ALL SAFE.
No Signs of Small-Pox Spreading at the University.

Will Make a Good Show at Paris. Bankruptcy Decision. Many New Charters For Mills. Aycock's Chances For Governor Not So Easy.

RALEIGH, Jan. 29—President Alderman, of the State University, says there is no spread of smallpox there. The only case is that of the student first attacked. Only one student has left the University on account of the smallpox. Twenty-eight new students since the holidays have been entered, making the total now 610.

A roof is being put on the Carr building. The second story has been reached on the annual hall. It is decided to have at the next commencement special exercises commemorative of the 25th anniversary of the re-opening of the University in 1875. Addresses on the re-birth and development of the University will be made by ex-Presidents Battle and Winston, ex-Professor W. B. Phillips, and President Alderman. Dr. Winston is the only one of the faculty of 1875 now living. A. F. Reed, whose whereabouts is not known. In 1875 there were only 59 students.

From the State Museum there have been shipped to Paris 100 carefully chosen natural history specimens, including 21 species of ducks and five of geese, also a select lot of game birds, not forgetting a bevy of quail in very natural positions. North Carolina will indeed make a brave show at Paris, even though the Legislature failed to make any appropriation.

In a case in bankruptcy in which there was opposition to payment to a temporary receiver of $2,000 a day, Judge Farnell says the rate is allowed; that there is no fixed rule as to rate for payment, but that he is expected to receive and his responsibility in the case of property and its proper disposal is great.

The State charters the Wilson Loan and Trust Company, capital $10,000.

A charter was granted by the State to the Nokomis Cotton Mill at Lexington, capital $100,000. It will both spin and weave. Nearly all these mills have a provision in the charter allowing them to manufacture woolen goods also. J. A. Grimes, G. W. Montcastle and others are the stockholders.

A charter was also granted the S. B. Alexander, Jr., Company, of Charlotte, which will make and deal in electrical machinery and appliances, mainly; capital $35,000.

This month charters have been granted to the Lafayette Knitting Mill at Fayetteville, the Twin City Knitting Mill of Winston-Salem, the Gora Spinning and Weaving Mill in Gaston county, and the Scott-Mebane Company, of Alamance county, which will make overall goods and duck fabrics. So that five mills have been chartered. More than that number have been organized, but have not yet applied for charters.

The North Carolina Teachers' Assembly will again be held at Morehead City, and June 18th is the date. W. T. Whitsett who has been a very efficient secretary resigned and Dr. Charles H. Mebane, State Superintendent of Public Institutions, succeeds him. The president is D. Matt Thompson, of Statesville.

Speaking of the school work going on now in the State, Mr. Thompson said there is great increase in public interest. There is also an increased attendance. The counties are doing more with their schools. Referring particularly to the assembly, Mr. Thompson said he hoped and believed the next meeting would be the best ever held.

Some of the friends of Charles A. Aycock have thought the opposition to him in the Democratic State convention in the contest for the nomination for Governor would be so small that he would win a walk. It is now said the strength of the western aspirants is perhaps greater than was supposed and that there will not be a walk-over.

L. T. Travis, Agent Southern R. R. Sella, Ga., writes, "I can not say too much in praise of One Minute Cough Cure. In my case it worked like a charm." The only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles. P. S. Duffy.

TO PRESS WAR.
Queen's Speech Before Parliament So Declares.

Not Let Up Until Great Britain Attains Her Purposes. English Cavalry Force Safe. Buller's Report on Warren's Withdrawal.

Special to Journal.

LONDON, January 29.—The Queen's speech before Parliament at its re-assembling tomorrow, will indicate the unalterable determination of the country to press the Boer war to a finish.

There will be no let up until Great Britain attains her objects, and the British flag floats over Pretoria and Bloemfontein.

This is not stated in so many words, but in a short reference to the war, which is chiefly confined to regrets for the terrible bloodshed, and praise of the men have laid down their lives for their country, which all goes to show not the slightest idea of giving up the fight until Great Britain's ends are attained.

The speech will also say that England's relations with all foreign States are very friendly, and also expresses great pleasure and gratification at the patriotism shown by her colonies.

The English press is practically a unit for forcing the war.

