GOVERNOR AYCOCK.

Inaugural Address of North Carolina's New Chief Executive.

Discussion of State Questions. Disfranchisement of the Negro a Necessity. To Redem Educational Promises. Impartial Enforcement of the Law.

RALEIGH, Jan. 15.—The following is in part the address of Governor Aycock, who was inaugurated today:

Gentlemen of the General Assembly, Ladies and Fellow Citizens:

Every four years brings us a change of administration but not always a change of policy. This year we meet under extraordinary circumstances—one party goes out of power and another comes in; one policy ends and a new one begins; one century passes away and a new century claims our service; a new constitution greets the new century. For thirty years of the nineteenth century we struggled in every way against the evils of a suffrage based on manhood only. We found in the first days of that struggle that theory had outrun practice and that reality had yielded place to sentiment. At that time we had just emerged from an unsuccessful and disastrous war. Our property had been swept away, our institutions had been destroyed, the foundation of our social fabric had been overturned. We were helpless. A victorious, but ungenerous political enemy had crushed us to the earth; they had forced upon us the recognition of theories that we knew could not be reduced to successful practice. We were poor, weak and defeated. We accepted the situation. We did our best to prove the falsity of our convictions.

Negroes and Citizenship.

We endeavored with sincerity to bring the negroes to a realization of the true dignity of full citizenship. We urgently strove to instill into their minds that their true interests were likewise ours; we sought with great solicitude and with much sacrifice of toil and capital to convince them that parties were the servants and not the masters of the people, and that no past services of a party, however beneficial those services might appear, justified the destruction of good and safe and economical government in order to secure its success. We provided schools for them and spent for them as we spent for our own children. We cared for their insane and opened schools for the education of their afflicted and for the care and tuition of those who were left fatherless and motherless. We continued these efforts in the face of repeated evidence of their hostility and abated not our purposes when they repeated their follies. We still hoped that they would follow the example of the whites and divide their vote along the lines of governmental, industrial and moral issues. The result was a disappointment.

Negroes and Republicanism.

The negro was always to be counted upon and our opponents did not hesitate at any excess because they knew that they had 120,000 voters who could be relied upon to support any policy however ruinous which bore the stamp of republicanism. With this vote as a certain ally, when they came to power after twenty years of defeat dared new evils and wrongs. Under their rule lawlessness walked the state like a pestilence—death stalked abroad at noonday—"keep lay down armed"—the sound of the pistol was more frequent than the song of the mocking bird—the screams of women fleeing from pursuing brutes closed the gates of our hearts with a shock. Our opponents, unmindful of the sturdy determination of our people to have safe, good government at all hazards, became indifferent to or incapable of enforcing law and preserving order. Confident of the support of this ignorant mass of negro voters, the Republican party and its ally forgot the strength and determination of that people who fought the first fight in Alamance against bad government and wrote the first Declaration of Independence in Mecklenburg. They challenged North Carolinians to a contest and the world knows the result. The campaign of 1868 ended in a victory for good government. That was not a contest of passion but of necessity. When we came to power we desired merely the security of life, liberty and property. We had seen all those menaced by 120,000 negro votes cast as the vote of one man. We had seen our chief city pass through blood and death in search of safety.

We did not dislike the negro but we did love good government. We knew that he was incapable of giving us that and we resolved, not in anger, but for the safety of the state, to curtail his power. We had seen what a struggle it required to preserve even the form of republican government with him as a voter. The negro was not only ignorant—he was cunning. The educated among them who realized the danger to the state in their voting were unable to free themselves from the power of his persuasion.

Disfranchisement of the Negro.

When the legislature of 1885 met it was confronted with these facts and was sincerely anxious to save the good and suppress the evil of those forces which had made our history. They, therefore, recommended to the people for their action an amendment to the constitution which forbids any man to vote who cannot read and write, but excepts

COOL YOUR BLOOD

In All Cases of Itching Burning and Scaly Humors with

CUTICURA RESOLVENT

Of all the remedies for cooling and cleansing the blood and circulating fluids of itching, burning, scaly humors, none approach, in specific action, the wonderful properties of CUTICURA RESOLVENT. It neutralizes and resolves away (hence its name, Resolvent) scrofulous, inherited, and other humors, which float in the blood, and which give rise to swellings of the glands, pains in the bones, and torturing, disgusting eruptions of the skin and scalp, with loss of hair.

