Mrs. McKinley No Better.

WASHINGTON, June 8 .- Mrs McKiney's condition is regarded now as proba bly more alarming than at any time since she returned to Washington. While the bulletin issued today gives no cause for apprehending a decided turn for the worse immediately, there are strong reasons for bellaving she is in a condition which if not materially improved soon will leave scant hope for her re-Duffy & Co. wery.

some fields will be replowed for corn. Progress in chopping cotton and cleanlast four days, while the plants are very small for the season the stands are fair to good. Corn also has suffered, chiefly from lack of proper cultivation; it shows however, more improvement than does cotton; much corn was yellowed by the cool, damp weather, and has suffered from ravages of cut and bud worms. The stand of corn is generally poor, except over limited sections where wall cultivated. Much corn will be planted in lowlands up to June 15th. Tobacco seems to be doing fairly well, in the north-central portion much of the crop remains to be planted; plants are abundant and of good size. Reports upon wheat are favorable; unfortunately it has taken rust in some counties, but as the harvest is near it is thought the disease will not spread rapidly enough to en-
