WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 17, 1900.
CHAR. L. STEVENS, Esq.
Dear Sir:—The attention of those interested in fish and our fisheries is called to enclosed letter from Hon. Geo. M. Bowers, United States Fish Commissioner.

I have requested Mr. Bowers for an especially liberal supply of Shad for the Neuse river and its tributaries.

Respectfully,
CHAR. R. THOMAS,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16, 1900.
Hon. G. M. BOWERS,
House of Representatives.

Dear Sir:—Responding to your letter of March 13th, you are advised that the distribution of shad will commence some time in April. At the Fish Commission station at Edenboro, North Carolina, this work will begin about April 1st, and we hope to secure a sufficient number of young fish to stock all of the rivers of North Carolina. Please advise me what streams you are interested in.

Yours Respectfully,
Geo. M. BOWERS,
Commissioner.

"Also the Holy Ghost, the Comforter."
In this dim world of constant clouding cares,
We seldom know, till our bewildering eyes
See white wings lessening up the opening skies,
That Angels have been with us unawares.

Thou makest our priceless jewels safe,
O Death!
In thy dark valley shales each radiant star,
A glorious Beacon beckoning from afar,
Our light of Love, sweet Hope, and fearless Faith.

Comforter, O comfort us!
Through blinding tears they gleam perennially,
And penetrate affliction's deepest gloom,
Till our eternal cloudless morning comes
To light our souls to immortality!

With our best Branch, in tenderest infant leaf,
We've strewn the way our Blessed Lord doth come
And, ready for the final Harvest-home,
His reapers bind our fall-cared ripened sheaf.

Comforter, O comfort us!
When Earth's probation happily shall end,
And we shall to a nobler life arise,
The song of the Redeemer, with glad surprise,
Its tones with Archangels trumpet shall blend.

When Hope fruition hath—all trials past—
And Faith with rapture trails the "Happy Land"
Where all our loved ones, smiling welcome stand,
Our grief shall find full recompense at last.

Comforter, Yes comfort us!
O weep, no more! There yet is healing Balm
In Gilead. "The Comforter" doth shed rich consolations, and doth always spread
Mid desert sands some green, cool, shady Palm,
God tenderly binds up the hearts that bleed;

The best fruit often loads the broken bough,
And in the deepest wounds that sharp griefs plow
Our pitying Lord sows recompensing seed.

Comforter, O comfort us!

THE FREE STATE QUITS.

Surrendering Their Arms, Fight Near Matking-Joubert at Koonstadt.

London, March 18.—The Daily Mail has received the following dispatch from Julian Ralph, one of its correspondents in South Africa:

Bloemfontein, Orange Free State, March 16.—Lord Roberts is getting in rifles faster even than a factory could turn them out. All along the Free State railway from Springfontein to Bloemfontein at every station Boers are coming to surrender Mausers, Martins and pistols. Before the police headquarters here there is a long line of burghers, who are giving up their arms; 500 have already done so. Throughout the country 3,500 rifles and other arms were handed in today. Eight hundred men have laid down their arms on the Basutoand border.

The whole southern half of the State shows a determination to end the struggle. It seems certain that if a British official can reach the northern laagers with Roberts' proclamation the whole population will declare for peace.

Each man handing in his arms signs under oath a declaration "not to take up arms against the British Government during the present war, nor to furnish assistance or information about the British forces to the republican forces and to remain quietly in my home until the war is over."

The newspaper Friend, or the Free State, advocates British rule.

CAPE TOWN, March 18.—The Matking relief column, Colonel's Drummond and Peckham commanding, had a sharp engagement at Fourteen Streams. The British succeeded in driving the Boers off. They had only a few losses.

PRETORIA, via Lorenzo Marquez, March 16.—The military situation is quiet. Generals Joubert and Botha have arrived at Koonstadt, where they are consulting Presidents Kruger and Steyn as to the new defensive measures.

Wm. Orr, Newark, O., says, "We never feel safe without One Minute Cough Cure in the house. It saved my little boy's life when he had the pneumonia. We think it is the best medicine made." It cures coughs and all lung diseases. Pleasant to take, harmless and gives immediate results. F. S. Duffy.
