WILL RETURN TO CHARLOTTE.

Franc H. Jones Sells His Stock of Goods and Goes Out of Business.

Mr. Franc H. Jones has sold his entire stock of furniture to the Messrs. Outlinger Brothers of Kinston, who will remove the goods to Kinston.

Mr. Jones who had been with Mr. E. M. Andrews, the furniture man of Charlotte, moved to this city and opened a furniture store here in the fall of 1899. He has also had a candy and fruit store in this city.

Mr. Jones and family since living in New Bern have formed many social ties here and it is with regret that they leave this city, and their friends will also regret seeing them depart.

The sole reason for leaving this city, Mr. Jones states, is a matter of better business arrangements for himself, which he felt he could not afford to ignore, therefore he accepted a position with the Merchants and Farmers Bank of Charlotte, that was tendered him, which he expects to occupy about February 1st.

The JOURNAL is sorry to have Mr. Jones leave New Bern, but as he must leave, wishes him abundant success in Charlotte.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. Edmond Strudwick and two children, left yesterday morning for their homes in Richmond, Va.

Mr. A. W. Mayo, representing "Slide Fracked," which will be given at the theatre next week, is in the city.

Mr. T. A. Green returned last night from attending the annual session of the Grand Lodge of Masons at Raleigh.

Mr. William M. Rountree, representing Teft, Welles & Co. one of the largest dry goods houses in New York City, is here on a few days visit.

Died.

Frederic Mahler, at his plantation, near Jasper in Craven county, Jan. 11th, 1900. The remains will be interred this afternoon at the National Cemetery, at three o'clock.

Mr. Mahler was well known to the citizens of this place, having been engaged in business for a number of years. Some years ago he retired from business, and purchased a plantation, where he spent the rest of his life. He leaves a widow, but not any children.

For Benefit New Bern Co.

A drawing for a suit of clothes, valued at $30.00, took place Wednesday night, Mr. Luther Taylor being the fortunate one.

The drawing was for the benefit of the New Bern S. F. E. Company, one hundred chances being taken by friends of the company.

Chadwick, the Middle street tailor, will make the clothes.

North Carolina Oyster Beds.

The U. S. Fishhawk arrived in port yesterday, and is anchored off Fayette street. The Fishhawk has been doing oyster duty in North Carolina for some time. Oyster beds in the Old North State are full of sand, caused by the big storm of last August, and the Fishhawk has been surveying, or superintending the work of restoring the beds to their former condition.

Mr. Charles Weekland, chief yeoman of the Fishhawk, was in the city yesterday afternoon. He is pretty well known here, having been here on several other occasions. Mr. Weekland's time expires in three weeks, and he will not re-enlist. It is his intention to go into the jewelry business in Philadelphia. He has purchased an interest with his father-in-law who is very wealthy, and they will manufacture expert jewelry.

The Fishhawk will sail Saturday for Pamlico Sound, where she will look after the fish and oyster business until the early part of April—Virginia Pilot, 11th.

Resolutions—J. M. Smith.

Whereas, It has come to the knowledge of Craven Lodge, No. 1, that the Supreme Father, in the dispensation of His gracious love has called upon the soul of James Madison Smith, our brother, to lay down the exercises of Charity and Brotherly love, the cardinal principles of the Knights of Harmony, and to enter into their fruition. Therefore be it,

Resolved, That sympathetically bowing to His Will, who ereth not yet we deplore the loss of him whose head was not stayed in practicing the charity which brotherly love called forth and which made him a true knight in deed and name.

Resolved, That in realizing our loss we also feel that one has been called from our community who by his unaided efforts and faithfulness to duty had won for himself a place high in its esteem, who was a useful citizen, a faithful friend, a pure honest man.

Resolved, That while extending to the widow and children of our deceased brother our tenderest sympathy in their irreparable loss of a loving, faithful husband and tender father, we commend them to the unflinching care of Him who has promised to be the stay of the widow and fatherless.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and a copy be sent to the bereaved family.

