HARDWARE.

Winter is coming and the cold weather is all right as long as you are out of doors, in your house, however you want to be snug and warm. One of Carbon Air-Tight Heaters will make your rooms comfortable and cozy. The prices are easy. It only takes about one-half the coal of the average stove. We are agent for this heater and also the Wilson Air-Tight Wood Heater.

A Thing of Beauty is a Joy Forever.

Our Cook Stove Department is complete. The wife, the daughter or even my old cook should have a good steel Range. You can well afford it; you will have better meals and the cook will have a better temper and stay by you longer. It will pay for itself in a short time by saving fuel; there are innumerable reasons why you should have and use a single reason on why you should not.

RESISTED BY BOERS.

General Methuen's Army Column Fights Its Way.

Battle of Gras Pan. Hard Four Hours Battle. Boers Driven Off. Boers Retiring May Be Weakness. Losses Heavy on Both Sides.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Another battle has been fought by Gen. Lord Paul Methuen's column, which is advancing to the relief of Kimberley.

The battle occurred Saturday morning, but news of it was not sent out until yesterday. The British censorship commission strict.

The scene of the fight was near Gras Pan, in Western Cape Colony. Gras Pan is ten miles north of Belmont, and 48 miles south of Kimberley. It is on the railroad line along which General Methuen is advancing.

The official report of the British commander states the Boers retreated, but he does not give many details, leaving it an open question whether the result was on the whole favorable to the British. He says the Boer force engaged numbered 2,000. These were doubtless Free Staters, who have been operating in that vicinity. The British force was about 7,000 men. It is known, telegraphs General Methuen, that the Boers lost at least 31 killed and 45 wounded. The British loss is not stated, but is presumably heavy, as the British commander says: "The enemy showed the greatest stubbornness." Gen. Methuen's force will halt one day at Gras Pan to rest and replenish ammunition.

General Methuen is now in heliographic communication with Kimberley. General Joubert, it is reported, is retreating from Moot river, Natal, to Lady-smith, and signs point to a strong Boer expedition for the capture of White's army. A dispatch from Pretoria, dated last Friday, says the Boers expected to capture Lady-smith "at the end of this week." The British had almost ceased to reply to the Boer artillery fire, indicating perhaps, that their ammunition was exhausted. Following the supposed retirement of the Boers, the British have restored telegraphic communication with Estcourt.

On the other hand, the retirement of the Boers may be a sign of weakness. An Estcourt dispatch indicates that it is because they lack food. General Hildyard, who commanded the British troops at Lady-smith, has advanced northward to Frere.

Gen. Sir Redvers Buller, British commander-in-chief in South Africa, has arrived at Durban from Cape Town, and started northward.

Mr. J. Sheer, Sedalia, Mo., saved his child's life by One Minute Cough Cure. Doctors had given her up to die with croup. It's an infallible cure for coughs, colds, grippe, pneumonia, bronchitis and throat and lung troubles. Relieves at once. F. S. Duffy.

Miss Annie R. Gunning, Tyre, Mich., says: "I suffered a long time from dyspepsia; lost flesh and became very weak. Lodal Dyspepsia Cure completely cured me." It digests what you eat and cures all forms of stomach trouble. It never fails to give immediate relief in the worst cases. F. S. Duffy.

Overlooked.

He wouldn't look well in a novel,
He wouldn't be praised in a play,
His home's neither palace nor hotel—
He's only a man of today.
He couldn't do much with a sabre
If carriage and rick were rife,
He merely can suffer and labor—
A hero of everyday life.

He isn't delightfully darning;
He isn't a maiden's ideal,
His love and devotion declaring—
A hero of ballads and of art.
He is merely a man who is fighting
The battle of civilized times—
A battle that's withering, blighting,
Unsung in troubadour's rhymes.

He's really, but one of the many,
Determined and patient and bold,
Whose struggle's as noble as any
By post or heraldic fold.
And later, when Time writes the story
Of those who've been valiant in strife,
A page will be due to the glory
Of heroes of everyday life.

WILL ATTEND CAUCUS.

Roberts Claims All Rights Of a Democratic Member.

