COLESBURG TAKEN.
Occupied By General French Who Drives Out The Boers.
Opening Guns of a Battle At Tugela River. Talk of Danger To General Roberts. Boers Powell Succeeds At Making Special to Journal.
LONDON, Jan. 6.—Dispatches received here indicated that the attack of General French on the Boers at Coleburg was developing into a general engagement. The fighting around Coleburg was resumed early this morning. The British artillery opened to the westward of the town and the earlier dispatches said that the fighting was inconclusive. The Boers unexpectedly attacked the British left but were repulsed. The attackers numbered a thousand men. The Enskillen Dragoons cut their way through the Boers, who were forced to retreat by a heavy artillery and musketry fire. The British loss is said to have been light, but the Boers are reported to have lost 100, including 80 prisoners taken by the mounted infantry. Lieutenant Gibson, of the Enskillen, was among the British wounded. Major Harvey, of the Tenth Hussars, was killed and Major Alexander was wounded while the Hussars were pursuing the retreating Boers. A late special from Cape Town says that it is reported that General French has entered Coleburg and that it is now occupied by the British. According to a dispatch from Cape Town, General Methuen is building a railroad around the positions held by the Boers at Magersfontein. The Boers have completely retired from the neighborhood of Mollate, but General Gatacre does not appear to have pursued them, as the reinforcements from Sterkstroom have returned there. Letters just received say that there is no doubt that a Boer sympathizer was on board the Donaster Castle on which Lord Roberts sailed for Cape Town, and that he was ready to attempt to assassinate the Commander-in-Chief. His actions in lounging around the general's cabin led to an investigation and the man was placed in irons after a revolver was taken from him. He was turned over to the authorities at Cape Town. There is a rumor at Cape Town that Colonel Baden-Powell has defeated the Boers at Mafeking. The rumor, it is believed, refers to a fight which occurred after Baden-Powell's recent reverse, in which, according to British accounts, he lost 43 men out of 80 who were engaged. LONDON, January 6.—At an early hour this morning there are unconfirmed rumors here that General Buller has assumed the offensive in Natal and has already started fighting, having been heavily shelling the entrenchments at Colenso. It is known that this move is a necessary preliminary to an attack. Within a few days 7,000 additional British troops will be in Natal, but whether it is possible to wait for them or whether Buller's hands may be forced by the increasing difficulties at Ladysmith it is impossible to say. Extended reconnaissances have recently been the order of the day on the Tugela to discover the presence and position of Boer batteries. Wherever there are indications of Boer strength, the naval guns are brought into play.

RALPHAM, Jan. 6.—Ex-Judge Avery, of the Supreme Court, says the Republicans have made a concerted plan to apply to some partisan Republican Superior Court Judge for an order restraining the State Election Board from enforcing the election law enacted by the last Legislature, that no Superior Court Judge has power in advance of the decision by the Supreme Court as to the constitutionality of any statute to issue a writ that is invalid; that the Supreme Court Judge cannot grant an injunction, and that if the committee under a judge who will grant such an order Mr. Avery will urge that he be impeached by the Legislature. WASHINGTON, January 6.—Secretary Long has addressed a letter to the chairman of the naval committee in Congress regarding the best way to reward the officers who helped to destroy Cervera's fleet at Santiago. He advocated a bill providing that the advancement in rank of the navy and marine officers for service in war shall not interfere with the regular promotion of an officer otherwise entitled thereto and for a bill providing for an honor medal for those engaged in the battle.