R. J. DUNAWAY, J. H. TAYLOR, Geo. D. GORDON, Committee.

TRENTON.

Much Moring Also Reported. Death of E. H. Pollock and of Mrs. Griffin. Cotton About Out.

Trenton, Jan. 11th. We have never during our whole life seen as much moving as there is taking place this year, all looking forward to better their condition. May their anticipations all be realized.

Mr. Henry Pollock and family have moved to Trenton and will open a sale and exchange stable.

Mr. Bart Oliver one of our clever barbers, and family left this morning moving to Kinston. Mr. Oliver while residing here proved himself a good citizen.

Mr. Jas Taylor and family of near Pollockville has moved to Trenton. Mr. Trader, merchant here, has disposed of his entire stock of merchandise to E. A. Rhodes, Mr. Trader having accepted a very lucrative position in the lumber business in South Carolina.

Trade is a little dull here now since the holidays have passed.

Died near Trenton on Saturday last, Mr. Edward H. Pollock of pneumonia, aged about 50 years, leaving a widow and three small children, several brothers and a host of relatives and friends to mourn their irreplaceable loss.

We learn that Mrs. Elizabeth Griffin of Beaver Creek township died at the home of her son, Mr. Thos. Griffin on Tuesday morning last. This estimable lady was interred at the Huggins family burying ground yesterday. Mrs. Griffin had been in poor health for some time. She was 84 years old, leaving one daughter, one son and many relatives to mourn her departure.

No much seed cotton sold here now as the cotton fields all have been cleaned. Very little bale cotton brought here now.

Mrs. J. P. Brogden and son Henry went to Kinston yesterday.

Mr. Lon Taylor returned from Goldsboro yesterday and reports that horses and mules are rapidly advancing in price.

Sweet potatoes are getting a little scarce in Trenton. They would sell readily as the cold weather has prevented the farmers from bringing them in. Corn is in demand around here now as the farmers have been too busy with their cotton selling to bring corn to market.

The wood piles around here have depleted, notwithstanding the woodmen have been hauling it in.

Mr. Farney Brock has been busy preparing material to erect a dwelling on one of the Bryan lots at the junction of Jones and Upper streets. We learn two more dwellings will be erected in the near future on the Bryan square, purchased recently by the Brocks.

Chickens are remarkably scarce. Eggs not very plentiful, cold weather prevents the hens from laying them.

The health of Trenton is good.

Canvassers Ducks.

The present writer has paid $3 for a canvass duck in the Maryland club in the city of Baltimore, the city which is the home of the canvass duck connoisseur, and situated in the district which is the haunt of the canvass duck.

In San Francisco, on the other hand, it is possible to purchase an excellent dinner at one of the many French restaurants where a canvass duck shall figure and a dinner can be secured with ordinary wine at from $1.35 to $1.50—less than one-third of the single item of duck at the Baltimore dinner.

It may be said by captious critics that the canvass ducks in San Francisco are not so good as the canvass ducks in Baltimore. Error! They are not only just as good, they are the same. All of the canvass ducks in the United States come from the same district, the vast breeding grounds in Alaska. The ducks, flying to the southward, take up their various lines of flight over the lakes of the northwestern states, like Minnesota, thence down to the Chesapeake marshes, and going to the west of the Rocky mountains, they come to the feeding grounds which line the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers. The birds come from the same breeding grounds, they get the same food in our Susan marshes as they do on the Chesapeake—to wit, the wild oyster, Apium graveolens. In short, the birds are exactly the same. They differ only in price.—San Francisco Argonaut.

A Godsend.

The Kepneke Journal tells this story about a Maine man named Godsend Larkin: "His grandfather died before he was born, leaving in trust a large property to his first grandson, then unborn. None of his four sons were at the time married, but they hurried around and soon removed that impediment. This queer retired individual was the first grandson of the old gentleman to make his appearance on earth, and his mother remarked to the clergyman at the baptism that he was a godsend. The clergyman understood that was to be the name and so christened him."

