VANCE STATUE.

It Will Be Ready For Unveiling 20th Next May.

Republicans Have Money. Will Populists Hold? Odd Fellows Lodge. At Paris. Police Chiefs Organize. Atten-dance At The Fair.

Raleigh, Oct. 21.—Joseph G. Brown, of the Vance monument committee, says that the statue will be ready in March or April, and that in all probability the unveiling will occur on May 20th. That is the proper time. It will be easy to have 50,000 visitors here that day. A good committee should take charge, as during the 1884 State Exposition, of the matter of securing homes for visitors. All the State Guard should parade, and no doubt troops from Maryland and Virginia will come in large numbers. It can be made the grandest affair Raleigh has ever seen.

The Republican State committee decides to fight the election law. The executive committee has the promise of funds, to a large amount, from the national committee. J. C. L. Harris, who is so close to Governor Russell, says he cannot understand the policy of the committee in trying to fight the election law.

It is asserted that the Republican leaders are trying to "feel" the Populists, that is, get the latter in line against the constitutional amendment. It is noticeable that some Populists who, just after the last election talked freely, are now close mouthed, but many of them declare their unalterable support of the amendment.

There appears to be a probability of the University of North Carolina's football team tackling that of one at least of the New England universities.

The great social event of the present week, occurred last night at the Capital Club, the grand marshal, to his 74 assistants and the ladies they escorted. There was also a collation.

Grand Secretary B. H. Woodall says that since June 1st, no less than 1,000 persons have become Odd Fellows under the new "club" system, and that 300 have joined otherwise. The are now 112 working lodges. It is the aim to increase the strength of existing lodges, rather than create new ones.

The trees and shrubs at the national cemetery here have been very beautiful, but now they are being trimmed and spotted. Heretofore they have grown naturally.

This State is to be well represented at the Paris Exposition. Most of the expense of the exhibit will be borne by the United States, which assigns space to the States. But as an earnest of its real in the matter, the board of agriculture appropriated $2,500 to supplement the United States government appropriation, and to have the State thoroughly represented. It is the expectation that there will be a fine display. T. K. Bruner, the board's secretary, will gather the collection. He will go to western North Carolina in a few days, as the United States government's agent to complete its collection of apples.

The board asked State Veterinarian Curtis, in his future work in western North Carolina, to study the conditions for horse breeding and the breeds best adapted, the purpose being to get in some new blood. It is said that what is known as the French coach horse is the best adapted to the Blue Ridge country. That is a particularly fine and good selling horse.

The chiefs of police in this State have formed an organization, at a meeting here, with J. A. Woodall, of Durham, president; J. S. Miller, of Raleigh, vice president; State Detective Shaw, of Raleigh, secretary.

The figures given as to there being 15,000 people at the fair grounds Thursday, were estimates by officials. Railroad people estimated that there were 20,000. It was the greatest crowd at a State Fair here since that of 1893 certainly, and perhaps was a little larger than the latter. It was exceeded by the crowd at the unveiling of the Confederate monument.

It is safe to say that it was the best dressed and most orderly crowd ever seen at a fair, and this declaration means much. The people reflected the general prosperity of the State. There were more farmers and their families on the grounds than ever before.

There have been 9,000 visitors to the State Museum this week.

At the fair grounds yesterday afternoon the Agricultural and Mechanical College football team defeated that of Bingham School, 28 to 0.

The tobacco growers' State convention elected J. Bryan Grimes, of Pitt county, president.

The State Board of Agriculture appropriated $300 for surveys looking to the drainage of the Roanoke section, one of the greatest problems presented in this State. The board considered the matter of crop pests and their extermination. A State entomologist was not elected, that matter being deferred until the December meeting.

ENGLAND'S PLAN

To Unite Five Countries Into a "Dominion of South Africa."

Losses at the Battle of Glencoe. No Major Hill This Time. Kimberley Surrounded. Troops Leaving England. Special to Journal.

London, Oct. 21.—Extremely grave official news was received tonight from South Africa. During the movement of the British army, one squadron of a hundred and sixty men of the 18th Lancers, including a section of mounted infantry, became separated and have not returned to camp. It is feared that they were drawn into a trap by the Boers and killed.

General White telegraphed today that the British loss in the battle at Glencoe was 10 officers and 81 men, wounded 21 officers and 151 men.

It is announced with some appearance of official authority that the following plan will be adopted in South Africa after the termination of the war with the Boers. The first step will be to raise the forts at Pretoria and Johannesburg. Then a constitution will be promulgated creating a group of five federal States, consisting of Cape Colony, Transvaal, Natal, Orange Free State and Rhodesia. The title of the union is to be the Dominion of South Africa. The plan of the constitution, with some modifications, is to be on the basis of the Canadian government.

Cape Town, Oct. 21.—State Secretary Holtz has issued a manifesto to the Orange Free State burghers, whom he addressed as "Brother Afrikaners." He calls the British people murderers and peace treaty breakers. He praises the members of the Afrikaners band and especially Premier Schreiner of Cape Colony.

A bloody battle was fought in Natal Friday by the British and Boers. It resulted in a British victory.

Gen. Sir William Penn Symons, who commanded the British troops engaged, was severely wounded.

The number of Boers engaged was about 4,000. The British force is supposed to have been about equal to this.

Glencoe, the scene of the battle is in the heart of Northern Natal. It is 70 miles by railroad south of the extreme northern boundary of the colony, and 221 miles north of Durban, the southern terminus of the railroad. The town is 43 miles by rail north of Ladysmith, the headquarters of Gen. Sir George Stewart White, British commander in Natal.

Kimberley, Cape Colony, has been invested by large forces of Boers on the north and south.

There are renewed reports of a Boer triumph, with severe loss, at Mafeking, Bechuanaland.

The House of Commons voted £10,000,000 (about $50,000,000) for the supplementary army estimates. Some of the Irish members hotly protested, and William Redmond was compelled by Speaker Gully to withdraw from the house.

Within the next three days 17,000 soldiers will sail from Southampton, England, for the seat of war.

The shutting off of the Transvaal gold supply will deprive England of over $2,000,000 weekly.

REVOLUTION OVER.

President of Venezuela Leaves His Country. New Constitution. Special to Journal.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Capt. Hemphill of the Cruiser Detroit reports that President Andrade has put to sea with part of his army on gunboats and transports. President Andrade sailed Northeastward, the other vessels Westward. Their destination unknown.

Andrade's action was due to the fact that he suddenly found himself without military support, General Mendoza, commander of the Government forces, having deserted to the insurgents.

General Castro will enter the capital unopposed. After a conference President Andrade vacated his office in favor of the Vice-President. In accordance with arrangements made with General Castro by telegraph, a popular convention will assemble immediately to adopt a new constitution and to elect General Castro provisional President, carefully avoiding anything like a dictatorship.

The fighting is now over. The Minister for Foreign Affairs has furnished to United States Minister Loomis a statement of the situation.

President King, Farmers Bank, Brooklyn, Mich., has used DeWitt's Little Early Bitters in his family for years. Says they are the best. Those famous little pills cure constipation, biliousness and all liver and bowel troubles. F. S. Duffy.
