SOME HOPE.

The Legations Said To Be Holding Out At Peking.

Aided By Prince Ching. Battle At Tien Tsin, Chinese Beaten.

Japan Heads the Allied Relief Force

Special to Journal.

London, July 9.—The Chinese opened fire on Tien Tsin early on the morning of July 4th, using twelve cannon.

A thousand of the Allies advanced against them, covered by the fire from the Asiatic Royal Artillery (British).

The Chinese forces retired early in the afternoon. Their shell fire at the European settlement in Tien Tsin was very accurate. The native city was also shelled. The Allied forces engaged amounted to ninety-two hundred men. About eighty thousand Chinese surrounded the city.

The foreign consuls at Shanghai on July 7, officially announced that the legations at Peking were safe only July 4. The statement makes it possible to believe that they will hold out for a number of days yet.

There are grounds for the belief that Prince Ching and his army in Peking protected the legations against Prince Tuan's army and the Boxers. Reports from Shanghai repeat that the Europeans in Peking are killed.

The foreign settlement at Chifu is commanded by two Chinese forts, equipped with Krupp guns, which command two sides of the city. Six warships, including the United States gunboat Nashville, are constantly alerted for action.

An allied reconnaissance from Tien Tsin was attacked by the Chinese July 1st from three directions. A Russian detachment used as a bridge guard was placed in a desperate situation and suffered severely in wounded.

The great strength of the Chinese forces is a great surprise to all the authorities. Embassies of the Boxers from Peking are as far south as Shanghai to enlist followers.

Washington, July 9.—Special.—All the available United States transports are ordered sent to Cuba and Porto Rico. They are to carry troops to China.

It is announced that a Japanese officer will command the allied forces for the relief of Peking. Japan is sending twenty-three thousand men and five thousand horses to China.

The United States cruiser Brooklyn, with Admiral Remy aboard, at Chefoo Saturday, 48 hours from Nagasaki, and proceeded to take with 300 marines, intending to make a landing Sunday morning. The Ninth Regiment, United States Infantry, passed Chifu Friday on the way to Taku.

The battleship Oregon sails for Kobe, Japan, tomorrow. The Nashville, Captain Rodgers, proceeded Sunday morning to aid the Oregon divers patches the rent in the bottom of the Oregon and the pumps keep the water down.

RALEIGH.

Aycock's Great Campaign. Weather Has Moderated. Declares For Amendment.

Special to Journal.

RALEIGH, July 9.—Charles S. Aycock was here today, for the first time in over a month, on his way to Lenoir to speak. He looks very well. When asked how he was standing the arduous campaign he replied: "I am very well, but have lost ten pounds in weight. I am very greatly pleased with the conditions in Western North Carolina. I have spoken in every county west of Greensboro except Clay and Polk. In several of these counties I spoke twice. I have made 86 speeches so far during the campaign. The labor is immense, especially in view of the intensely hot weather. I will now speak in the central counties and will go to some of the extreme eastern counties, such as Carteret, Onslow and Jones."

A term of the criminal court for the county began here today, Judge Bowman presiding. There is not a capital case on the docket.

Dr. Joel Whitaker of the Raleigh Athletic Association returned from Baltimore last night, having secured four base ball players for the Raleigh team, a pitcher named Horne, a batsman and two outfielders.

There is some mitigation of the intense heat, rain having fallen near here yesterday afternoon. The temperature yesterday, was 90. The heat has not hurt the crops. The cotton is remarkably fine.

Representative "Jack" Reinhardt, of Lincoln county, who last year and this year in the legislature voted against the franchise amendment to the constitution, has at last declared for it publicly at a speech in Denver in his county.

O. O. Caldwell, who was the Populist member of the Railway Commission appointed by Gov. Russell is here. He has declared himself in favor of the amendment.

NOT A LARGE PART.

United States Will Not Be Able To Do Much In China.

Washington, July 9th.—Unless the trouble in China is long drawn out, the United States will play a very small military part in its settlement. That was made certain when a conference of members of the Cabinet participated in by Gen. Otis, decided that Gen. McArthur was right in asking that no more troops be taken from the Philippines, to be sent to China, because of the danger that their removal might be taken advantage of by the Philippines to renew the revolution, and decided that no more would be ordered from there.

All the advisers from China indicate that a very large army will be needed to punish the Chinese, that even if three months were to be consumed in gathering that army, the United States could not have at the outside more than six or seven thousand soldiers in China, if no more are to be taken from the Philippines. How this will strike public sentiment in this country will be better known when the fate of the Americans who were in Peking is absolutely known, and not guessed at from a thousand conflicting rumors, as at present. If our citizens have not been harmed, this country may be willing that other nations shall do most of the fighting in China, but if our citizens have been murdered, our people are likely to demand a larger share in the duty of revenging them.
