NEAR PEKIN.

Alies Likely to be at Pekin Now. Ninth Cavalry to Sail.

Special to Journal.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—The Legations at Peking are reported as still safe, with ten days rations on hand.

The allies have reached Ching Chai Wan, thus leaving only one more important city to pass before reaching Peking.

From a Russian source it is announced that the bombardment of the foreign legations at Peking is resumed.

The Ninth Cavalry leaves San Francisco August 16th, for China.

Played His Client False.

"I shall have to make a lawyer out of that boy of mine. I don't see any other way out of it," declared the well known attorney, with a laugh. "He came into my office the other day on his way home from school and laid a nickel down on the desk before me.

"What is this for, son?" I asked.

"Retainer," he answered soberly.

"Very well," said I, entering into the joke. "What have I been retained upon?"

"My boy dug down into his pocket and produced a note from his teacher and placed it before me without comment. It was to the effect that he had been 'cutting up' and advised a whip-plug."

"Now, what would you advise?" asked he in a businesslike voice after I had read the note and saw the trap that young rascal had me into.

"I think that our first move should be to apply for a change of venue," said I.

"Very well," he answered. "You're handling the case."

"Then we will turn the note over to your mother," said I.

"I saw the young imp's face fall at this, but he braced up and said:

"See here, pop, you're bound to see me through on this, 'cause you've accepted my retainer, you know!"

"I'll argue your case before the court," I answered, but you will have to accept the decision. I would not dare to attempt to influence the court."

"Well, I pleaded the boy's case, promptly had it thrown out of court, and the boy got what he deserved—a good whipping."

"It was the first time I ever played false to a client."—Detroit Free Press.

Horses Wounded in Battle.

Horses wounded on the battlefield are duly attended to when no danger to human life is involved. The veterinary officer in charge is expected to follow close on the fighting line and, together with a number of aids, to give proper instructions for their removal or slaughter, as the case may be. The veterinary surgeon is naturally exposed to considerable danger, but if his work is not carried out during the progress of hostilities in all probability it cannot be accomplished afterward, for, although the regular army medical corps is allowed to proceed to the rescue of the wounded men under the Red Cross, the members of the army veterinary department are not permitted to attend to the injured horses, because they are not under the protection of the Geneva convention, which makes no provision whatsoever for wounded animals.

At the conclusion of the battle, if it has been decisive and one or other of the combatant armies has been driven from the field, a party of veterinary surgeons, with their assistants, is sent out to examine every animal that has fallen and to shoot such as are badly wounded. Those suffering from only slight injuries are collected and taken to the veterinary hospital lines, formed as fixed camps and established on a similar basis to those of the royal army medical corps.—Pearson's Magazine.

A Dry Smoke.

If you see a man with an unlighted cigar between his lips, it is not because he is looking for a light, but because he is indulging in the pleasure of a "dry smoke." How there can be any enjoyment in this to a smoker is not readily apparent, but the fact remains that there is such satisfaction in the habit, and, besides, there are no baneful effects.

Fonkrettsmokers the dry smoke is a good habit to cultivate. It enables many slaves of the weed to decrease the number of cigars actually smoked in a day without causing much inconvenience. Of course an inveterate smoker would find no pleasure in the habit at the start, but perseverance is necessary, and after awhile he will enjoy his dry smoke almost as much as the real one. It is a good way to begin if you desire to stop smoking. Try it and see.—New York Herald.

Got His Money's Worth.

Foyer—You seemed to enjoy the vandyville show hugely last evening.

Lobby—It was terrible.

Foyer—But you laughed as though you'd die.

Lobby—Yes; I couldn't help thinking how funny it was that I should sit there and be tortured.

The quicker you stop a cough or cold the less danger there will be of fatal lung trouble. One Minute Cough Cure is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. You will like it. F. S. Duffy.

RALEIGH.

Changes to be Asked For in Craig Law.

Funds Raised For St. Mary's School. Typhoid on Decrease Government Money Due This State Silk Mill Enterprise.

Special to Journal.

RALEIGH, August 14.—Rev. Mr. Pruden has raised over $10,000 for St. Mary's school during the last six months a home for the principal of the school, Rev. Dr. Bratton is being built on the grounds.

Only two cases of typhoid fever have developed in Raleigh since August 1st. This is a great falling off from the July record.

