STRIKE REPORTED ENDED.

Details to be Discussed. Price of Hard Coal Will Now be Higher.

Special to Journal.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 29.—The anthracite coal miners strike was practically settled at the conference in New York city today.

The discussion is now merely a question of details. The basis for a settlement of the strike proposed includes an advance in wages and a reduction in the price of powder, so that the earnings of all classes of mine workers will be increased, it is said, 10 per cent. The terms will be submitted to the striking employees of each company regardless of any dealings with the United Mine Workers' officers. The terms are such that the miners are expected to accept.

Several things have caused a change in the operators, who now wish to end the strike as quickly as possible. Among other things, the miners have developed unexpected strength and a long wait is ahead if they are to be starved out. The anthracite users are running short of coal and threaten to change grate bars and use soft coal.

It is conceded by the coal operators and dealers that after the strike ends the price on anthracite coal will never be as low as before.

Hopeful Of Porto Rico.

Special to Journal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—Dr. J. H. Hollander, Treasurer of Porto Rico and Chairman of the Executive Council, is in Washington on official business. Of general conditions on the island he said: "Everything that I have seen and experienced in Porto Rico makes me hopeful of the future of the island. It is rich in natural resources beyond measure. Political agitators are being discounted and blatant demagogues are being relegated to their proper position. The best elements are rallying to the support of American institutions and a gradual but growing influx of American capital is after all the most potent argument."

Weather Conditions.

WASHINGTON, September 29.—For Carolina. Fair Sunday. Light to fresh east winds.

Weather Conditions.—A moderate depression of the barometer is central over the lower lakes and has caused showers over the western States, the Interior, Lake region, and portions of the Atlantic coast States.

The temperature is generally slightly lower from North Carolina northeastward to New England, and has risen in the Ohio valley, lower lake region, and extreme northwest.

Frost occurred in Nebraska during the night.

Fair weather is indicated for this section during the next 36 hours with no material change in temperature. The winds will be mostly easterly, light to fresh.

MAY WITHDRAW.

Talk That Waddell and Jarvis Will Retire From Race.

Special to Journal.

Real State Campaign Opens Monday. Lumber Prices Expected to Rise, Ninth District Campaign, Supreme Court.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, September 29.—The Senatorial fight will next week be livelier than ever. It is now approaching the critical stage. As yet there have been no personalities. Efforts are made to repress these.

Some Democrats are heard to express the opinion that both A. M. Waddell and Thomas J. Jarvis will retire from the race for the United States Senatorship by October 15.

The really active work of the Democratic campaign begins next Monday. The Republicans will begin a little later. There are as yet no signs of Populist activity. Some Democrats express a willingness to bet that the Republicans and Populists will fuse on Congressional candidates in every district.

Arrangements will be made to give the Florida Press Association a very pleasant reception here on the occasion of its visit October 12th, on its way to Richmond.

Among today's arrivals were Robert S. Peebles of Northampton and A. D. Watts of Ireland.

The lumber men are in hope of an early advance in prices. Many mills in this section have run on half time, and there is considerable stock on hand.

State Chairman Simmons will formally open the national campaign in the 9th, district by a speech at Asheville next Wednesday.

The Supreme Court will devote next week to the hearing of appeals from the second district. The dockets at this time are somewhat larger than at the last one.

Kruger's Gold.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Great Britain has sent a note to the Dutch Government, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Daily Mail, which contains a warning that if President Kruger is allowed to carry bullion or State archives on board the Dutch warship which is to bring him to Europe it will be regarded as a breach of neutrality on the part of the Netherlands.

Yerkes Buys The Road.

LONDON, September 28.—Charles T. Yerkes of Chicago today formally acquired control of the Charing Cross, Euston and Hampstead Railway.

He had no sooner become owner of the valuable franchise than two banking houses offered to buy his rights. Mr. Yerkes made it known that he had not come to London to speculate in railway charters, but to build a railway, and therefore he had nothing to sell. He is satisfied he has made a good investment.

After negotiating for a year to acquire a charter to build an underground electric railway he is not going to let it slip through his fingers. For several years this charter had been lying around. It would have died a natural death had not Mr. Yerkes discovered it. Mr. Yerkes is hailed as a man who will bring to London modern rapid transit facilities.

Graded School Lyceum Course.

Enough season tickets have been subscribed for, to justify Sept. Fount in signing the contracts for a course of three concerts and two lectures. The sale of season tickets at the reduced price will close Saturday, October 6th. If there are any who have not been called upon, and they would like to secure these tickets, they can do so this week by seeing Mr. Fount or Mr. G. N. Ennett. The price of each season ticket is $2.25 which will admit the bearer to all five of the entertainments.

The first entertainment will be a concert by Lovetta Boston Stars on Tuesday evening October 16th. Of this company the Hamilton, O., Daily News, says "One of the most delightful Y. M. C. A. entertainments ever given in this city."

How Short Is Your Cotton?

The above is a question usually asked a farmer, and the Journal, seeking information made the query, and from two farmers learned as follows:

The first was about a tract of five acres, and the answer was not much of a crop, but four bales were gathered from it.

The second, was answered, "about half a crop," and upon further investigation it was found that fourteen bales had already been gathered, and it was confessed fourteen more would probably be picked. Last year twenty-four bales was the product from the same land.

These may be exceptions, but the cotton farmer hereabouts need not feel badly over his crop, considering price and other things which may have somewhat reduced his yield.