CUTICURA RESOLVENT extends its cooling, purifying influence by means of the pores of the surface of the skin, allaying irritation, inflammation, itching, and burning, and soothing external humors, because of its power to neutralize HUMOR-GERMS which float in the blood and circulating fluids. It exerts a purifying influence upon the bowels, liver, and kidneys, thus removing a common cause of yellow, mothy, greasy skin, and more or less of pimples, blotches, and blackheads. Many forms of debility, for which no cause can be discovered, are due to the presence of humors in the blood, bones, and fluids. CUTICURA RESOLVENT possesses, in the highest degree, humor expelling properties, and at the same time acts as a gentle aperient, diuretic, and digestive. It promotes the general health, while insuring the expulsion of humors which manifest themselves in the obscure forms of rheumatism, gout, kidney pain, and liver troubles.

Mothers are assured of the absolute purity of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and its freedom from any ingredient that is in the least objectionable in action, taste or odor. It is therefore readily taken by children of all ages and conditions, and should be freely given on the first appearance of humors, whether simple, scrofulous, or hereditary. It is also a mother's remedy, regulating and strengthening the maternal functions, while purifying the system of ulcerative weaknesses and humors.

It is economy to take it on every occasion possible, while using warm baths of CUTICURA SOAP to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, and gentle applications of CUTICURA Ointment to itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal externally, as the readiest means of insuring speedy, permanent, and economical cure, and realizing that greatest of human blessings, "a skin without blemish and a body nourished with pure blood."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor, $1.25, Consisting of CUTICURA SOAP (25c), to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, and gentle applications of CUTICURA Ointment to itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal externally, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT (50c), to cool and cleanse the blood, & so throughout the world.

RALEIGH.

Fine Weather. Snow Needed for Wheat Crop. Wholesale Pardoning of Convicts by Russell.

RALEIGH, January 15.—There was never a more perfect winter day than today, and the remark heard on all sides, "It's Democratic weather. There never was finer," Gen. William P. Robertson, "Isn't Aycock in luck."

There was a rush of visitors to the inauguration, which began with the earliest hours of the morning, on trains and in all kinds of vehicles they came from town and country. All were happy in smiles, the Democrats, because "The King had come to his own again," and the Republicans appeared to be by no means depressed at the change of administration and the end of the Russell regime.

Gov. Russell vacated the executive mansion yesterday afternoon and spent the night as the guest of clerk Riddick, the clerk of the United States Circuit Court. He did not look today as if he were sorrowful at relinquishing the cares of the executive chair.

The exercises of the day were held at the east portico of the capitol. The stand built out from the massive portico, was draped with flags, an immense national flag in the center, with State flags at either end, while on each side of the speakers were displayed the headquarters flags of the Governor, sixteen banners, the National color on the right, the State on the left. From the apex of the lofty portico there swept far down to the corners of the stand broad bands of red, white and blue, while from the flag staffs on the roof were displayed the brilliant colors of "Old Glory" and the equally brilliant red, white and blue of the State's flag, this State being one of the two or three in the Union to have a special flag. In these glory of the sunshine, under a sky of tenderest blue, all the brightness of coloring was brought out.

Seats for a thousand persons had been placed on the grand stand in front of the speakers stand, filling up all the space between it in the new statue of Vance. Three hundred of these seats were specially reserved for the legislators and members of their families.

This morning the annual examination of applicants for license as pharmacist began. It being held in the regular court room.

News reached the agricultural department today of the sickness of a number of cattle at one of the penitentiary farms. Dr. Wells was sent there to make an examination. It is feared the disease is Texas fever.

It is learned from persons from the penitentiary section of the State that the lack of snowfall has injured wheat, which is not now so promising.

It is ascertained that the object of cotton mill owners of the State in their convention to be held at Greensboro tomorrow is to make an agreement as to what should be a day's labor and also as to child labor which will abate the necessity for the enactment of a law by the legislature. The mill-owners say they believe such a plan preferable to a law.

Gov. Russell during the last 55 days of his official life issued so many pardons and shortened so many terms of imprisonment as to literally swamp the penitentiary officials. Pardons were sent given all by him. It is said 40 were issued in 30 days and that the term of over 100 convicts were shortened. Some separate ones were shown each day.
