INAUGURATION.

McKinley and Roosevelt Take Their Oath of Office at the Capitol.

A Magnificent Parade. Rain During the Address and Part of the Parade. Features of the Day.

Special to Journal. WASHINGTON, March 4.—Shortly before noon today William McKinley left the Executive Mansion to take the oath of office at the Capitol and become his own successor as President of the United States. The trip up Pennsylvania Avenue was made in the President's private carriage drawn by four horses, two blacks for the leaders and two bays for the wheel horses. With him rode Senator Marcus A. Hanna and the carriage was escorted by Troop A. of Ohio, the Union Veteran Legion and the Military Division. The day was threatening but vast crowds of people were in attendance.

The swearing in of Vice President Roosevelt was before that of the President and took place in the Senate Chamber, and admittance to the galleries were by ticket only, and the number of tickets were necessarily limited. One of the first duties performed by the Vice President after Senator Frye administered the oath to him, was to administer the oath to thirteen new Senators.

President McKinley took the oath of office, administered by Chief Justice Fuller, in front of the Senate wing of the Capitol. Rain fell during the inaugural address and during part of the inaugural parade which followed.

The inaugural parade was a military affair and was a brilliant pageant. Its features were Vice President Roosevelt, the Porto Rico troops and Maj. Gen. Joe Wheeler, who led the third division of troops. Wheeler was given an ovation along the entire line of march.

It rained but the vast crowds stood regardless of the fact as the brilliant show swept by. Maj. Gen. Brooke led the three divisions. The first was led by Maj. Gen. Ludlow, the second by Hon. W. O. Stone, Governor of Pennsylvania and Maj. Gen. Wheeler led the third, and in this division was the National Guard of New York, Virginia and North Carolina and the West State troops, outside of Pennsylvania.

The lines of regular troops, the West Point Cadets, the Annapolis Naval Academy Cadets, Governors of many States, the bluejackets from the Warships and a host of civil orders went to make up an imposing spectacle.

CHANGING HOUSE.

The Following Special Was Received From Mr. McKinley Last Night.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4, 1901. DEAR JOURNAL.—Thanks for your congratulations. I never fully realized why March fourth was made Inauguration Day until I marched forth today as an ex-President, took a walk around the block, and walked up the White House steps as big as you please, as a new President.

I tell you it was great fun; I was saved the trouble of having carts to move my furniture down to the depot. I was able to stand the servants off on their back wages, because they know I am going to live in the same house for four more years, and in order to hold their jobs they daren't press me too hard for what I owe them. Mrs. Mc. is thankful because she hasn't got to take up the carpets for good, and the curtains and window shades will stay where they are until the regular spring cleaning in April, when the house cleaning is on. I'll go to Canton, Ohio, when I want to be solid with the people as I expect, when the Presidential job is finished, to run for Mayor of my home town.

There is a big crowd here today, and more noise than a little, but the people mean well and I have no reason to find fault.

I saw Charlie Stevens of the Journal perched on a lamp post, and sent one of my dude crowd to tell him to come up to the house tonight. He hasn't got here yet.

I am here alright and when any of you come on, come in. Mc.

Seaboard Offices to Move.

RICHMOND, Mich., 4.—There is quite general belief in railroad circles that the Seaboard Air Line shops will be removed to Richmond from Portsmouth, to follow the general offices.

There seems but little reason to doubt that after the offices are brought to Richmond, the shops will very probably follow. They would be too much out of reach at Portsmouth.

COURT WILL BE PAID.

Long Debate in the House Over the Question. Apportionment and Other Bills.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, March 4.—A long discussion was held in the House today on the bill to pay the Senators $4 a day while sitting as a court of impeachment. On demand the bill was referred to the Judiciary Committee. The committee met later and decided to report the bill favorably.

The Congressional apportionment bill passed, the Republicans voting nay, with some Democrats voting with them.

