THE RACE ISSUE IN NORTH CAROLINA DIED AUGUST 2ND, 1900.

(From Biblical Recorder, August 15th, Mr. Aycock, elected Governor of North Carolina August 2, promised the people in every speech be made, that if they would join with him in passing the Amendment depriving ignorant negroes of the suffrage, race antagonism should no longer be an issue in North Carolina politics. This promise he made in more than a hundred speeches, in the hearing of 200,000 people all told. Thousands and tens of thousands voted for the, Amend ment on this promise. Mr. Aycock is a man of his word, and as a leader of his party he will keep this promise. But for faith in him the prompt raising of the cry, within three days after the ratification of the Amendment, of "Negro. Negro, Negro," for the purpose of confusing issues in the National election, the campaign of which is now beginning, by an induential paper of the party that proposed the Amendment and is pledged to this promise, we would be heart sick and disgusted. In these columns the pee ple were assured that if the ignorant negro were eliminated from the body politic, new and larger and nobler issues should be freely discussed, and camlife paigus should be waged independently of the race issue on the merits of records made, measures proposed and men nominated. By every holy obligation, this writer shall strive to make that assurance sure. He is amazed that the race issue was so quickly and boldly raised again; he cannot but regard the action as a breach of faith. But all the powers on earth can not put life in it sufficient to give him pause in his purpose of helping create a freer and a fuller public life in North Carolina. We have forgotten the things that are behind and are pressing on. If others choose to endeavor to make battle over dead issues, let them; and let them go the way of death. The fact that the negroes have the suffrage in the next general election does not threaten us in the remotest degree with negro domination. It is true that President McKinley has appointed some negro officials, and may appoint others; but in the nature of the case he can not appoint many. In view of the disgrace some of his colored appointees have brought upon his administration, he will not be quick to appoint more. In view of the number of white men of his party who want offices, he will not have places falls is the least of matters compared with the question, Shall North Care-linians have freedom and light to think and act ?

The issues of the present campaign are large and high. They will be ignored ee I suffered abm 12 to 14 hours, and had to b at our peril. We have in them an obligation to Heaven. They are well defined President McKinley's policy in Porto of chile bottles of Mother's Friend be child came, which Rico and the Philippines is not a vague one at any rate; the declaration of the Democratic party at Kausas City on this question is plain; the course of the Republican party on the Money question is to within two hours not at all in doubt; and the promise of of birth, and sufthe Democratic party is as plain as day. On the Trust question, the Republicans advocate control, the Democrats do this and go further, making a stroke for reversion to individualism in commerce. These are the major issues, There are minor ones. The platforms will be sent to anyone, and everyone ought to read them carefully. Besides there are other parties; notably the Populist party and the Prohibition party, and their program's are as distinct as the others. They deserve to be considered. And any man who desires to vote for them or for any others, without regard to the race question, has the unquestioned right to do so. Time was when we had to vote in a mass without regard to issues. But we have put that time behind us, and woe to the man who endeavors to bring it back. To attempt to warp one's views or to prejudice his judgment or to compel his action by injecting the race issue -of the bitterness of which God knows North Carolina has had enough-is wrong; with all due respect to those who may do so, is wrong, is wrong against the citizen, is wrong against the negro, is wrong against our State, our Nation against Truth and Light and Progress, wrong against our very children. We warn the Democratic party that its pledge must be kept. Never again shall an honest issue be confused with the race question. Politicians and parties unwilling to stand or fall on their platforms must accept the consequences of their cowardliness. The people have the right to think, and think they shall. The race issue is dead. It died August 2, 1900. And it requires no prophet to write the epitaph of the politician or the party that seeks to bring it back into Justice In Haiti. Judicial procedure in Halti is in cerhin instances not untouched by humor. 'A Haitian owed a trader $28. A adgment requiring the Haitian to pay 84 a week into court was given, and the track was to send a messenger every week to the magistrate for the money. In due time he sent for the first installment and was informed that the Haitian had not paid up, but that he should be thrown into prison for his failure.

Three weeks passed with the same result. One morning the Haitian came to the trader's store. He was, he said, poor man, much married, a man to whom, therefore, expense came. What good, he asked, would accrue to the trader if he, the poor man, was thrown into prison? Let the trader forgive him his debt and earn thereby untold cewards in a future state. After some talk the trader gave him letter of remission, which he went off to present to the magistrate. The af-(nir was settled, but the Haitian was struck by the bad grace with which the magistrate dismissed him, and he forthwith returned to the trader and asked him if he had received the $8 he had already paid into court. The trader looked surprised and said he had received nothing. "Then, since you have remitted the debt, that $8 is mine," said the Haltinn. Accordingly, he went off to the court o present his claim. The magistrate at once committed him to prison. A consul who had heard the story asked the magistrate what the Haitian was for many negroes. In view, moreover, of the fact that the negro vote will not be of weight hereafter he will not have the usual motive to appoint negroes And in view of the protest of the people, he will certaialy be slow to appoint them.

There will be just as much reason, even the same reason, no more and no less, for raising the race question ten years from to-day as there is now: for the President will always have power to appoint negroes. And, hear us, men of North Carolina, if we suffer this issue to be revived this fall, we lose the fruits of the passage of the Amendment. They turnito asher upon our lips. Shall we return into the bondage of blackness and presion from which we have just been delivered? We shall not. Here let those who love Truth and Light and Honor and Progress stand.

The times demand that North Carolina shall contribute to the political life of the nation and the world. There are great questions before us. It will be a moral, social and a political blander if we bark back to the race question when the policy of our Nation in the world is at stake. We can not. Ail noble instincts call us. And more, we will never breed a race of noble men of the larger type so long as we confine our thinking to a local, narrowing, passion-engendering issue: We can hand down no worse legacy to our children than a narrow political life, we can give them nothing uobler than homorable citizenship in a nation whose interests and and influences are wide as the world.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Billionsness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis. Nervous Prostration or Heart fallars, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermenta tion of digested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with besiaches and other aches.
