To a Fair Sized Audience,

Mr. McLean is no stranger to New Bern, and the attention given last night years ago he sold it for 5 cents, and a by his audience showed the appreciation year ago for six and a fraction. Those u which he is held.

Mr. McLean was introduced by James A. Bryan, Esq., and after speaking a few words in complimentary terms of the people of this city, Mr. McLean spoke of the apathy that was prevalent in North Carolins, when most momentous issues

The reason for this apparent indiffer ence the speaker said was to be expected when it is to be remembered the struggle through which the people of the State had just passed.

But it was necessary that the people should arouse themselves again and go orth to victory.

Mr. McLean reviewed the situation in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, showing that the Republicum party was to blame for the errors and mismanagement that had been going on, and that the liberty which was promised there peoples had never been realized by

If was a fair attendance at the Court House his business is not so adjusted that he last night, to bear the Hon. Dan Hugh can operate his mill on 10 cent cotton it McLean, of Harnett, Elector-at-large, certain that the farmer cannot complain at 10 cents a pound for cotton. Two were not remunerative figures. At 5 cents the average farmer lost money, though some made a profit even at that It was generally figured out that the farmer must have 7 cents to make his ecop pay. But if anyone had told him he would get 10 cents the prophet would have been put down as a dreamer.

But 10 cents a pound is here as a actual fact. More was paid for a while but 10 cents a pound is enough to satisfy the farmer, and it seems probable that the crop conditions and the world's say ply will continue to justify those tigore They make a new era for the Southern farmer. It has been a long time sine he could figure his cotton at $50 a tode and it makes a mighty pleasant basis but figuring.
