There must always be persons who are suspicious about every thing, be it shadow or reality, and yet it would seem impossible that any one could assoclate a much needed public improvement, a saving to every taxpayer, with the ordinary run of politics.

The municipal ownership of the water and sewerage properties is a distinct basiness proposition

It means that the purchase of these systems by the city is for the benefit of the city, therefore the property owners and tax payers, must become in degree own ers of these properties, or so much so as to yearly affect the amount of their

There is only a business view to be taken by every voter on this matter of voting for bonds, and a study of the subject will show that it is good business that the city shall control water and sewer, both for the public health and for the individual benefit of every tax

To essociate politics in this matter is worse than allly, it borders on idlocy. Deafaces Cannot Be Cured

Old Hi Drew, who lives in a village not 40 miles away, came into towa last week on the siy to buy a birthday gift for his wife. He cast about vigorously and struggled in a valiant way through the crowds, finally being washed ashore in the doorway of a hardware establishment. Despairing of fighting his way any further, he made up his mind to make his purchase right there. Martha wanted a new store, anyway, 80 he allowed himself to be taken in hand by an energetic salesman and had soon purchased for $21 an article that was guaranteed to cook anything and everything all at one time. He had it expressed out to the village and by cunning strategy succeeded in getting it set up in the kitchen the next morning without Martha's knowledge. Then he turned it over carefully and picked off every particle of the old decaying cauvas, revesling the rear surface of the paint itself. It was a hig job and required no end of patience, but the last thread was finally removed, and nothing was left but the fragile shell of pigment. "In a few hours it was perfectly dry, and the painting was as firmly affached to its new foundation as if it had been there from the start. Nothing then remained but to take off the manila paper, which was readily done with hot water. After that the surface was thoroughly cleaned, and the picture is now almost as bright and clear as it was when it left the painter's casel. The owner could hardly believe his eyes. It seemed to him that a vertiable miracle had been accomplished."

Bugland's Boy Choirs.

Julian Halph, writing of "The Choir Craven Gounty. Court Cys of England," in The Ladles'

The National Bank of New Bern Boys of Engiand." In The Ladles' Home Journal, says: "Small boys are much preferred, for the reason that they develop into manhood later than big, staiwart children, for it is at the coming of manhood that their voices break and they are obliged to stop singing until their adult tones are reached—a matter of years. A boyish treble is as delicate as the bloom on a peach, and its possessor must lead an orderly and innocent life, which is why so many choirs are made up of boys taken from their homes and boarded and taught to church institutions. These, sometimes, are able to sing until they are 17 or 18 years of age, though between 14 and 15 is the usual period when their voices break."
