MILL STRIKE.

Contest in Alamance County As To Control Of Mills.

Holt Mills Noted For Good Treatment. Cy Thompson On Election. Question Of Shipping Sweet Potatoes, Mebane Injured.

Special to Journal.

RALPH, Oct. 5.—There is a square fight between the cotton mill owners and the labor unions in Alamance county. The operatives in the three Holt mills at Haw River struck. Those in one mill, asked for the discharge of the superintendent, and struck because the demand was not complied with. Those in the two other mills struck for sympathy. The Holts are the pioneer family in cotton milling in North Carolina, and have always been models of kindness to employees. Last year the New England labor unions, wishing to organize labor in the Southern cotton mills, sent agitators here to organize unions, and this is what causes the trouble. The mill men are determined. They know the whole story. All the mills in Alamance and there are 23 of them, save four, notice that they will not employ any person who is a member of a labor union. This makes a square test. A mill owner says the mills have made no money since August 1st, and ought to have shut down then, but they were kept in operation in order to give work to the employees, of which, in Alamance alone there are 7,000. The labor agitators have made the claim that they are organized unions in practically all the mills in the State. Last summer one of the Holts at Burlington had trouble with the Union and came out a winner when there was trouble at Greensboro and at Durham. At the latter place the mill owner out of pure kindness helped the strikers' families.

A monument is being placed over the grave of Secretary of State Octavius Coker, in Oakwood cemetery here. It is of blue pearl granite from Davis county and bears the simple inscription: "Octavius Coker, born in Williamsburg, Va., Oct. 14, 1840. Died August 30, 1895, in Raleigh."

Cart buttons have made their appearance. They are white and red, with the words in black letters: "For Senator, Julian S. Carr."

John Sprunt Hill, a native of Duplin county, this State, is the nominee for Congress from the 12th New York district.

Since the bankruptcy law went into effect only 67 cases have been filed here. This is not one-fourth of the number expected.

Cyrus Thompson, Secretary of State and the head of the Middle-of-the-Road Populists in North Carolina, said today, in speaking of the campaign in this State: "Politics is 'deader' than I ever saw it, so dead that I am afraid the Middle-of-the-Roaders cannot carry the State." The fact is that the Middle-of-the-Road outfit in like Falstaff's army. Most of the Populists will vote for McKinley. Even the secretary of the State committee, R. B. Davis, is an avowed McKinley man.

A letter received today from State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Mebane at Newton, says he was thrown out of a wagon there and fell backward upon his shoulders. He is painfully hurt and is confined to his bed.

An expert from the U. S. Agricultural department is here, looking into the matter of sweet potato shipments abroad, mainly to London, for the present. He says most of the American colony there prefer the dry and mealy sweet potato, such as is raised in New Jersey; a potato which a North Carolinian would not eat, but he hopes to develop a taste for the potato grown here, which is the real thing. The officials of the State Agricultural department say the freights are high; $2 a barrel to London, while the potatoes sell there at 8 to 10 cents a pound, there is no telling how long such a price would hold out. The expert who is here says one of the problems is the preservation of the potatoes. He thinks kiln-drying a solution of the difficulty.

Ancient Structure Burned.

Special to Journal.
LONDON, Oct. 5.—A wing of Wellbrook Abbey, the famous seat of the Duke of Portland was burnt to-day. There was a heavy loss of pictures and furniture. Many pictures that were priceless, however, were saved from the flames.

The Coal Strike.

Special to Journal.
WILKINSON, Pa., Oct. 5.—More collieries were closed to-day. All the Reading collieries are now stopped. All the Lehigh collieries are still working, the efforts to induce the miners to strike having failed. None of the Lackawanna Company's strikers availed themselves of the offer of increased wages if they would return to work.

Does Your Baking Powder Contain Alum?

