RALPHIGH, Jan. 7.—David M. Furches, who arrived yesterday afternoon from Statesville was to-day sworn in as chief justice, Associate Justice Montgomery administering the oath.

It was understood here to-day that Charles A. Cook would be made associate justice. It is no secret that Senator Pritchard forced the governor to appoint Furches.

The State to-day chartered the Hadley-Smith Tobacco Company, of Mount Airy, capital $100,000, of which G. E. Kiss, Manchester, Va. and J. D. Patton and W. S. Forbes of Richmond, Va. put in half, J. A. Hadley and A. E. Smith of Mt. Airy, owning the other half. The company will manufacture tobacco in any form.

Quite a number of members of the legislature arrived to-day, among them, Walter E. Moore, of Jackson county, who is to be speaker of the House.

At Tarboro to-day, State Chemist B. W. Kilgore addressed the cotton growers association and the farmers protective association of Edgecombe county, in mass meeting, his subject being the soil test farms at Tarboro and tied Springs.

The December Bulletin of the State board of health, issued today, says that small pox in November was in 9 counties, and is now in 8 more; that the type is much worse than it was last winter; that many cases are confident.

State auditor-elect B. F. Dixon yesterday afternoon held special services at the "old" rs Home.

The State chartered the Laywyn Printing Company of Richmond, capital $25,000.

Associate editor F. L. Merritt of the News and Observer left for Baltimore last night for medical treatment.

Quality and not quantity makes DeWitt's Little Early Risers such valuable little liver pills. F. S. Duffy & Co.

Elevated Roads Hold-Ups.

CHICAGO, January 6.—A series of hold-ups along the lines of the Chicago elevated railroads, four ticket sellers having been robbed in less than a week, has caused a feeling of uneasiness among the night station men along the "L" lines.

The boldest of these hold-ups took place at 8 o'clock this morning, when a lone robber held up the occupants of the lake street "L" line station, at Ashland avenue, robbing the agent and four persons who were waiting for a train. After taking about $30 from his victims, the robber held them in the station until a train arrived and then compelled them to board the train, which drew away from the station before the robber's victims could make their predicament known to the trainmen. A passenger who alighted from the train took in the situation and fired several shots at the robber, but the bandit escaped.

The One Day Cold Cure.

Cold in head and sore throat cured by Kenyon's Cold Cream Laxative Ointment. An easy to use remedy. "Children try for them."

Warned to Be Ready.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—In a letter to The Times, this morning, the Earl of Dunraven, emphasizing the "very grave situation in South Africa," warns the country to distrust the opinions of experts on the spot and to be ready for the unexpected. He complains of the "inertia of the authorities" and urges the necessity of large reinforcements.

The Cape Town correspondent of The Times, who confirms the reports of the multiplicity of the Boer commandos, says: "Nearly five-stations of the British troops are employed to guard the lines of communication, and to garrison towns leaving a very small number, partly unarmoured, to pursue the enemy. Large reinforcements are advisable, and these would be cheaper in the end."

"The damage which the Boers did to the Klieffontein mine is officially estimated at £210,000."

Back little pills as DeWitt's Little Early Risers are very easily taken and they are wonderfully effective in cleansing the liver and bowels. F. S. Duffy & Co.

Other Powers Must be Convinced.

By Paris, Jan. 8.—Dismissing the alleged project of an exchange of German East Africa for Cyprus. The "New York Times" says: "Under existing treaties the only power that can be considered to have any right to the East Africa is Germany, which has a treaty with the British Empire."

When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. F. S. Duffy & Co.

COLD WAVE IN EUROPE.

Old Rome, for the First Time in Many Years, Wears a Mantle of Nature's White.

PARIS, Jan. 6.—Paris is shivering. The thermometer fell considerably yesterday, a minimum of 31.2° Fahr. having been recorded at midnight. At 8 o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated a further fall of nearly 5°, standing at that hour at 18.8° Fahr.

M. Joubert, director of the Municipal Observatories, who also acts as the meteorological expert, says that disturbances received from Germany, Austria, and especially, show that the cold is intense in those countries.

As far as France is concerned the frost limit reached Brest yesterday. A minimum of 4° below zero Fahr. was reported at Lemberg. At Montclair the thermometer went down to 23°. Snow fell in such masses at Montclair as to stop the street cars.

In the Paris district this sudden cold has taken most persons by surprise. To show how abnormal is the sudden step, it should be stated that many thermometers here don't register less than 5° below zero-Centigrade (49° Fahr.). Their owners consequently remarked with amazement that the mercury was down to the lowest limit. The real temperature was 7° lower still.