It Works Well.

"Do you believe that honesty is the best policy, Robbin?" "Most assuredly. I make all my money out of my honest customers."—Detroit Free Press.

The Japanese government issues every day three weather charts, which include observations in China and the Liu-Shu islands, enabling captials to ascertain the movements of storms several days in advance.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Christian Brethren—Again we have the privilege of uniting with believers in all lands, in special union of prayer and confession, with thanksgiving.

Beyond question, the need is great. On the one hand, a civilization which gathers to itself increasing luxuries, and prides itself on its ever enlarging dominion; is averse to repentance and prayer. And on the other hand, many who suffer and are wronged, are ready to conclude that God neither sees nor hears our cries.

Even the church is tempted from the true simplicity and strength of faith. The very advance of the kingdom may appear to some to call for Christian activity, rather than for lowly supplication.

Meanwhile, God's promises as the hearer and answerer of prayer, and His requirement of contrite confession, are unchanged. God is constantly proving that prayer brings blessings not otherwise to be obtained. Let us, then, join with our brethren in humble confession and earnest, grateful petition.

In behalf of the Evangelical Alliance for the United States.

In accordance with the above "Invitation" union services will be held in different churches of the town at 7.30 o'clock every evening next week, except Saturday, as indicated below. All are cordially invited.

Slang in Colleges.

Annapolis and West Point seemed famous in this line and should their lists increase to a much greater degree it will be necessary to publish dictionaries to enlighten visitors. Any of you who have been to Annapolis have heard the remark that a certain cadet "bliged because he gauged;" and who would guess the sentence translated runs "the cadet was expelled because he cheated." You would be puzzled if told that Cadet Brown was "trayed," and so could go out in town after the "femmes," he was to "dreg" to the hop; but it means only that he has privileges which enable him to go out of the yard for the girl he is to escort to the ball. The ship carpenter goes by the name of "ships," and the dignified chaplain is dubbed "the sky pilot."

At West Point a modest little maiden was greatly startled by a cadet's asking her to "spoon" with him the next day at four-thirty. She drew herself up haughtily and was about to administer a rebuke when the youth hastened to explain that at West Point "to spoon" meant to take a girl walking. At Wesleyan the boys call the co-eds "quail," and their dormitory the "quail roost." To "sport the oak" at Oxford means that the outer door is closed and the public excluded.—Baltimore Sun.

"The Regular Army Man."

The following verse, which have a decidedly Kipling-like flavor, are from a private soldier in the 12th United States Infantry, on duty in the Philippines, the regiment in which several New Bern boys are enlisted.

He ain't no gold-lace "Belvedere," Ter sparkle in the sun; He don't parade with gay stockade, And pines in his gun; He ain't no "pretty soldier boy," So lovely, sprick and span, He wears a crust of tan and dust, The regular army man!

The marulin's parolin', Pipe-clay starchin' Regular army man. He ain't at home in Sunday school, Nor yet at social tea, And on the day he gets his pay He ain't apt to spend it free; He ain't no temp'rance advocate, He likes ter fill the can; He'll wear a rough 'un, maybe tough, The regular army man!

The regular army man: The marin's parolin', Pipe-clay starchin' Regular army man. No State'll call him "noble son," He ain't no ladies' pet, But let a row start anyhow, They'll send for him you bet! He don't cut any ice at all In fashion's social pal, He gets the job ter face a mob, The regular army man; The millin' drillin', Made fer killin', Regular army man.

He makes no fuss about the job, He don't talk big or brave He knows he's in to fight and win, Or help fill up a grave; He ain't no "mama's darlin'," but He does the best he can, And he's the chap that wins the scrap, The regular army man: The dandy, handy, Cool and handy, Regular army man.
