winter to see a negro boy on a frosty morning with his head bundled up to keep out the cold and at the same time walking unconcernedly along the frosty ground in his bare feet. One of the hottest places in the city on a hot day is at the lumber wharfs of the Florida Central and Peninsular rail-rond. When the men knock off for noon, they frequently take a nap with their faces upturned to the rays of the blazing sun. At the same time they get their feet under the shadow of some friendly lumber pile.—Florida

An American farmer near Guadala-jara convinced his Mexican neighbors American yokes, so generally used in the republic. The American brought several modern yokes from the United States and used them with success. The curiosity of his Mexican friends

"Turn him loose," was the reply.

"That's it," answered the American.

Man and His Tailor.

Mass and His Tailor.

A man can be measured to the best advantage, tailors say, away from a glass. Standing before a mirror he is almost certain to throw out his chest, if he does not habitually carry it so, and take an attitude that he would like to have rather than the one he commonly holds, whereas the tailor wants him, as the portrait painter wants his subject, in his natural pose and manner. With the man in that attitude the tailor can bring his art to bear, if that is required, in the overcoming of any physical defect and produce clothes that will give the best attainable effect upon the figure as they will be actually worn.—New York Bun.