The sudden change has proved too much for many. No fewer than seven deaths from congestion, due to cold, are already reported, besides other cases which though serious, have not proved fatal. One case was that of a 60-year-old man who was found dead on his bed.

Although there is but a little snow in the big lakes in the Alps, the cold has driven the snow over. There is good snow on the St. Gothard pass as the French Alps, on the other hand, as would be the case if the cold were any more severe, there is every prospect that the snow will be very deep. The snow on the St. Gothard pass will be very deep by Wednesday of tomorrow.

P. D. ARMOUR DEAD.

Heart Disease Carries Off Noted Chicago Millionaire.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Philip Danforth Armour, philanthropist, fifty times a millionaire, and the head of the vast packing establishment that bears his name, died at his home, 2115 Prairie avenue, at 9:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Muscular affection of the heart, known to the medical profession as myocarditis, was the immediate cause of death. He had been rapidly recovering from pneumonia that for three weeks had threatened his life. At 9 o'clock this morning his heart gave way under the strain of his recent illness, his pulse running up to 109. That was the beginning of the end.

Mr. Armour was surrounded by his family when he died. Those at his bedside, besides his physicians and nurses, were his wife, his son's wife, Mrs. Philip D. Armour, Jr., and Mrs. J. Ogden Armour.

The millionaire retained consciousness until within an hour of his death. During the day he realized that death was near.

His illness, said his physician, Dr. Frank Billings, developed about two years ago. Prior to that time he had been practically a sound man. The trouble was a muscular affection of the heart, caused originally by the bursting of a blood vessel. It grew worse with advancing years.

A year ago last summer Mr. Armour went to Europe and took the treatment for heart trouble at Badenweiler. He grew better and returned to America in the fall. The winter was spent in California; he remained in Chicago during the spring and again went to Europe for the treatment at Badenweiler. Mr. Armour returned in August last and was in comparatively good health. Then, while waiting around in the snow attending to business duties December 17, he caught cold and pneumonia developed.

His condition was critical for some time, but he began to improve. Last Wednesday he took a turn for the worse. Since that time his family had known that he was likely to die.

While Mr. Armour's name was more generally associated in the public mind with his great packing and provision establishments he was actively interested in many other big enterprises. As the owner of an important system of grain elevators, and as a heavy investor in the grain products of the Middle and Western States, Mr. Armour was an important factor in the grain markets of the world. He was also a heavy owner in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company, in the reorganized Baltimore and Ohio, the Illinois Trust and Savings, Metropolitan National and Northern Trust Banks, of Chicago, and in the Armour Bank, of Kansas City. He was a director of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company and was a heavy stockholder in the company which controls the street railways of Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kan.

The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves at once and cures piles, sores, eczema and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. F. S. Duffy & Co.

Some Old Time Laws.

One hundred years ago pocket picking was a capital offense where anything worth more than a shilling was taken, for which the offender could be sentenced to death in this country. There were over 500 offenses at that time for which death sentences could be passed. Sir Samuel Romilly, who devoted himself by pamphlet and parliamentary agitation to the amelioration of the criminal law, succeeded after great difficulty in getting pocket picking removed from the list. Very little more than 100 years ago a seaman was hanged for complaining of the quality of the provisions. Seventy men on board the Nansen, in Portsmouth harbor, set out for London to lay their complaint as to the provisions before the lords of the admiralty. Fifteen of them procured an audience, but were ordered to be put in irons and carried back to Portsmouth to be tried by court martial for mutiny. They were all sentenced to death, and one was actually hanged, the sentences of the other 14 being reprieved. In the sixteenth century death sentences could be passed for malicious tearing or detaching the garments of any person, breaking a bank of a fish pond or cutting down a tree in an orchard.—London Times.

London Has Forbidden Gates.

There are two gates in London which it is an honor equal to the star of an order to be allowed to drive through. One is the gate in the arch of the Horse Guards, and the other is that of the Marble Arch. The Horse Guards arch is guarded by a stationer, who stands in the way of any carriage that attempts to go through and should the occupants not have the right to pass there it is his duty to stop them. The Marble Arch, it may be remembered, was supposed to be a trophy which did not know that his lordship is one of the privileged persons. When there is any disorderly citizen, if the occupant of the carriage wishes to go through, the arch has the privilege enough to will, he can remove one of the high most officials has given his consent, according to immemorial custom.—London Telegraph.