Prof. Geo. F. Barker, M.D., University of Penn.: "All the constituents of alum remain (from alum baking powders) in the bread, and the alum itself is reproduced to all intents and purposes when the bread is dissolved by the gastric juice in the process of digestion. I regard the use of alum as highly injurious."

Dr. Alonzo Clark: "A substance (alum) which can derange the stomach should not be tolerated in baking powder."

Prof. W. G. Tucker, New York State Chemist: "I believe it (alum) to be decidedly injurious when used as a constituent of food articles."

Prof. S. W. Johnson, Yale College: "I regard their (alum and soluble alumina salts) introduction into baking powders as most dangerous to health."

In view of such testimony as this, every care must be exercised by the housewife to exclude the over and over condemned cheap, alum baking powders from the food.

Baking powders made from cream of tartar, which is highly refined grape acid, are promotive of health, and more efficient. No other kind should be used in leavening food. Royal Baking Powder is the highest example of a pure cream of tartar powder.

Germany Makes a Proposition.

Special to Journal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Southern China is becoming greatly excited. A great rebellion is thought to be threatened. The Chinese authorities appear unable to maintain order.

There are anti-Christian riots and several missions have been destroyed.

Germany issues a second note to the Powers proposing an investigation by the allies of the official lists of the Chinese to be published, to see if it is correct and complete and if the punishment awarded fits the crime, also the means by which the allies can treat the imposition of penalties. Secretary Hay replies favorably to this proposition.

NOTICE AS TO ELECTIONS.

Rules Applying to Registers in the November Election.

Special to Journal.

RALPH, October 5.—Secretary Pearson of the Democratic State Committee announced tonight for the benefit of election officers throughout the State that registration for the November election will commence in the morning, October 12, and close at sunset, October 27th.

On the closing day the register must attend at the polling place with his registration books so that persons may register there if they desire to do so. On other days he may register persons qualified to register at any place in his precinct. The same poll holders and registrars who held the August election are required to hold the November election; and any vacancies are to be filled exactly as they were filled in that election. In all respects as to the time and place of holding the election in November, the same law prevails; the polls being opened at sun rise and closed at sun set, voting being done at present voting precincts unless they are altered by the county board of elections.

Weather Conditions.

WASHINGTON, October 5.—For North Carolina: Occasional rains Saturday. Light to fresh east to northwest winds.

Weather Conditions.—The moderate depression of the barometer in the Gulf yesterday continues central south of the coast line and as yet has developed no energy. It has caused generally cloudy weather and showers in the East Gulf and South Atlantic States.

A low barometric area covers the northwest moving eastward. Maximum temperatures of from 85 to 90 and 91 occurred yesterday over the interior valleys and Western States.

BRYAN 326.

Estimate by Vice-Chairman Johnson.

McKinley Certain Of Only 88.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—For the first time this campaign the Democrats have broken the rule they had established and have given out an estimate upon the election by States. Vice Chairman J. G. Johnson of the Democratic National Executive Committee reached Chicago this morning, and gave out table showing how Bryan will get 326 electoral votes, McKinley only 88, and the doubtful list will number 33. This estimate was provoked by the list given out by National Committeeman Manley of Maine, the head of the Republican campaign in the Eastern States, in which 296 votes were predicted for McKinley, 112 for Bryan and 69 doubtful.

"The figures which I give out," explained Vice Chairman Johnson, "are based not only upon the most reliable information which our committee has from every State in the Union but also upon this further remarkable fact: Every body knows that it was the Gold Democratic vote of this country which elected McKinley four years ago. It is equally well known now that at least 90 per cent. of this vote will go for Bryan this Fall.

"The German vote was almost unanimously against Bryan in 1896, while this year we have trustworthy information that the bulk of it will go for McKinley. The German vote in the pivotal State—will be cast for Bryan. His statement is true not alone of the Germans but of other distinctly foreign classes of voters. The great body of the organized labor vote which was induced to support McKinley four years ago will be nearly solid for the Democratic ticket next month.