New York, January 29.—Special—The Journal's Special London Dispatch says, that repeated meetings of the committee for national defense have been held, and that it is reported that it has been decided as a last desperate resort to order General White to try and cut his way out of Ladysmith.

There is little hope of the success of this plan entertained, but there is absolutely no hope whatever now held that General Buller, and British pride will not permit the surrender of ten thousand troops, without striking at least one desperate blow.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Special—The War Office late this afternoon was relieved of a great anxiety by the announcement that Dundonald's cavalry force, which were feared had been isolated among the hills in the neighborhood of Acton Homes, are safe on the south banks of the Tugela river.

A dispatch to the Central News from Spearman's Camp, contains the first news from British sources confronting the Boer reports how the first trenches at Spion Kop surrendered.

The Central news telegram says the ammunition of some of the British troops which had advanced into the first trenches at Spion Kop had become exhausted. The Boers observing this, charged the trenches and captured some of our men. Other British troops however recovered the trenches.

LONDON, January 28.—The following dispatch from General Buller, dated Spearman's Camp, Natal, Saturday, January 27, 6.10 p. m., was made public by the War Office tonight:

"On January 26 Warren drove back the enemy and obtained possession of the southern crests of the high tableland extending from the line of Acton Homes and Hoger's post to the Western Lady's hills. From that time to January 28 he remained in close contact with the enemy.

"The enemy held a strong position on a range of small kopjes stretching from northwest to southeast across the plateau from Acton Homes, through Spion Kop, to the left bank of the Tugela.

"The actual position held by us was perfectly tenable, but did not lend itself to an advance, as the southern slopes were so steep that Warren could not get an effective artillery position, and water supply was a difficulty.

"On January 28 I assented to his attacking Spion Kop, a large hill, indeed a mountain, which was evidently the key of the position, but was far more accessible from the north than from the south.

"On the night of January 28 he attacked Spion Kop, but found it very difficult to hold, as its perimeter was so large and water, which he had been led to believe existed, in this extraordinary dry season was found very deficient.

"The crests were held all that day against severe attacks and a heavy shell fire. Our men fought with great gallantry. I would especially mention the conduct of the Second Camerons and the Third King's Rifles, who supported the attack on the mountain from the steep side and in each case fought their way to the top, and the Second Lancashire Fusiliers and Second Middlesex, who magnificently maintained the best traditions of the British army throughout the trying day of January 28, also, Fitzroy's Mounted Infantry, who fought throughout the day equally well along side of them.

General Woodger, who was in command at the moment, having been wounded, the officer who succeeded him decided on the night of January 28 to abandon the position, and did so before dawn, January 29.

"I reached Warren's camp at 5 a. m. on January 29, and decided that a second attack upon Spion Kop was useless, and that the enemy's night was too strong to allow me to force it.

"Accordingly I decided to withdraw the force to the south of the Tugela. At 3 a m we commenced withdrawing the force, and by 8 a. m. January 29 (Saturday) Warren's force was concentrated south of the Tugela without the loss of a man or a pound of stores.

"The fact that the force could withdraw from actual touch (in some cases the lines were less than one thousand yards apart) with the enemy in the manner it did is, I think, sufficient evidence of the morale of the troops. That we were permitted to withdraw our cumbersome ox and mule transport across the river, 85 yards broad, with 20-foot banks, and a very swift current, unopposed is, I think, proof that the enemy has been taught to respect our soldiers' fighting powers."

Loyal to England.
CALCUTTA, Jan. 28.—A monster meeting of Hindus and Mohammedans in the town hall here yesterday passed a resolution expressing unwavering loyalty and attachment to the Throne and deciding to offer prayers for the victory of the British.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Jan. 28.—At a meeting yesterday of the British residents, Minister Gosling presiding, the plan of Mr. F. Hayes to form a British universal patriotic league, embracing all subjects of the Queen to keep in touch with the mother country, was unanimously adopted. There were cheers for the Queen and the soldiers in South Africa.

Sell to Americans.
WASHINGTON, January 29.—Consul Warner, at Leipzig, Germany, reports to the State Department that many of the textile manufacturers of Saxony have at last come to the conclusion that it is impossible to sell their products in the United States under the present tariff laws, and rather than lose the American market several firms are about to establish factories in this country.
