ARE MUNICIPAL AUTHORITIES LIMITED.

There must always be extremists on both sides of public questions, and on matters relative to municipal affairs, a rumor may be started, and receive credence, even if it appears absurd.

When the matter of municipal owner ship of water works and sewerage was first discussed, there were those who said that such an ownership would invest too much power in those who held office under the city, namely, the Mayor and the Board of Aldermen. That the additional investment of municipal interests should give those elected to administer the affairs of the city, any greater power, needs no argument.

The greater the municipal property, the greater its management must be and this will involve greater labor on the part of those in power, besides the added responsibility.

Invested with office and in control of a city's affairs, there must appear to many a fictitious power surrounding and in municipal authorities.

And yet this authority comes from the tax-payers who may be fearful lest the very men whom they have elected will perform some arbitrary act that shall in jure them, the tax-payers,

What powers have municipal authorities, which really might be termed arbi--trary powers, except those which involve the safety of the community, both as regards law and order, and the public health?

And even on these matters there are rules to govern, which must be observed, even by municipal authorities.

A report a few days ago was heard on the street, that the New Bern authorities were going to force all householders to put sewerage in their premises.

This of course must have grown out of the idea that having the right to enforce sanitation, the authorities had also the right to require all premises to have sewerage.

That such power as this is invested in the local authorities, hardly demands contradiction, and yet persons, property holders, will be disturbed by such an absurd report.

That the municipal authorities bave the right and power to order that every nuisance shall be abated, will not be denied, but to order householders, to be abel to compel householders to put in sewerage, is quite another matter.

And as to this it must not be forgotten that the law requires that public notice be given when changes in existing laws are contemplated, and every citizen can have the privilege of voting on the mat-

And while a Mayor or Board of Aldermen may be willing to have their successors elected, they are not likely to act in a manner that shall cause them to leave their offices in disgrace, and under the displeasure of the citizens of the Clerk and Carrier Ballmingtion.

This examination is held for the reason that the Post-Office Department has stated that at all offices where no substitute force is maintained such a force will be appointed as the result of this examination, so that whenever recancies occur in the regular force there will be no delay in filling the same. It is the untion of the Department as far as very office equal to about 95 per cent.

of the number of regular employees.

This examination will be held at all classified post-offices throughout the country, except those of the first-class, and as a result of the same, in addition to the substitute appointment, vacancies which now exist in the regular force will be filled.

The nature of the examination is a test of practical, general intelligence and of adaptability in post-office work. The age limitations for this examination are Clerk, not less than 18 years.

Carrier, between 21 and 40 years. Applicants for male clerk and carries have the medical certificate in form 101 executed. Applicants for carrier must be at least 5 ft 4 in. In reight, and weigh not less than 125 pounds. Female applicants are not required to have this certificate executed

This examination offers an exceller pportunity for entering the Federal service to bright energetic young persons who are not afraid of hard work, and he Commission hopes that a sufficien number of intelligent, active persons will resont themselves for this exap It may be stated that there is a wider neld for advancement upon marit in the Pederal service than in many private employments, not only by promotion in the same office, but by transfer to other narts of the service.

This examination is open to all officer of the United States who may desire to enter the service, and who comply with the requirements. All such persons are invited to apply, but attention is invited to the fact that from those certified the Department usually selects for appointment eligibles who are residents of the district in which the vacancies exist Applicants will be examined, graded and certified with entire impartiality and wholly without regard to any consideration save their ability as shown by the grade attained in the examination. For application blank (form 101), full natructions, specimen examination ques tions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, and as to whether there are any existing vacancies in this office. applications should be made to the People impresedue. It is experied that a closer acquaint-nce with the great Pan-American Exn to be held at Buffalo next Where there is one reason for the state's correspondition at Paris there are a score of good reasons why it should have an exhibit at Bullaio. The great markets into which this state sends her prodcts are the cities of the United States he state is seeking, not settlers speak ing a foreign tongue, but Americans from any state who are looking for from any state who are looking and grand opportunities for investment of engaging actively in profitable lines of business. Many of our own people do not realize that they have one of the most productive states in the Union and one of the richest in natural re-Both in agricultural products and sibilities and in mineral wealth North Carolina is one of the most favored states of the Union. All agri ultural interests have rapidly advance ed since 1890. The corn crop of 1898 approximated 30,000,000 bushels and that of 1894, 33,000,000 bushels. Much attention has been given to truck farming, and as much as $750,000 worth of produce has been shipped from a single town in one season. Peanuts are extensively grown by our citizens, North Carolina having been at one time almost the only source of supply for the United States. Since 1870 much attention has also been given to grape culboth for the manufacture of wine and the supply of the northern market with grapes. The climate and soil are especially adapted to the culture of the vine, and vineyards are found in almost all sections. It will interest many to learn that no state has within its boundaries so many of the plants used in medicine, the Atlantic slope of the Blue Bidge furnishing 2,500 varietles. One firm annually ships over 2,000,000 pounds, the dried roots, herbs and barks going to all parts of the world.