The pictures of Vance's statue have been taken and are in great demand here.

Dr. George A. Renna of Raleigh yesterday received an appointment as U. S. army surgeon and leaves on Saturday for San Francisco.

The Louisville Mercantile company was yesterday incorporated.

The Government owes North Carolina about $10,000 for Spanish war claims. Of this $6,000 is for individual claims and $4,000 for State. Mr. J. C. L. Harris has gone to Washington today to try and secure a settlement. The State claims are for military supplies taken from State arsenals.

A number of New York men have decided to open up a new water pipe here in the shape of a silk mill.

Insurance Commissioner Young will make suggestions to the Legislature next winter regarding the insurance law. The Craig law will be asked to be amended in two important particulars as follows:

1. The Craig law will be expressly declared inapplicable to insurance companies, but its purpose will be accomplished by a provision to the effect that the removal of a case from State to Federal court by an insurance company may be sufficient cause for the Commissioner annulling that company's license in the State and refusing future renewal of the same.

2. "Benevolent" and "mutual" insurance companies will be put under practically the same rules and regulations as other regular companies—paying the same taxes and complying with the same rules as to condition and standing. There has recently sprung up a very great number of these companies and considerable complaint is made of their method of doing business and failure to settle policies that are due.

OLD PARTIES DENOUNCED.

Advocates of a Third Ticket. Want Anti-Imperialists to Join Support of Their Ticket.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., August 13.—Delegates to the convention of the National or Third Party ticket are beginning to arrive. This party originated at the time of the meeting of the Gold Democratic Committee in this city. At that time there was a committee of eleven sent here to confer with the Gold Committee and urge it to recommend the nomination of a third ticket. Falling in this they issued a call for a national convention to be held in this city August 14th and 15th. Previous to this the anti-imperialists had issued a call for a convention to be held in this city August 15th and 16th.

The members of the National party hope to form an alliance with the anti-imperialists, and the hope that the anti-imperialists will endorse the ticket they nominate.

Louis R. Ehrlich, of Colorado Springs, Col., will be the presiding officer of the convention, and Isaac Klein, of New York, will be secretary.

To-day a conference was held at headquarters and the following statements issued:

"A mass convention is hereby called to meet in Indianapolis at 2 p. m. August 14th to nominate, or co-optate in the nomination of candidates for President and Vice-President upon a platform substantially as follows:

"The Democratic party is conducting a direct attack upon the institutions of our country. It advocates dishonest money and threatens the integrity of the judiciary.

"The Republican party is conducting an indirect attack upon the institutions of our country. At home it corrupts the public morals by selling public offices and special privileges to the dishonest contributions to party assets; abroad it wages a wicked war of conquest in violation of the principles of the Declaration of Independence.

WHAT HE FAVORS.

Marion Butler Wants Bryan and Populist Vice President.

Special to Journal.

CHICAGO, August 14.—Senator Marion Butler in an interview, says, he is not for McKinley as reported, but is for Bryan and Populist nominee for Vice President.

He favors the National Populist committee nominating a candidate for Vice President at its meeting on August 27th.

The Populist executive committee is called to a district convention, to meet September 11th.

HUNG IN MID AIR.

W. J. Bryan, Jr. Saved from Death by General Joe Wheeler.

CHICAGO, August 13.—General Joseph Wheeler, commander of the Department of the Lakes, to-day saved the life of W. J. Bryan, Jr., the twelve-year-old son of the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

The lad visited General Wheeler, and the latter after his first greeting turned to his work and allowed the youngster to amuse himself as best he might.

Young Bryan found a loose chair caster and a big bundle of rubber bands. These he tied into a long string and then, securing the caster to the bottom, went to a window and began bouncing the piece of iron up and down on the sidewalk seventy-five feet below.

The General, engrossed with his labors, paid no attention to the boy who gradually became so interested in his play that he leaned further and further out of the window.

"Fighting Joe" happened to glance up a few moments later and was horrified to see the lad hanging with his whole body over the sidewalk and only the toes of his shoes clutching the angle of the window. He sat agape for a moment and then rushing to the window he pulled the lad in by his legs and landed him safely on the floor.

General Wheeler acknowledged that young Bryan was within an inch of being dashed to death on the pavement below when he caught sight of him.
