Compulsory Education in North Carolina is Advocated.

The Arsenal Question. Clerk Fortune Explains Water Works Extension. Butler On The Amendment. The Wilson Fair.

RALPH, Nov. 3.—In compliance with the request of Labor Commissioner Lucy the State Superintendent of Public Instruction has written for the report of the Labor Bureau a strong letter, in which he ardently advocates compulsory education. He says that in North Carolina the percentage of illiteracy is 27, which is higher than anywhere save in New Mexico. Tables showing the percentages in States which have a compulsory law and those which do not have it are given. Those show a wonderful difference. Oregon leads the country, with only 2 per cent. of illiteracy. It may seem like drawing the long bow to say that North Carolina will ever have a compulsory education law, but it is sure to come.

The old arsenal yet adorns the capitol square. The quartermaster general says it will be removed by December 31st. But there is this hitch: The board of public buildings bought a well located lot for a new arsenal. Now it seems there is a desire to have a hall of records put on the front of this lot and the arsenal in the rear. There is another lot which the State ought to buy and put the arsenal on and the hall of records on the other. The State needs all the property it can get adjoining the capitol square.

There was not as large an attendance at the negro State Fair here today as was expected. Relatively few people came in on trains. John C. Dancy, collector of customs at Wilmington, delivered the address. The exhibits this year are creditable.

John D. Shaw came to argue in Wake court the cases involving the "minimum car load" on the Raleigh & Gaston and Raleigh & Augusta Railroads, but the cases are postponed until next Thursday.

Clerk J. B. Fortune, of the United States District Court, said today, in speaking of the reason for his signing discharge in bankruptcy, that Judge Furnell had directed him to sign. He stated that form 99 of the order issued by the United States Supreme Court regarding bankruptcy proceedings is the one followed; that he showed this blank to Judge Furnell when it was first prescribed, and that it provides for only the clerk's signature; that the judge said: "Go ahead and sign, as the judge, it seems, does not have to sign. I want to get rid of this bankruptcy work as much as possible." Fortune showed one of the blanks and said he had for months been signing them, in cases where there was voluntary bankruptcy and the referee had made the final report.

The aldermen here are being pressed by the water-works owners to extend the water contract 30 years. The city has an option. The public sentiment, which is overwhelming, is that the city ought to buy next year. The system pays well.

The trustees of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage at Goldsboro have elected Miss Bertha Davis matron. She had been sempstress some time. The pupils are devoted to her and worked to secure her election. The orphanage is in every way in excellent condition, Grand Secretary B. H. Woodall says.

Senator Butler and his brother George both appeared yesterday as counsel in an important school law case from Sampson county in the Supreme Court.

The Home Protection Insurance Company, which was chartered by the last Legislature, was organized at Charlotte yesterday with John B. Kenney president, D. R. Julian, secretary. One of its special objects is to insure cotton mills.

Seven negro prisoners, in jail at Greensboro, to whom a saw had been sent concealed in bread, and a knife, which was converted into a saw, had cut their way nearly out and were ready to depart when a negro vagabond in the cell betrayed them.

The declaration made by Republican State Chairman A. E. Holton, after his interview here with Senator Marion Butler, to the effect that the Populists would vote with the Republicans against the amendment limiting the negro franchise will attract much attention, naturally. How many Populists are there? Not over 15,000 some say. Another question is how many Populists does Butler control? Such Populists as Congressman Alwater, of this district say that Butler cannot direct the Populists in this matter; that they simply will not follow his lead or obey his orders. He expresses astonishment at Senator Butler's attitude with regard to the amendment.

The Wilson fair this year scores the biggest success in its history. The crowd today was estimated at from 9,000 to 10,000. Many exhibits could not be installed owing to bad weather the first of the week.

Loss On The Lane,

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 3.—The derelict schooner Carrie A. Lane, of Bath, Maine from Beaufort, N. C., to Noank, Conn., in tow of the tug Edgar F. Luckenbach, arrived here this morning. The Luckenbach left Beaufort with the Lane last Sunday, the distressed schooner having aboard a crew of five, with Capt. R. E. Fletcher, of Bath, Maine, in command. Monday night the sea washed the derelict and put out the fire of the donkey engine, which was running the pumps, and the vessel soon filled. The storm continued to grow worse, and in the sea which washed the Lane's decks were drowned three of her crew. Captain Fletcher and two of the crew survived the night and, after suffering many hardships, were Tuesday morning taken aboard the Luckenbach, which had been unable to lead any assistance during the night.

The Lane sailed from Apalachicola for Noank, Conn., on September 10 with a load of lumber, met with a severe hurricane in the Gulf stream, off the Carolina coast, and was wrecked, her crew, consisting of Capt. J. Frank Shofield, whose wife was with him, and eight men, being picked up by the British steamship Rhodessa and brought to Norfolk. The Lane after drifting about with the ocean for some time a dangerous derelict to navigation, was picked up and saved by wreckers, who received liberal remuneration from the vessel's owner, Mr. Arthur Sewall, of Maine. Mr. Sewall went to Beaufort last week and arrangements were made with the Luckenbach's crew to tow the schooner to Noank, for the discharge of the lumber in her hold. It was while this contract was being carried out that the Lane, for the second time in a month, became waterlogged at sea. The derelict schooner will receive temporary repairs before proceeding in tow of the Luckenbach to Noank. She will be taken from that place to some port in Maine for complete repairs.

When Peggy Goes to Market.

When Peggy takes her basket up
And off to market goes,
I'm stupefied with wonder at
How very much she knows.
She makes her way between the stalls
And with judicial air
Decides that this is "so and so"
And that is "pretty fair."
She knows if fish are fresh or not,
And, wise as any owl,
She differentiates between
A chicken and a fowl.
She thumbs the breastbone of the one
And pulls the other's legs;
She squints her pretty little eyes
To test the new-laid eggs.
The veg'ables must be just right,
For with a critic's eye
She scans them, not inclined to pass
Their imperfections by.
She calls the market folks by name;
Ah, what a lot she knows.
When Peggy takes her basket up
And off to the market goes!
When Peggy does the marketing
My heart with pride she fills,
I go along, a useless thing,
Except to pay the bills.

LADYSMITH CUT OFF.

Communication Has Been Broken Since 2:30 p. m. Thursday.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Sir Walter Francis Hely-Hutchinson, Governor of Natal, informs the Colonial Office tonight that communication between Ladysmith and Durban has been interrupted since half past 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The cause of the interruption is not stated, but it may confirm the rumors that Ladysmith has been completely invested or that the garrison had fallen back upon Colenso, which is 16 miles to the south.

This is a practical day and generation. Public patronage rests upon positive merit. For this reason are consumed daily in more than a million homes. They have been proven the full standard of coffee goodness. The fragrant aroma is appetizing; there's enjoyment and health in every cupful.
Chase & Sanborn's Coffees
It is not possible to get better coffee; it is not probable as good can be had under any other brand for any price.
Quality is the foundation of value—the unrivaled quality of Chase & Sanborn's Coffees rests their merit for public confidence. We never have to coax the second order.
Imitations and counterfeits are common. A few cents more profit often induces the dealer to urge some inferior brand, therefore we say, see that the seal of Chase & Sanborn is on every package you buy. Then disappointment is impossible.
