Doctors Can't Cure It!

Contagious blood poison is absolutely beyond the skill of the doctors. They may dose a patient for years on their mercurial and potash remedies, but he will never be rid of the disease; on the other hand, his condition will grow steadily worse. S. S. S. is the only cure for this terrible affliction, because it is the only remedy which goes direct to the cause of the disease and forces it from the system.

I was afflicted with Blood Poison, and the best doctors did me no good, though I took their treatment faithfully. In fact, I seemed to get worse all the while. I took almost every so-called blood remedy, but they did not seem to touch the disease, and had no effect whatever. I was disheartened, for it seemed that I would never be cured. At the advice of a friend, I then took S. S. S., and began to improve. I continued the medicine, and it cured me completely, building up my health and increasing my appetite. Although this was ten years ago, I have never yet had a sign of the disease to return.

It is like self-destruction to continue to take potash and mercury; besides totally destroying the digestion, they dry up the marrow in the bones, producing a stiffness and swelling of the joints, causing the hair to fall out, and completely wrecking the system.

S.S.S. For the Blood
is guaranteed Purely Vegetable, and is the only blood remedy free from those dangerous minerals.

The Love of an Architect.
The architect, says Russell Sturgis in The Atlantic, must possess a love of building, and of heavy stone, and of good bricks, and of stout, solid walls and of handsome timber, handiwork and of framed. He must even love the new material, wrought and rolled iron and steel, for its great and as yet only partly known capabilities. When one is asked by a would-be student of architecture about his (the student's) chances of succeeding as an architect, it is very good to find out what his proclivities are and whether he is merely interested in fine art and seized with the idea that architecture is an easy, fine art to study and to practice.

The architect should love the quarries and should visit them with eager anticipation. The cleavage of stone and its appearance in its natural bed should be not only a delight to him, but an object of close study. The architect should love the lumber yard, not to say the forest. To him the timber in itself should be a thing delightful to study and its possible uses delightful to contemplate. The architect should love the brickyard, and experiments in cements and in mortars should be his holiday amusement. And, finally, the architect must have such an eye and such a soundness of judgment that bad work cannot escape him. A familiarity with details not unlike that of a good master builder he must combine with a knowledge of principles and of possibilities far beyond that of the master builder, so that good work will come to his buildings as of inevitable sequence, and bad or even slighted work will be impossible in them.

There are 90,000 babies born in the city of New York every year. They number 850 a day, or one each six minutes. Take them out together for an airing, and the row of baby carriages would extend up the Hudson to Albany, 150 miles.—Current Literature.

A HUSBAND SAYS:

"Before my wife began using Mother's Friend she could hardly get around. I do not think she could get along without it now. She has used it for two months and it is a great help to her. She does her household work without trouble."

is an external liniment for expectant mothers to use. It gives them strength to attend to their household duties almost to the hour of confinement. It is the one and only preparation that overcomes morning sickness and nervousness. It is the only remedy that makes labor short and delivery easy. It is the only remedy that puts the breasts in condition so that swelling or rising is impossible. Don't take medicines internally. They endanger the lives of both mother and child.

Mother's Friend is sold by druggists for $1. Send for our free illustrated book. The Bradford Regulator Co., Atlanta, Ga.
