Allied Army at Last Marching To Save the Legations.

Congress Message of 22nd Authentic. It is Confirmed. American Force is 8,000. Hurry Appeal From Ministers.

Special to Journal. WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The allies began the advance upon Peking this morning.

The Americans, British, and Japanese troops led the movement. An advance base will be formed twenty or thirty miles nearer Peking than the present location. Supplies will be gathered there preparatory to a direct stroke at Peking. The Japanese forces will capture Yangse Tung in three days. The Japanese report fifteen thousand Chinese well entrenched near Yangse Tung.

A hurry call for aid has been received from the besieged legations at Peking. The Russians are preparing to advance their transportation is nearly ready. The Americans have train transportation, the Japanese have junks for river passage and also a pack train. The Fourteenth Regiment has been hurried ahead and is now in the American column which now numbers 3,000 men. The cavalry may arrive too late to take part in the early advance.

The allied army now number about 30,000 men, half of them Japanese. The message received yesterday from Edwin H. Conger, at Peking, seems to admit of no doubt as to its authenticity. Col. Aaron S. Daggett, one of the American officers at Tientsin, cables under date of July 27 that a message just received there from Mr. Conger says that since July 10 there has been no firing at Peking. He says the foreigners are all safe and well and have provisions for several weeks, but no ammunition.

Whether the foreigners can maintain their resistance for 10 days longer should be a matter of doubt, but whatever the situation that may be presented before Peking there is no longer question that the first determined attempt for their rescue is now about being made.

Minister Wu gives out a message he has received today that the Ministers are safe and that the government is protecting them.

Raleigh Beats Durham.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, August 1.—The Raleigh team defeated Durham today by a score of 9 to 7. Hits were Raleigh 10, Durham 13. Errors were Raleigh 1, Durham 8. Batteries, Raleigh, Quick, Bevans and Parsons and Manners. Durham, Mangum and Donahower and LeGrand.

Carolina's Day Of Promise Sees Sure Victory In Sight.

Ordering Out Troops Was Silly Business. Feeling Against Butler. Will He Leave the State? Simmons' Forecast.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, August 1.—The Raleigh company of the State Guard, which was last evening ordered to go to Smithfield, but was recalled when it reached the railway station here, remained in the armory all night and was on waiting orders there today. Little groups of the soldiers were on the street in front of the armory.

The order for the troops was a silly piece of business; silly politics on the part of Republican Editor Parker of Smithfield, who asked for them, and silly on Governor Russell's part. The who's thing played into the Democratic hands. It was a false step of the most pronounced kind.

At Democratic Headquarters today everything was very quiet. Chairman Simmons was receiving news of the outlook, all good. F. S. Sprull came in with good news from Caldwell county, saying it will give a good Democratic majority. The Democrats will carry the Iredell Senatorial district, which it was feared they would lose. Meibowell county will give the Democrats a good majority.

Republican Chairman Holton has gone to Greensboro. He said to a gentleman yesterday "It is a shame to take my job from me when I am serving the State." What he referred to was the charge of offensive partnership laid at his door by State Chairman Simmons and which the civil service commissioner will investigate.

Senator Butler is here. He actually rides in a carriage at night the one block between his hotel and his headquarters. No one save his followers notice him. He is made that he will not vote tomorrow. Feeling against him is high. There was a good deal of talk today about the declaration made elsewhere that he ought to be driven from the state. It was said he would leave in 24 hours after the election.

Chairman Simmons is confident of victory, if the Democrats will do their duty.

"The Democrats are ready for the election," he said last night. "Our organization is more perfect than it ever has been. The indications are that we will poll the biggest vote ever polled in the State. The State ticket will be elected and the amendment will be adopted by the largest majorities ever given in this State since the war, and we will have a large majority in both branches of the Legislature."

"I don't anticipate any trouble, either before or during the day of election. Our enemies have done their utmost to provoke the Democrats, but the conservatism and patience of our people have restrained them. While our people have not courted trouble, and have earnestly desired to avoid it, still they will protect themselves against any invasion of their personal and political rights."

"I look for and hope we will have a peaceful election, and I am sure our majority will be such an overwhelming verdict of the white people of the State in favor of eliminating the ignorant and vicious negro vote of the State that this race question will forever hereafter be regarded as a settled question in North Carolina. Many months ago I predicted when the people came to understand the amendment, as they would before the election that there would be such a coming together of the white people in favor of the amendment and the candidates representing White Supremacy as had never before taken place in the State. The result of the election will verify this prediction."

Card.

To the voters of Craven county: I hereby announce myself as an independent candidate for the House of Representatives from Craven county. For my platform I refer to my acts while a member of the Legislature in 1896 and 1898. It has been rumored that if I ran as a candidate I would not remain in the field. I desire to state that I am in the race to remain until the polls are closed. Respectfully, R. P. WILLIAMS.

To the Republicans of Craven County: At the request of the Republican State Executive Committee, your central campaign committee by authority invested in them by the Republican County Executive committee have endorsed Mr. J. S. Bassight the Populist nominee for the Legislature and your committee earnestly request for him the undivided and loyal support of all the Republicans of Craven county. Respt. HAZDOCK, Chairman.

ON THE EVE.

Russell Has The Military Ready To "Quell Disturbances."

Butler Calls Down Bellamy. Says to "Come On." Shepherd On Election Writes. The Final Estimate.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, August 1.—Governor Russell has kept the local military in the State armory all day awaiting orders and will keep them there all day tomorrow. He says that it is done that they can go anywhere at once in case of real trouble.

Chairman Simmons says that it is the most outrageous thing the Governor has ever done to thus have troops under orders when there is no disturbance and that Marion Butler influenced the Governor to do it.

It is freely said by Democrats tonight that it makes the Governor liable to impeachment as it violates both the constitution and the law.

Senator Butler has written a personal letter to Congressman Bellamy today in which he refers to Bellamy's statement that Democrats should forcibly expel him from the State.

Butler asks Bellamy whether he means that he will do it himself or that a "certain" lawyer should do it. He suggests to Bellamy to come to Raleigh and begin the expelling business immediately and if he has not the courage to do it, to keep his mouth shut.

The feeling against Butler is intense. No man was ever so hated in North Carolina. In many counties the people are saying that they don't think Butler should be permitted to remain in the State. His letter will intensify the feeling against him.

Ex-Judge Shepherd says that any thing being attempted, if such a thing is attempted, will be void and not binding upon anybody.

Chairman Simmons tonight estimates the majority for the Amendment at forty thousand.