A bill was introduced in the Senate today requiring a rigid inspection of illuminating oils.

A bill placing the geological survey under the Board of Agriculture was introduced.

The bill passed authorizing the employment of three State Supervisors of Public Schools at a salary of $150 each.

CARRAWAY GIVES UP.

He Says That Annexation is Over For The Present.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, March 4.—Representative Carraway of Lenoir, who has been pushing a plan to add part of Craven county to his county, says the plan has been abandoned for this session; that there has been what he terms "arbitration."

Their promptness and their pleasant effects make DeWitt's Little Early Bitters most popular little pills wherever they are known. They are simply perfect for liver and bowel troubles. F. S. Duffy & Co.

W. C. Stronach Dead.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, Mich., 4.—William Carter Stronach, one of the founders of the North Carolina Soldiers' Home and who ever since had been chairman of its board of directors, died yesterday afternoon at his home here, aged 56, of cancer. He was in the Confederate army in the 47th regiment, and while acting sergeant-major was shot through the lungs at Reams Station. He was one of Raleigh's foremost citizens and devoted himself to the Confederate veterans.

Killed For Six Cents.

NEW YORK, March 3.—George Gala, a laborer from Providence, R. I. lost his life in a cheap Bowery restaurant because he could not pay six cents for food he had just eaten. Gala went into the place about 7 o'clock and ordered coffee and buttercakes. He ate ravenously and then told the cashier that he had no money. It is the custom on the Bowery to beat a man severely when he fails to pay for his food, because according to the restaurant people, there are so many hungry wretches in that thoroughfare all the time that this eating houses would have to go out of business unless the "wretches" are severely punished.

OPINIONS.

All Shades Expressed on the Question of Adjournment.

Can the Court of Impeachment Set Without the House? Responsibility Put on Butler and Pritchard.

RALEIGH, March 4.—Most of the talk today was about the possible date of adjournment of the legislature. Some say the speaker, clerks and 50 members of the house ought to stay until the Senate gets through with its work as a court of impeachment.

Representative Rountree, of the board of managers of impeachment, says this is not necessary; that the legislature can adjourn until some time in May, or perhaps June; that the Senate can sit as a court of impeachment, on pay, as when a court it is not the Senate. Representative Connor said he did not see how the legislature could adjourn under 2 weeks, and that he understood the managers of impeachment would recommend this. He does not think that the Senate can sit while the House is not in session, but that sessions must be concurrent. Representative Smith of Gates said it would certainly be two weeks before the calendar could be cleared. Some members say only the speaker, two clerks and two or three members of the house need remain during the impeachment trial, that a bill can be passed to prevent the raising of the point of "no quorum."

The Supreme Court is this week hearing 5th, district appeals. The corporation commission in session this week.

Senator Brown of Columbus is very angry about the proposed judicial districts. He said to me "They fooled us about there being need for 16 judges. I don't know who did it, but it was done. We did not need 16. I see it now plainly. The call was for more courts. I intend to rise in my seat and do some plain talking."

There is yet plenty of talk about the possible result of the impeachment trial. J. C. L. Harris, the best known Republican lawyer here, said to me last night "If they are convicted the fool talk of Senators Pritchard and Butler and others at Washington will be responsible for it."

First Protestant Church Mania. New York, March 3.—The first Protestant Church in the Philippine is to be built by $80,000, just given for the purpose by E. M. Knox, the hat manufacturer, and his sister Mary Knox Robinson. It will be erected at Manila, where a native has given ground and will be called the First Methodist Episcopal of Manila.

Mrs. Nation is Defiant. Topeka, Kan. March, 3.—The crusader spirit of Mrs. Carrie Nation is not dismayed by the iron bars and prison fare she is in the county jail here.

"You can tell the people that Carrie Nation will attend to her knitting the same as usual," she said, "I will go to smearing as soon as I am released, of course. This is my mission in the world at present and I am going to fulfill it to the best of my ability."
