REPUBLICANS REFUSED.

To Join Populists on Senatorial Vote

Great Session of Grand Lodge of Masons. Joint Legislative Caucus Ratifies Primary For Senator. Program For Inauguration.

RALPH, Jan. 10.—The news was confirmed today that the Republicans in the Legislature will vote for Congressman Richmond Pearson for U. S. Senator. It was also learned that the Populist members sent word to the Republicans that they would vote for the latter nominees for Legislative officers if the Republicans would vote for Marion Butler for Senator. The Republicans declined to enter into any such agreement. The Populists were therefore not in the Republican caucus.

The Grand Lodge of Masons adjourned today after the best session in its history. No less than 412 members were present yesterday. This morning the Grand officers were installed, including Grand Master B. D. Royster, Grand Treasurer William Stimpson and Grand Secretary John C. Drewry.

The Seaboard Air-Line excepted to the Corporation Commissioners' order reducing the freight rate on logs used in making shuttle blocks, etc. The commission overrules the exceptions.

The Democratic joint legislative caucus last night ratified the action of the Democrats of North Carolina at the primary last August in deciding by an enormous majority that F. M. Simmons is to succeed Marion Butler as Senator. The matter came up quickly before the caucus. There was cheering at the unanimous vote. Simmons was not present. The matter came up so quickly and quietly that there was no time to notify him to be present.

U. S. Governor Charles A. Reynolds tells me no communication passed between him and Governor Russell regarding the Chief Justiceship. He said he "never said a word to me, nor did I say a word to him about the matter, nor did any friend of his approach me in regard to it."

J. R. Dickens of Enfield filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, with $2,000 liabilities and $800 assets.

The following is the program for the inauguration as agreed on late last night by the legislative and citizens committee.

On Tuesday the 15th day of January, 1901, at 11 a. m., the officers-elect will be escorted by the Legislative and the Local committees from the Yarbrough House to the capitol. The retiring State officers and the members of the Legislature will then join them and proceed to the Academy of Music where the inaugural ceremonies will take place. If however, the weather permits, the inaugural ceremonies will be held at the east front of the capitol.

Governor Russell and Governor-elect Aycock, with their private secretaries will occupy the first carriage. The Secretary of State and the Secretary-elect the next, and so on, accompanied by members of the committees.

The military escort will be under the command of the senior officer present, under the supervision of Adjutant General Royster.

The ceremonies at the inauguration will be opened with prayer by the Rev. A. A. Marshall.

The State officers will then present the officers-elect, and the oaths of office will be administered by Associate Justice Walter Clark, the Chief Executive being the last in order, and immediately thereafter Governor Aycock will deliver his inaugural address. The procession will then return to the capitol, and the new officers take charge of their respective departments.

At some convenient point on Fayetteville street, Governor Aycock and the other officers will review the civic and military procession. The civic procession will be headed by the members of the Legislature in a body.

The report of the deaf mute school at Morganton shows 220 pupils present. They have made great progress during the year. The cost of the school was $20,000 for 1899-1900.

The officers of the Grand Lodge of Masons were installed by Past Grand Master C. H. Smith of Winston.

It now rests entirely with the railways to say whether the tax assessment litigation shall end or continue.

Arrivals James A. Bryan, New Bern.

RAILS AT BRYAN.

Angry Tillman Fiercely Denounces Nebraskan.

OMAHA, Neb., January 8.—Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, was grossly abused by the Jacksonian Democrats here last night. Both at the reception in the afternoon and at the banquet the Senator was left to flock alone. Little or no attention was shown him yet he was an invited guest of the Jacksonian Club, and in disgust he repaired to his hotel, where he submitted to a newspaper interview, in the course of which he admitted that he had made a mistake in coming to Omaha. The attitude of Nebraska Democrats toward the fire-eating Southerner radically changed when it became known that he had indulged in an interview with William J. Bryan, which the Senator talked so plain to the defeated candidate that Bryan retorted with the remark that the Senator's language was both impolite and inelegant. When the Senator was responding to a toast he was rudely interrupted and shown other discourtesies, one banquet-going so far as to say that the Senator's remarks were sedition, and that he was an old rebel still.

The toastmaster during the banquet was engaged in an interesting conversation with the defeated candidate for the Presidency, and scarcely looked in the direction of the Southern Senator. Between two scabious couples the Senator from South Carolina sat morose and sullen to all appearances, and no smile softened the lines of that sphinx-like visage. He took little interest in his surroundings and his wooden countenance expressed no emotion.

As he disposed of Nebraska fare placed before him his eyes were fixed upon his plate, and talking to no one he sat during the entire banquet. The peculiar isolation of the guest of second importance was noticed by the members and guests of the club and they commented freely upon the coldness of his treatment.

