Hearing in Railway Assessment Cases. Thanksgiving at the Capital. RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 30.—The last of the hearings on the railway side of the $10,000,000 tax assessment case began this evening here, before Standing Master Shepherd. Quite a number of witnesses were present, among them Henry A. Page of the Aberdeen and Asheboro railway.

Yesterday was pleasantly spent here. In the afternoon the Methodist Orphanage was opened. Then a foot ball game at the State Fair grounds, part of it in the rain, in which the University of South Carolina defeated the Agricultural and Mechanical College by 17 to 5. There was also a meeting of the State Literary and Historical Society, at which all the committees were filled out and the general work organized.

In the evening over 3000 people assembled in the Academy of Music, 1000 college students among them, and heard the fourth annual debate between Wake Forest and Trinity colleges. The latter won, though Wake Forest was awarded the prize for oratory. The judges were George Rountree, F. H. Busbee and J. H. Fox, Jesse Daniel, as president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided, and the loving cup was presented to Trinity by Perrin Busbee of Raleigh. Each college has now won twice.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY BILL. No Certainty of Getting Through Present Session of Congress. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The ship subsidy bill is not to have plain sailing, if it gets through at this session of Congress Representative Burton, of Ohio, chairman of the House committee on rivers and harbors is out footed against it, and other Republicans, including several members of the Indiana delegation, are expressing opposition to the bill as it stands.

INTO LIQUID GLASS.

Horrible Disaster. Roof Collapsed With Spectators Watching Foot Ball Game. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., November 29.—Thirteen people were killed and fully fifty badly injured by the collapse of the roof of the Pacific Glass Works, on Fifteenth Street, today, while it was crowded with men and boys watching a football game on the field adjoining.

About seventy-five people fell through the roof upon the red hot furnaces and glass vats below. All were horribly burned, and it is feared that in addition to the deaths already reported, there will be several more.

Two hundred men and boys had gathered on the sheet-iron roof of the glass works to obtain a clear view of the annual foot ball game between Stanford and the University of California. About twenty minutes after the game had commenced there was a crash, plainly audible from the football grounds, and a portion of the crowd on the roof went down.

The fires in the furnaces had been started for the first time today, and the vats were full of liquid glass. It was upon this that the victims fell. Some were killed instantly and others were slowly roasted to death. The few who missed the furnaces rolled off, and together with workmen in the glass works saved the lives of many by pushing them away from their horrible resting places.

The police and fire department were soon at hand and every patrol wagon and ambulance in the city was summoned. They were not enough, and express wagons and private carriages were pressed into service to carry off the dead and the wounded. Many of the injured were unconscious, while others were hurled shrieking with agony, to the hospitals. The Southern Pacific Railway Hospital, only two blocks away, was quickly filled About forty wounded were taken there. Others were sent to St. Luke's Hospital and the city receiving hospital to private residences and other places.

The roof of the glass factory was not 200 feet away from the foot ball field, but the twenty thousand people watching the game were too interested in the game to notice what had happened. It was only when the ushers went through the vast crowd calling for doctors that it became known that there had been an accident. Hundreds of people left the grounds and gathered about the glass works. News of the disaster spread quickly. The police kept crowds back while the patrol wagons and ambulances dashed through the streets on their way to and from the hospitals.

Eighty-two persons, more or less injured, have been taken to the various hospitals or removed to their homes. Most of those killed or injured were boys between nine and sixteen years of age. Nearly all the victims had their skulls fractured or limbs broken and sustained serious internal injuries.

35,440 Children at Work. HARRISBURG, Pa., November 29.—Factory Inspector Campbell has submitted to Governor Stone his report for the year ended October 31 last. He says this has been the most prosperous year in the history of the department, owing to the enlargement of plants and the starting of new enterprises in almost every section of the State.

There are 773,413 persons employed in the industrial establishments of the State, of whom 33,440 are between 13 and 16 years of age. Of 2,357 accidents most were due to carelessness, and 118 were fatal. The new lake shop law has resulted in improved sanitary conditions. The law regulating the manufacturing of clothing has resulted in sanitary improvements and better regulations, and in Pittsburg and Philadelphia large amounts of clothing found in houses where contagious diseases existed were destroyed.

The One Day Cold Cure. Cold in head and sore throat cured by Keen's Chocolate Lozenges. As easy to take as candy. "Children cry for them." Probable Tax Reduction. WASHINGTON, D. C., November 30.—It is among the legislative probabilities that the reduction to be made in internal revenue (taxes) by the bill which is now being prepared by the House Ways and Means Committee will be about doubled when the bill goes to the Senate.

The amount of reduction aimed at by the House Committee is about $30,000,000 a year, but a number of Senators have expressed the opinion that it should be at least twice as much, and they will try to put their opinions into effect. The Porto Shakes. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 29.—The arrival of the United States battleship Kentucky at Smyrna has so shaken up the Porto that indications are accumulating of a desire to hasten a settlement to the satisfaction of the United States.

BUSY AT WASHINGTON.

Congressmen Getting Things Ready For Next Week. Committees at Work. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Although Congress will not actually assemble until Monday, there has been more Congressional work accomplished in Washington this week than is done in many weeks when Congress is in session. It has been the very necessary Committee work of getting bills in shape so there will be no delay in getting them reported to the House and keeping that body busy.

The Ways and Means committee has completed the bill to reduce the war taxes, but has not made it public and probably will not do so until it is reported to the House; the Committee on Military Affairs has about agreed to report the bill prepared by the War Department, which provides for a regular army, the maximum strength of which shall be 96,000 men and the minimum strength 58,000 men; the committee on Rivers and Harbors is considering the items which shall be included in the River and Harbor bill, but has not yet got far enough advanced to make an intellectual estimate of the total, although it is expected that the bill will carry somewhere in the neighborhood of $40,000,000, and the Committee on Appropriations has almost completed the Legislative, Judicial and Executive appropriation bill which will carry about $30,000,000.

Americans Leaving China.

TIENTSIN, CHINA, Nov. 28, via Shanghai, Nov. 29.—The Fifteenth United States Infantry has departed for Tong Ku, where it will embark for Manila. The Russian contingent has been increased by the return to Tientsin of two regiments of infantry which had been previously withdrawn.

It is reported that cold weather is driving the hostile natives into outlying villages, where there is much restlessness. Scouting parties constantly reported sharpshooting along the Pekin road and on remote trails, but severe reprisals are lessening it. Navigation up the river has practically been closed and the remaining supplies are going in wagons to Pekin. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 29.—An announcement from London that the powers have yielded to the American view concerning capital punishment and indemnities in China has made a good impression here. United States Minister Tower has transmitted the note of the United States, but he has not received an answer. It is said the note does not require a formal reply.

Cuba Annexation.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 30.—Although the administration is pledged to the absolute independence of Cuba, powerful influences are working with the hope that Cuba will be annexed in stead of being made free. Inasmuch as this government will surely keep its pledges, Cuba would seem to be the place for these influences to work, and not Washington, as the only honorable way that annexation can be brought about will be for the Cubans, through a government of their own, to ask for it. That annexation would be a good thing for Cuba is generally admitted, but it is by no means so certain that it would be a good thing for the U. S., unless emigration results in Americanizing the island, as many believe it will in the near future.
