FAIR FACTS FOR EXHIBITORS.

If You Haven't Gotten Your Exhibit Ready Begin Work On It At Once. The Exhibitor Is Always The Great Gainer.

Messrs G. H. Waters & Son are getting up a buggy exhibit for the next Fair that will be extremely interesting to every visitor, besides reflecting credit on the city no less than on the firm.

It has always been conceded that this section is the ideal spot for wood working manufacturers, and the enterprising firm mentioned above proposes to show by its unique exhibition of light and heavy vehicles that to get a first class high grade article it is not necessary for the purchaser to leave the county.

A light running, rubber-tired wagon is nearing completion at the factory, and for simplicity, strength and artistic beauty will compare with any foreign goods, and in the greater number of comparisons prove superior. This wagon when finished will be put in the exhibit at the Fair.

Don't neglect your exhibits. The next Fair will be the best place in which to advertise your business by a good exhibit of your wares or products that was ever offered, for you may confidently look for large crowds of visitors on the Fair grounds. The season of the year is most favorable for a fair, and there are thousands and thousands of people all over this section—State, it might be said—who are waiting for November 12 with lively expectations of a good old time in the City of Elms. So it will repay the merchant, wholesale or retail, as well as the manufacturer and artisan to show his wares and exhibits at the Fair to the best advantage. It is worse than ridiculous for one in a business to conclude that Fair advertising is not profitable. Indeed, it is difficult, even impossible sometimes, to trace the effect of such advertising, but by the same token it is equally hard to measure the good your show window does, or your well swept floor. Yet no sane merchant boards up the front of his store any more than he criss spoils fish.

You may buy the very best goods on the market, and bring them to New Bern with the full intention of selling them for exactly half of what they cost, but if you hide your stock behind a plank wall and never tell what your purpose is, no one in the world will ever be able to aid you in your undertaking. You must show what you have to sell before you can expect a customer. In these days of bustle, more than ever before a merchant must not only show what he has for sale, but also tell how low he can sell it and enlarge upon its quality, fitness and desirability. Everybody isn't a snob. There's a Fair ground, which means with thousands of eyes is the best place in the world for showing your goods—whatever they may be—and telling about them, no one can hope to gain. Besides these arguments addressed to the pocket book (which after all is very hard-headed), there are reasons that go higher, and touch the pride and patriotism. This Fair we have is just as surely a perfect reflection of the character of our business men and other classes of workers, as is the Sunday service at church a perfect object lesson of the church's effect upon society. Our people have never done anything that would reflect discredit upon the city, and there are good reasons for believing that this year's Fair will witness more unanimity in the work of making the Fair a true exposition of the city's resources than has ever been shown before.

The Curio Hall will contain some features this year that will prove of unusual attractiveness, notable among which is a big exhibit from South Africa. A few of the articles that form this exhibit were shown by Mrs. Eva Hargett at the Raleigh Fair, but to see the exhibit in its entirety, you must come to the New Bern Fair.

137 FOR SIMMONS.

Expression of Sentiment of New Bernians For Mr. Simmons.

To the Editor of the New Bern Journal: It seems to us that our newspaper should express to the public the sentiment of the community in which it is published on all important matters.

There is now pending in this State the very important matter of Senatorial Primary and prominent Democrats are candidates for the position. One of them Honorable F. M. Simmons was a long and until recently, a resident of our City and it is well known that this City and our County and the neighboring counties, Jones, Carteret, and Onslow are almost unanimous in his support.

So plain is this sentiment that it cannot be mistaken, yet it has never been published in the JOURNAL, and we feel that you are not doing justice to the community, and the patrons of the JOURNAL.

We believe that you have a perfect right to your individual preferences, but think it also due to us that you state the true conditions in this regard. Nearly every publication in your paper is favorable to General Carr, and not one word do we see in behalf of Mr. Simmons. We wish to let our sentiments be known through the columns of your paper and request that you publish it.

We believe that almost the entire Democratic community of this section of the State prefer, and will vote for Hon. F. M. Simmons for Senator.

That Ferry Road.

That Ferry road leading to the New Bern bridge is not improving by age and use as do some things, it is in bad shape now and is still improving along that line, from bad to worse.

Well the sooner it gets to be impassable the sooner our people will have to turn their trade somewhere else, it will soon be impossible to reach New Bern by land.—Pamlico Enterprise.

The progressive nations of the world are the great food consuming nations. Good food well digested gives strength. If you cannot digest all you eat, you need Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. You need not diet yourself. It contains all of the digestants combined with the best known tonics and reconstructives. It will even digest all classes of foods in a bottle. No other preparation will do this. It instantly relieves and quickly cures all stomach trouble. F. S. Duffy.

Mr. Slow.—"Confound this watch, whack! whack! whack! as he gently touches the post with it. I paid Mr. H. G. Price $35.00 for it and he has worked on it a dozen times. Mr. O. N. Time, (as he pulls out his watch) Here is a watch I bought from Baxter's years ago, for $15.00 warranted for 25 years, (which was a Jas. Ross filled gold case with Elgin movement.) Go to Baxter's when you want a watch. I never had it repaired but once, then the baby had it. If you will give him your watch to fix, you will have an accurate time piece, as hundreds can tell you who tried him.

That Piano Again. "Touched by a skillful hand, Wakened by patience, Chords that were broken Will vibrate once more." Your piano has lame or broken chords why not let us apply the proper remedies. We use steel exclusively. By the way don't make a mistake. I have no assistants.
