NEARBY AFFAIRS.

Matters of Local Interest in the City and Country.

Cotton sales in the local market yesterday were from 7 to 7.40.

It is expected that a mail agent will be put on the Sunday train within a short time.

Rain, followed by clearing weather this afternoon, is the weather bureau forecast.

The Saturday Afternoon Club will meet at 2:30 o'clock today at the residence of Judge H. R. Bryan.

The Wilmington mail train was delayed yesterday by a washout at Pollocksville going south and did not leave there until two o'clock. The return here was made at 9:30 p. m.

The range of temperature yesterday was unusually small, only 10 degrees. The maximum was 60, the minimum 56. The rainfall for 24 hours up to 6 o'clock last night was 1.98 inches.

Appropriate exercises were held at the Graded school yesterday in honor of the memory of Robert R. Lee. The different grades met in the Chapel at one o'clock and there was singing, recitations and reading by the scholars.

The Gaekins Cycle Company is having a gallery built along one side of their store for the exhibition and storage of bicycles. It adds considerably to the floor space which has been scarcely sufficient to hold the stock.

Amos Hatch, a colored man, was found dead a few days ago near Vanceboro. He was missed during the cold spell and it is evident that he lost his way the day of the snow and that he froze to death that night.

The Bades hunting party returned yesterday. The very unseasonable weather interfered with their sport, and the game record was not a satisfactory one to the members of the party, although a good time was had on the trip.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF SUN.

The Wonderful Phenomenon May 28th. Visible in a Narrow Path Across Southern States.

Prof. F. H. Bigelow of Washington has written an interesting statement of the total eclipse of the sun May 28, 1900.

The path of the shadow, he says, will begin at sunrise over the Pacific ocean just to the west of Mexico, and extend thence northward over the Southern States from New Orleans to Norfolk crossing the middle portions of the North Atlantic to Portugal and terminating near the northern end of the Red sea at sunset.

The location of the track in the United States is remarkable for its convenient accessibility to a multitude of people. He estimates that more than half a million persons will see the total eclipse of more or less duration from their homes, and many more will take advantage of the opportunity to see the event of a lifetime.

Educators should encourage their students to see it, and he suggests it would be a popular thing for the railroads to arrange for excursions to the cities and localities affording the most favorable opportunities for a sight, as there are good hotel accommodations through all the sections affected.

The United States Weather Bureau, which has been conducting a cloud survey of the region, predicts the chances for fair weather as almost certain in Georgia and Alabama. The track will pass over Mobile, Montgomery, Macon, Milledgeville, Augusta and Columbus, a little south of Atlanta.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

Hon. F. M. Simmons left yesterday returning to Raleigh.

Dr. D. H. Abbott of Vandemere arrived here last night from Raleigh.

Mrs. E. W. Rosenthal and son returned home last night from the north, where they have been visiting for several weeks.

British Rule.

Theodore S. Woolsey, professor of international law in Yale University says: "The results of British rule in India have been splendid. It has kept the peace, preserved order, built roads, railroads and irrigation works, brought justice to the humblest, lessened famine and pestilence, introduced state education, sanitation and dispensaries, freed trade from many burdens, simplified taxation and has begun to introduce local self-government."

Admiral Dewey says in a letter addressed to the editor of the British Realm: "After many years of wondering I have come to the conclusion that the mightiest factor in the civilization of the world is the imperial policy of England."

True To Life.

Old Subscriber—Well, I guess I'll take your paper another year, but I'll say I don't like to stand for taking the Pillsbury's.

Country Editor—In reply, because I like to please my old subscribers, and I see you are one of the oldest.

Old Subscriber—Yes, Sir, take the paper ever since it started.

Country Editor—Little behind in payments, tho'.

Old Subscriber—That so—how fast? Editor—Well, you paid for the first year you subscribed. That was 1879.

Old Subscriber—Hug! Well I'll pay another dollar for 1899 as much as ever numbers. But I'll say the new that they've got on the Pillsbury's is a new one. I'll give it to you. I'll give you my money out for Pillsbury's and you'll give me my money out for Pillsbury's.

China Manufacturing.

Statistics of China manufacturing for the ten years from 1890 to 1899 show very remarkable changes, the increase in staples being as follows:

Table with columns: Year, Value. Rows: Great Britain, Continental Europe, Southern U. S., Northern U. S., Total U. S., India.