in the cotton year ending Aug. 31, 1800, the area under cultivation for cotton was 1,311,708 acres and the production 629,620 gross bales. For the year 1899-1900 the area was 1,220,000 and the estimated yield 193 pounds of libt cotton per acre.

The timber lands of North Carolina are one of its most valuable possessions. The great variety of soils and the wide range of climate give rise to a rich and varied forest growth. In the southeastern counties under the influence of the gulf stream are found the magnolias, palmettos, live oaks and other semitropical trees, while on the bigher mountains of the west are the spruces and firs. The state abounds in pines, and from this tree is derived one of its most valuable products-that of turpentine. Out of 22 oaks indige ous to the United States, North Carolina has 19. It has all the light pines, four of the five spruces, six of the eight hickories and all of the seven magnolias. The mineral wealth of North Carolina a as boundless as its agricultural and forest resources, and the further derelopment of this wealth offers great inducements to capitalists seeking investment. They have no need to go Bouth Africa or the golden sands of Cape Nome. There are both gold and silver to be mined in paying quantities in North Carolina. Work is being nuched in the Greer, Cappi Hill, Summerville and other mines in Mecklen burg county; in several mines in Ca barras county, at the Gold Hill, Dutch Creek, and one or two other points in county, Portes mine in Franklin county, Mann-Arrington mine in Nash county and at points, in Stanly and Montgomery countles

Mentgomery counties.
In allyer the most notable activity is at the Silver Hill mines in Davison county and the Troutman, near the di-viding line between Rowan and Cabarras countles. There was a notable gain in gold spining in 1898, the output being 4,004 fine ounces, valued at $84,000.

Copper and Iron mines are being worked, and quarrying is carried on upon an extensive scale. In 1898 there were quarried granite valued at $70,700 and sandstone and limestone valued at and anndatone and limestone valued at $0,100, total, $90,074. The copper oras found include native free copper, cuprite, axurite, mainchite, red. oxide, copper glaze and the green and blue carbonades of copper. There are several promising iron usines in operation. A company has recently been formed in alasons county in mine available of the control of the country in mine available. for the gene rhodelite, also for the ruly, apphire and other corondan gens.

There are extensive beds of mice in the western portion of the state, alica mining showed an increase in 1899, there being 55 mines. What was pronounced to be the finest deposit of magnetic from ove in the nouthern states exists in Ash county, and in November, 1890, a tract of 10,000 acres was lossed by two Pennsylvania sized companies, and railroud extensions to the meat of operations were ordered. A first class exhibit of mice and other minerals at the Pan-American Exposition at Sufface might be the means of attracting the attention of capitalized enterprise toward these invaluable deposits.

A Horse's Stinders. A horse's blinders are usually concave on the inside. True, the surface usually is a dead black, but not abso lutely so, so that a glimmer of light stant cleansing this dead surface is made more or less smooth if not actually glossy and shiny. Moreover, the blinders are usually set at an angle, so that as a result of the law of reflection rays of light concentrated by the conex surface are reflected luto the eyes not directly in the axis of vision, but more or less transversely or obliquely, the result being even more injurious As a result of this reflection the vision s weakened if not destroyed. Moreover, the mirrorlike blinders not only reflect sunlight, but they reflect objects as well, so that a "blinded" iorse sees not only objects directly shead of him, but has a more or less olurred vision of other objects, intermixing with and confusing the image of objects directly before him, and as a consequence he is rendered uncertain in his movements and is easily scared. No further proof of this is needed than the fact that a nervous borse with a reputation for shying and running away often becomes tractable if the olinders are removed, because he can then see distinctly what before could only see indistinctly and confus
