HOW LONG IS THIS TO CONTINUE? To the great majority of the Demo crats of North Carolina the eight, sound or even reading of the name of Marion Butler is the most obnoxious thing pos-

This North Carolina Senstor has been more generally and generously "cussed State, and yet strange to may this same man comes forward in each presidential campaign, talking with Democrats in the most familiar manner; discusses Democratic National political affairs, and knowingly predicts this or that as the probable outcome for the Democrats.

The following interview appeared in the Washington Post a few days ago and shows the supreme nerve and Impudence of Marion Sutler, and yet such Interviews are published in State Democratic newspapers without rebuke, rathef more as if such forecastings, and from such a source were favorable for

The interview says:

The interview says:

"It can be set down for certain," said Mr. Butler, "that the Democrate will not deviate from their devotion to the free coloage of silver. The Kansas City platform will be for 15 to 1 beyond any doubt. It may be that the phrasoclogy of the financial plank will be changed from 1856 in order to meet the new developments afnoe that time, such as the enactment of the gold standard law, but the utterance will be the same in affect."

"How about the Vice Presidency?"

"Of course I would be glad to see the Democrate nominate Mr. Towne, but there will be no friction if some one in placed on the ticket with Mr. Bryan who is as good as Bryan himself. I want to see the Kaham City convention nominate for Vice President some one who would be acceptable as President if Bryan were not to be given first place. If the Democrate do this there will be no trouble about an agreement. We shall then see two Vice President and each one saying in self-earlifeing way, that his own parsonal intervets are Here again is the familiar anggestion of a joint Pop-Dem electoral ticket for 1000 in North Carolina, as was made in 800; and further the same old talk of "Union the Democrate do some foolish thing not now anticipated," why the mutual Pop-Dem number will be elected. How much longer is this kind of But-er Democracy going to continue aparently acceptable, and to go ware-of the birds to vary the monotony of their life in captivity. That was the opinion of Mrs. Mandsley, the wife of the Central American explorer, until she lived in the forest region near Copus, where she as we the parrots in a state of perfect freedom indulging in all the feats practiced by their caged

Coffee and Kehab Sellers, Boot bineks and Sarbers.

Dissola and Barbera.

The Turkish cafe ji, or coffee seller, is an omniprescut feature of oriental life, and one has but to cry out "Cafe ji?" without even taking the trouble to turn his head, and in a trice a tiny cup of Turkish coffee, black and full of sediment, has smoking hot, before him. At moon business is particularly brink, for every clerk and every wnyfarer desires to supplement his luncheou of bread and cheese or bread and lettuce or garlle with the beloved beverage.

If at any time you desire to supplement your coffee with a morsel of delicious fish or a tender, julcy kebab, strung on a spit and broiled over a charcoal bracker in the open air, give but the word, and the wandering kebab ji will be only loo glad to turn an honest penny and cook your dinner in the sight of all men.

The shoeldacks are perhaps the most persistent of all the street criers. If one has a stationary position, he contents himself with beating a perpetual tattoo on his ornate brass stand, calling lustily meanwhile, "Lustrad ji, instrad ji!" But if he is a rover he follows a prespective customer for streets, imploring the public to look at those shoes so sadly in need of his attention.

Lastir, but not least in this kaleido-of his attention.

Lastly, but not least in this kaleidoscopic procession of business men, comes the Turkish barber, whose repertory includes also the offices of chiropodist, dentist and leech. Setting up his umbrella in the shade of some friendly tree, he is soon ready to attend to the needs of his patrons. Surrounded by an intecested crowd of street gamins, he pulls teeth

Old Pashloned Dinners the Beat.
Many people who are constantly trylag to concert new and tampting dishes overstep the mark. People who and large quantities of the various preserved foods are not always the strongest. The old fashloned meal of roasted or boiled heef nerved with its own juices, with two plain vegetables and a pudding, was farmere wholesome than the eight course dinner which is surved nowadays. Few people know the true flavor of pointness or rice. In this country seasoning to often manus salt and pepper only. People in the surier countries, especially the Turks, make most delightful atoward coups by using a combination of vegetables, cooking them slowly enough to draw out the flavor. Estracts and made flows radials may be taken now and then, perseps to mirantage; but, as a rule, things of this kind should be avoided or used eparingly.—Ladles' Home fournal.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Billousness Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appen-dicitis. Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermenta-tion of digested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few, doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you, For sale by F'S Duffy.