Lewis D. Davis, Editor. "Read the above and you will see how good the Pillsbury's are. It is a good thing when you can get such good news from the Pillsbury's. It is a good thing when you can get such good news from the Pillsbury's. It is a good thing when you can get such good news from the Pillsbury's."

FREE MAIL SERVICE.

Postmaster Hancock Shows Title to Credit of Securing it For New Bern.

THE JOURNAL—An order has been issued by the Post Office Department establishing Free Delivery service for the City of New Bern, N. C. This order has been published and I believe the people of the city have little interest in any question of credit to any individual for procuring the service, therefore I shall not briefly reply to the article by C. R. Thomas, M. C., appearing in your issue of the 19th inst.

This article asserts only by inference. First he inferentially submits that I never applied for Free Delivery, secondly, he inferentially takes the credit for it to himself, and thirdly he inferentially remarks, by the way, that I might suppress information due the public. To the first I will answer that I made personal application to the Department, accompanied by men of influence with this administration, to accomplish that which does not as he says "go into effect by operation of law" but is entirely within the discretion of the Postmaster General Sec. 57 of the Postal Regulations.

To the second I will reply that Mr. Thomas had as little to do with procuring this service as the humblest citizen of our city, and that the credit belongs to the business men who used the stamps and had placed us in a position to ask for the service, and any attempt on the part of Mr. Thomas to assume the credit is small and unworthy of an accredited representative of an honest people.

The inference that I might refuse information is uncalled for and altogether false, as I have published every order received and have given freely all the information I could procure. I would state further that if Mr. Thomas proposes to furnish any information from his own knowledge, the public may as well save their stamps and consult the stars.

SEYMOUR W. HANCOCK, Postmaster.

ONE OF THE VERY FINEST.

The Atlantic Coast Line's Florida Special—Its Schedule Will be Faster Than Ever This Season.

It is now several years since the Atlantic Coast Line, working in connection with the Plant system began operating a special tourist train between New York, Charleston and Florida, and as the railroads kept pace with improved methods and the fastidious traveler the train each year became more complete and handsome, and the schedules quicker. This year it seems as though the high water mark must have been very nearly reached, for it is hard to imagine a more speedy trip than that which will be offered southbound passengers on and after Tuesday, January 16, and also a more comfortable and luxurious train is well impossible to plan.

The train is composed entirely of Pullman cars, made for this particular service and vestibuled, so that passengers pass freely from one car to another, regardless of the speed at which they are traveling and unaffected by wind or weather. Each car is a model of its kind, one a dining car, where the traveler partakes of his meals at hours which suit his convenience and where deft waiters serve the most tempting of dishes, prepared while flying along the steel roadway by a competent chef. The end of the train is always occupied by the "observation car," so uniquely arranged as to give a view almost unobstructed of the scenery along the line of the road. A drawing room car and a library and smoking room are among the advantages of this movable hotel, for it is more like a first-class hotel, with every convenience and comfort, than anything else. But the number of guests is limited strictly to the number of berth accommodations in the magnificently appointed "sleepers," and there is no fear of finding a favorite window seat occupied by a "match and toothpick" customer and always a seat in the dining room.

Then the speed of the leaving New York at 12:45 p. m. the "special" pauses but a moment at Philadelphia at 2:30 p. m. Baltimore is reached at 5:00 the same afternoon and Washington reached at 8:30. Four hours later the "special" makes Richmond and at 7:45 the next morning arrives in Charleston, eighteen hours and a few minutes after the start. From Charleston the same excellent speed is maintained to the several points on the Plant system in Georgia and Florida. For the north bound trip the schedule is also very convenient and speedy. Travelers leaving Charleston at 9:10 p. m. arrive in Richmond at 7:15 in the morning, Washington is made at 11:05 a. m., Baltimore 1:15 p. m., Philadelphia 3:20 p. m., and New York at 5:00 p. m.

An important feature of the tourist special is that no extra charge is made for traveling on this train. The regular fare, with only ordinary Pullman fare added, is charged and the passenger, let it be limited strictly to the capacity of the sleeping cars. —Charleston News and Courier, January 14, 1900.