WASHINGTON, November 26.—Representative Roberts, of Utah, whose admission to the House of Representatives will be opposed on the ground that he is a polygamist, was elected at a Democratic caucus in Salt Lake City, Utah, today. He said today: "I shall certainly attend the caucus. I have been duly elected to Congress. I was elected as a Democrat by Democratic voters, and there can be no question as to my right to attend the caucus."

Much as some of the Democratic Representatives would like to have Mr. Roberts refrain from attending the caucus, it is not believed there will be any effort to rule him out. There is no question about his having a certificate of election to Congress, and he has the same rights in a Democratic caucus as any other Democratic Representative-elect.

The widespread agitation on the Roberts case and the general feeling that he should either be refused his seat or, if seated, should be unseated as soon as possible, puts the majority in somewhat of an embarrassing position.

It is significant that while a majority of the members who have expressed their views have advised an impartial investigation, none of them in conversation have any hesitancy in saying that should the case prove to be as represented Roberts will be expelled. But probably the most experienced parliamentarian in Washington predicted this evening that a majority could not be obtained against admitting Roberts to his seat, and that after admission the necessary two-thirds to expel could not be secured.

Some Results of Expansion

President John Barrows, of Oberlin College, has contributed an article on "Our National Thanksgiving" to the current number of the Congressionalist in which he says: "At the Peace Jubilee in Chicago in October, 1868, one of the speakers declared the 'battle of Manila' to be the greatest event in American history since Lincoln's proclamation of emancipation. Benjamin Kidd, the English writer, was present on that occasion. Some time afterward, at a banquet given to him in New York, he spoke of Dewey's victory as the chief event since Waterloo. Prof. Giddings of Columbia University, at the same banquet declared it to be the leading historical event since the crushing defeat of the Saracens at Tours. How can we justify such strong declarations? That victory of May 1, 1898, not only helped the speedy subjection of Spain but lifted the flag of American supremacy at the very gates of the far East. The smoke of that battle had hardly cleared away before we saw the shadow of the great American republic flung vast, beneficent and far over the tropic isles and populous coasts of Asia. Thus, in a new and unexampled sense, America has become a world power. And the people have clearly expressed unalterable purpose to remain such. The higher, more confident, more aspiring Americanism, utterly scornful of the pessimistic destructions of our national vigor, and virtue, has accepted as divine providence the results of the war which no one foresaw.

"We are thankful that under able, humane, patient and far seeing leadership America is taking her proper place among the nations. We are honorably represented in the great European capital. At the Peace Conference America was commanding and beneficent power. For the approaching exposition in Paris America is able to secure a larger area than France gave to any other nation, excepting Russia. This was largely due, our commissioner tells us, to the new prestige which is one of the results of the Spanish-American war. England has been drawn closer to us than ever before. An American missionary writes from Yokohama that the old English temper and habit of offensive superiority to all things American have disappeared. The American who has traveled to many lands is grateful for this change. Many American consuls informed our Peace Commissioner in Paris of the marvelous additional respect paid to America in all European countries, including Turkey."

It takes but a minute to overcome tickling in the throat and to stop a cough by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. This remedy quickly cures all forms of throat and lung trouble. Harmless and pleasant to take. It prevents consumption. A famous specific for grippe and its effects. F. S. Duffy.

Watson Says All Of Zamboanga Province Has Surrendered.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Secretary Long today received the following cablegram from Admiral Watson: "Cebu, Nov. 26, 1899. Secretary of the Navy, Washington: November 18 entire Province Zamboanga surrendered to Commander Very unconditionally. Delivery of all guns promised. Numerous local chiefs declared loyalty. Watson." Commander Very is the officer in charge of the gunboat Castine.

The information contained in Admiral Watson's dispatch was received by the President and his advisers with great satisfaction. The surrender of Zamboanga province is regarded as the beginning of the end of the revolution in Mindanao, and, it is believed here, will be a hard blow to those who are still trying to maintain the war in Luzon.

Admiral Watson cabled to the Navy Department five days ago that Commander Very had captured the city of Zamboanga November 16. Commander Very was aided by friendly natives, and was holding the town pending the arrival of reinforcements from Jolo. On the same day General Otis informed the War Department that he had ordered two companies of infantry to be sent to Zamboanga from Jolo. Zamboanga is the principal city of Mindanao, which is the second largest island in the Philippine group. The entire southern half of the island is comprised in the Province of Zamboanga.
