No had after offerts whatever Me, Me and Me. For fals by T and Beat all New Bern Records, Great day For the Boys. Nine Inches of "The Beautiful' Fell. The snow began to fall about 7 o'clock vesterday morning and never ceased all day. It was the biggest fall ever known here, all agree, but it came down so quietly and the air was so mild that it was not a disagreeable day. Two years ago, Sunday February 12, there was a heavy snow fall, a depth of 7 inches being noted. It was much colder that day, the thermometer dropping to 12 degrees, with a maximum of 25 degrees during the day. It will be recalled that the trains were all delayed, the Atlantic Coast Line not getting through for several days. There was also ice entirely across Neuse river, so that it was much more wintry than yesterday, although the snow fall was not as great.

New Bern can go way back when it mes to telling about the weather. It is handed down that in 1780 people crossed the rivers here on the ice. That is further back than the memory of "the oldest inhabitant, but this individual is fond of recalling that February 7th, and 8th, 1836, the thermometer was below zero with a maximum of only 12 above at noon.

When enough snow had fallen yesterday to form a snow ball, the boys began to get in their work, and all day, especially on Middle street, the fun was fast and furious. Everybody got pelted, age was no protection, and sex deserved none, for the girls were out and throwing snow balls as straight as nature allowed them to. Too much freedom was taken by some of the frolickers and there were a number of small fights as a result.

Mr. Ferd Habn had his two scated sleigh out shortly after noon and the big pair of horses kept moving the rest of the afternoon and the sleigh bells jingled merrily. This sleigh is the only one in town and is justly deemed a curiosity. Mr. Habn has used the sleigh for the last three winters, last year affording a few hours of the sport.

A feature of the day was the foot gear of the colored men. They obtained big pieces of bagging and tied it over their shoes and up around their ankles and then went ploughing along very content edly. The draymen and the transfer drivers had a bad time of it and said they didn't like "no such."

A fall of snow is considered a good thing for the farmers and truckers. It covers up the vegetation and seems to enrich the soil, at least better crops are sald to follow snow fal's. For the fishermen it is bad, it chills the water and the fish do not come up the river and it was said yesterday that the effect will be to make shad and herring scarce in the market.

People who had telephones yesterday were lucky, for they could telephone their wants to the butcher, the baker, and the candle stick maker. The central office said that it was an awful busy day, a constant call for "central."

The snow began at Goldsbero yesterday earlier than it did here and it was reported heavy all along the line. At the storm letting up in the afternoon about three o'clock.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

Oyster Packers Not Disho EDITOR JOURNAL.—In your issue of the 32d reporting the Legislative pro-ceedings at Rabilgh, in reference to the new Oyster bill, your correspondent says "It was reported in the House, that canners and packers had avoided taxation in every conceivable way."

Now we do not know who it was that nade this statement, but whoever it was either knows nothing whatever sate wha he asserts, or made the statement know ing that it was maliciously false. For our own business we will say that we paid every dollar due the State on our business, until this season. We paid hundreds of dollars to the State in good faith, and received nothing whatever from the State for it.

The tax was for "Inspection" which everyone (who knows anything about the business) knows was the veriest farce. The political inspectors did nothing whatever, never made any inspection as required by the law, and for days and weeks were not seen at all on the ovater wharves.

We do not mind paying this tax for "inspection." if the State carries out its part, and causes the oysters to be inspecied, but we do object to paying something for nothing.

We doubt very much if any merchant would pay for goods which were never shipped or delivered to him, or that any lawyer would allow his client to pay for property which was never conveyed to him, and we do not beleive that the State can force the oyster dealers to pay an inspectors tax when there is no inspection.

We are satisfied that every oyster 'packer' in New Bern paid the full amount of his tax to the State, just as fully and honestly as we did ours, and we beleive that all the canners and packers in the State have been much more honest on their part as to this inspectors tax, than has the State of North Carolina on its part.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—Several articles have appeared in the Journal regarding the late New Bern Fair, what it has done for this city and section, and what it might do if continued.

One thing ought to be done by the Fair management, and that is to come to some business settlement at once on the affairs of the last Fair, and for that matter on the entire Fair Association, so that its financial affairs can be settle! up for the benefit of all concerned, and there are a number very much interest ed in such a final settlement.

Wreck on A. & N. C. Road.

Yesterday morning the material train on the Atlantic & North Carolina road ran into the wood train which was standing on the main track, about one mile east of Tuscarora.

The tender of the engine of the material train and two cars on the wood train were derailed, and this blocked traffic on the road until late, the regular mail train reaching here at 9 p, m., the 4 50 p. m. passenger train not leaving Raleigh about three inches of snow fell here until after the arrival of the mail

Prompt Payment.

The officers of Trent Council Royal Arcanum yesterday paid the widow of the late Capt. Sam'l. B. Waters three thousand dollars ($3000) the amount of instrance carried by him in that order It is worthy of note that the check arrived within one month from the death of Capt Waters, which speaks well for the officers of Trent Council as well as for the financial health of the order.

Wi hin the past two years the Royal Arca: um bas paid to beneficiaries living in New Bern twenty-one thousand dollars ($31,0%) and its promptness in paying all these losses has won for it enviable reputation.

It is gratifying to note the rapid grath of this order. The Council here is large and so ive, new members being initiated at nearly every meeting.
