The great International yacht race ended and America rules the wave.

Never in the history of the fifty years, since the America won the cup, was victory more clean, decisive and overwhelming than that which has just fin-

The English yacht has had every kind of weather from calm to almost tempest. The English vacht has bad the advice and assistance of American skippers to point out her deficiencies and correct her sailing mistakes, this in addition to the best of English skippers and yacht crew.

The English yacht has been given the fairest of fair play, with the United States government as track clearer. The English yacht has had the fullest sympathy and moral support of the New York Anglo-Munius. The English yacht had the full newspaper support of the New York Yellows under the lead of the Journal, with its corps of naval experts who found nothing good in the American yacht. And yet with all these the English Shamrock was outpointed, out-salled and out-constructioned by the American yacht builder, and the American Capt

Barr with his American crew. In nothing has the Englishman won, in this last yachting centest, the proeminent race of all the contests sailed.

The English sportsmen have been given an exhibition of all around Americanism which causes them to admire, in spite of suffering an overwhelming de-

His Life Was Savel.

Mr. J. E. Li'ly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverence from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumon-Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed.
Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr King's New Discovery. One hottle gave great relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marveljoun medicine is the surent and quickest

Reat of the Earth.

It is well known that a great deal of effort has been put forth in all parts of the world where mining is carried on to a great depth, to determine as a satisfactory average the increase of the earth's temperature with depth. A few years ago it was commonly assumed to be I degree for each 90 feet in depth, but more recently deeper workings under other conditions have led to the belief that it is something over 800 feet for each degree of increased temperature. It is admitted, however, that the depth to which mining has thus far been carried is so shallow as compared with the great distance to the center of the earth that it is really not known what the average increase of temperature with depth is. Observations made at the various places have been where the surrounding conditions were so different that the tests were not satisfactory, as for example, those made in the Lake Superior and Nevada regions. These butterfly bedelothes are often arranged with an intrinsey that is quite curious and perplexing. Sometimes a bed is made so that each separate delicate hair stands upright, thus giving the culire mest the appearance of a little heush of downy fur. Then again, the eggs are laid spirally round a tiny branch, and, as the covering follows their course, the effect resembles the busy tail of a fox, only the next is more beautiful than the "brush" of the finest fox that ever roamed over country.

the latest earthly labor of the mother butterfly, for by the time it is comed of its natural covering, and there is nothing left for her to do but die, a merifice which she promptly and herolcally makes in the interest of the coming butterfly generation.

Some Odd Names. The most suggestive and inviting name I saw was that of a druggis in North Dakots. It was U. R. Wel come, his first name being Urias.
Acress the street was another man with a funny name. He bore the euphonious cognomen John Stone-pounder. In the next town I found a man who was so fat that the name of Abraham Crumpacker seemed espe-cially fitting. But there was a woman in the town who went him one better. Her name was Emily Freshbread.

In the next town I got so interested in queer names that I soon heard of a speedy individual called Sarah Deerboof. In that same town there is a man named Henry Bookstruck. Ever after that I was on the lookout. On the Newlove. The man with the most warlike name I ran against was Abraham Saltpeter. In one town I found a man who had a very poetic name. It was Scabright Sunbloom. But the last name I struck finished me. It seemed like a direct command to cease my sacrilegious monkeying with peo-ple's names. I took it as a warning and quit. A. An Intelligent Censor. No play may be publicly performed in England until it has been passed upon and agreed to by the stage censor. A certificate must be secured from the lord chamberlain. The lord chamberlain himself does not, of course, read all the plays submitted to him, but the work is passed on to the examiner of plays, who is not always a man of education or discretion and who in many cases has been suspected of letting things pass because man-agers have made it profitable to him to close his eyes to supposed faults.

The story is told of one of these examiners who was moved to strike out "drunk as a lord" in one of the plays submitted to him. There used to be an old rule that the word "heaven" should be substituted in stage lines wherever the name of any of the persons of the Trinity came up. So this clever examiner changed the line to