The reason probably lies in certain expressions of the Senator when he and Bryan met and discussed the campaign then just ended. The South Carolinian was as rough in his speech to the defeated candidate as though he was an ordinary man, and did not stop to choose his words in characterizing Bryan's management of the campaign as foolish in many particulars.

He insinuated that Mr. Bryan had forced bad politics under the National Committee in the battle of ballots, and strongly advised the Nebraskan to keep his mouth closed until the people have time to recover.

It was related that the Senator had plainly told the ex-Presidential candidate that his unfitness as a campaign manager was shown in his loss of Nebraska; that he (the Senator) could show him several things about running affairs and pointed to South Carolina, where he has overthrown the almost patriarchal power of Wade Hampton and his friends and established himself so firmly that he left the Governorial chair for the Senator, there to remain as long as he desires the place.

He further advised Mr. Bryan to keep silent upon the subject of party reorganization; to leave that question to the National Committee, and in other words resign the leadership of the party in favor of others.

When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. F. S. Duffy & Co.

DEADLY MOSQUITOES

They Are Solely Responsible for Spread of Yellow Fever.

HAVANA, Jan. 9.—The American Commission under the superintendency of Dr. Reed, which has been making experiments at Quesvedo as to the propagation of the yellow fever germ by the mosquito, has obtained extremely satisfactory results.

Dr. Reed says the experiments show, beyond a doubt, that there is no contagion from an infected person or from infected clothing, but that the mosquitoes alone are responsible for spread of the disease.

The most soothing, healing and antiseptic application ever devised is DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It relieves all cuts and grazes, burns, scalds, and skin diseases. Beware of imitations. F. S. Duffy & Co.

CRAVEN COUNTY BILLS

Extra Pay For County Commissioners. Special Tax Levy. Against Shooting From Bridges.

Special to Journal.

RALPH, Jan. 10.—Bills were introduced in the House today, by Representatives W. E. Pearce, of Craven, to allow Craven county Commissioners extra pay, and to allow them to levy a special tax; also a bill to prevent washing and shooting from bridges in Craven county.

ABOLISH DISPENSARY.

At Greensboro By Legislative Enactment

Bills Introduced. Code Commission to be Named by Governor. School Taxes to be Separated For Home. Factory Labor.

Special to Journal.

RALPH, Jan. 10.—In the Senate a bill was passed abolishing the dispensary at Greensboro, the primary of white voters held there, declined by two thousand majority for abolishing.

A bill was introduced in House providing for a Code Commission to be appointed by the Governor.

Another bill re-districting the State and increasing the number of judges and solicitors from twelve to sixteen; for abolishing the criminal circuit courts; the judges and solicitors to be appointed by the governor.

Three bills were introduced to amend the Constitution so that school taxes paid by whites shall go entirely to white schools, those by negroes to negro school. A law was once enacted of the same tenor. The Supreme Court declared it unconstitutional.

Representative Thompson when asked whether bill had any backing replied, "There is in Rural districts among white tax payers great clamor against further education of negroes by whites, the people saying they have done enough for the negroes, and want to cut loose from them, adding they do not want negroes educated, as the educational qualification has been made, and if negroes are educated, this will amount to nothing." Some leaders in the house declare the bill will never become a law.

Another bill to regulate factory labor, prohibits employment in factory of children, and under eleven years, limits a day's work to ten hours for operator; and eleven hours to a day's labor for operators over fifteen years. A bill to compel children between eleven and fifteen years to attend school three months annually.

HALF A MILLION FIRE.

Fifty Seamen Narrowly Escaped With Their Lives.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—In an early morning fire on the Erie Basin front, that lighted up all South Brooklyn, Beard's shipping stores at the foot of Richards street, was partly destroyed; an excursion steamer, the Idlewild, was burned to the water's edge, one fireman was injured and close upon fifty seamen narrowly escaped with their lives. The total loss is estimated at $200,000.

The fire started, no one knows how, on board the Idlewild, about 1 o'clock. The steamer was lying just outside the breakwater, from which point she drifted, as soon as she was cut loose, directly across the Erie Basin and up against one of Beard's piers head.

In a very short time the big covered pier, where jute and cotton were stored in bales, was in flames from spilling to roof. Fire boats and engines fought the fire from both land and water.

The Idlewild burned to the water's edge and a couple of lighters also had been destroyed.

Fire rigs and engine companies were pouring their streams into the burning stores, but the water was swallowed up in steam, and the heat that could be done was to keep the edge of the burning pier from spreading. By 4 o'clock the flames had died down to smolder in the bales and debris that had settled upon the spilling.
