WINE OF CARDU

WOMEN WHO WORK.

Br. Lours, Mo., Aug. 12.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to surpport myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoza, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

Nothing but Coffee, are consumed daily in more than a million homes. They have been proven the full standard of coffee goodness.

The fragrant aroma is appetizing; there's enjoyment and health in every cupful.

It is not possible to get better coffee; it is not probable as good can be had under any other brand

Quality is the foundation of value—in the unrivaled quality of Chase & Sanborn's Coffees rests their merit for public confidence. We never have to coax the second order.

Imitations and counterfeits are common. A few cents more profit often induces the dealer to urge some inferior brand, therefore we say, see that the seal of Chase & Sanborn is on every package you buy. Then disappointment is impossible.

A Complicated Flag. The Spanish royal standard is most

The red and yellow of the Spanish flag is said to be derived the Spanish flag is said to be derived, from this occurrence: In 1378 Charles the Bold dipped his fingers in the blood of Geoffrey, count of Barcelons, and drew them down the count's golden shield in token of his appreciation of the latter's bravery. The shield, so marked, became the arms of Barce-lons, which became part of Aragon, and its arms were taken by that king-

Now to the royal standard: In the first quarter or upper left hand part of the flag are the arms of Leon and Castile, the lion and the castle; the second quarter is taken up, one-half by the arms of Aragon, one-half by the arms of Sicily. The upper third of the quarter (directly under the first) shows the Austrian colors, the lower two-thirds is divided between the flag of Burgundy and the black lion of Flanders; the upper third of the fourth quarter shows the checkers, another Burgun dian device, while the lower two-thirds is shared by the red eagle of Antwerp the top of all this are two shields, one showing the Portuguese arms, the other the French fleur-de-lis. of a fing that! Got the Watch. A Camden lawyer put up a bluff successfully not long ago. A client came to him and explained that a young man had bought a watch from him on the installment plan. He made one payment, gave the watch to a young lady and skipped out. The client wanted to know if he could recover the watch from the young lady. The lawyer said that he could not without spending more money than the watch was worth, except the young woman could be bluffed. The client said a bluff would be paid for if successful, and the lawyer posted the following letter: "Dear Madam—The watch recently presented to you by Mr. Blank was obtained surreptitiously from the establishment of my client, and unless it is returned by next Tuesday morning I will be obliged to, very reluctantly, dis-patch a judicial functionary to your

The watch was delivered the following morning and the lawyer received a fine gold chain for writing the letter.— Pittsburg Dispatch.

Its cavities are filled with a gelatinous substance called "milk." American sponges, and those of all other parts of the world, are inferior to the sponges of the eastern shores of the Mediterranean. The finest of all sponges is the Turkey tollet sponge, which is cup shaped. The American sponge, most hearly approaching it in quality is the West Indian glove sponge.—Youth's Companion.

Dever Had No Grievance.

"Where do you take command of the fact?" a lady friend asked Dewey just before he left for Manjia.

"At Hongkong," he replied.

After a silence the lady said:

"Aren't you aggrieved, in view of our possible trouble with Spain, over being ordered to the remote Asiatic station, which can hardly be in the picture in case of war?"

"Sallor's luck!" replied Dewey. "Aigreover, I haven't entertained grievances for years."

And then he added, evidently as an after thought, "Besides, you know. Spain owns the Philippines."—Ladles' Home Journal.
