NORTH CAROLINA'S IMMIGRATION.

The resignation of John W. Thompson, recently commissioner of Immigration of North Carolina, was caused no doubt through lack of business, as it was stated at the time that liberal inducements by the ocean steamship and western railroad companies made it impossible to secure immigrants for this State.

The fact is that foreign immigration to North Carolina has never possessed sufficient attraction of merit, to warrant the people of this State in making any strenuous efforts in securing it.

There are settlements in different places in the State of more or less of a colony character, but the people have generally come from some other State in this country.

To secure immigrants, it is necessary that liberal grants of lands shall be made, and foreign immigration is not of the kind which brings money to buy land, however thrifty it may prove after becoming settled under the citizenship of any State.

An investigation of those who have come into this State during the past ten or fifteen years will show that these new settlers brought money with them, in addition to the ability to do good and skilled work.

The character of the immigration coming here is of the kind to preserve the Anglo-Saxon race, which is peculiarly distinctive of North Carolina's citizenship.

The feeling here is not one to bring any or all kinds of immigration to simply fill up the waste places of the State, but rather to offer to any intelligent and skilled immigration the opportunity to become citizens here by right of purchase of an equitable basis, with full chance to earn a competence from the resources offered and to be found at hand, which honest labor can develop.

The March of Boston Boys.

Something happened in the city of Boston on Feb. 5 last that reminds us of the day over 100 years ago when the boys of Boston marched to the headquarters of the British and complained that their sport on Boston Common was being interfered with by the British soldiers.

Philippine Barber Shops. Filipino barber shops should be avoided. A weary white beard should be cultivated in preference. They have straight back chairs, with a cushion behind, to reach which with your head is necessary to stretch your neck to an alarming extent.

These boys appeared before the committee and asked that it should be lawful for bootblacks to work on the Lord's day until 11 a. m. Eighteen of the boys were conducted into the office of the governor and were kindly received by him. The little fellows made good pleas, which appealed very strongly to the hearts of the committeemen.

Manila is now provided with many American barbers with up to date chairs. The sidewalks of their shops are generally crowded with natives watching the Americans at their work.

While standing in a large wood shed, one end of which he had partitioned off with narrow slats as a fowhouse, Mr. X. heard a grating noise and, looking about him, saw a large brown rat darting away from a dog biscuit lying on the floor of the shed.

SPANISH IN NEW MEXICO.

Many of the Territory's People Cannot Yet Speak English. It is a pity and an injustice that the territorial government does not print more documents in the Spanish language for distribution among the Spanish speaking citizens of New Mexico.

The United States government now spends millions of dollars in Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands to enlighten the people of those possessions of ours. Why not spend a few thousand dollars in New Mexico, whose people have been treated as stepchildren by the nation since 1847?

As it is, while it is truly American and loyal to the government, as the people of the territory have proved in numerous wars with Indians, the war between the states and the Spanish-American war, still there are many people who do not speak the English language.

Words That Catch the Fancy of Public Writers. "Public writers and speakers, who are followed by the general public, catch on to a certain word or phrase at certain periods as a boy catches the measles," said a well known Washingtonian to a Star reporter.

"It is 'strenuous' now. For the past few years the prime favorite has been 'passing.' If a man died, a headline to his death notice was like this: 'The passing of Hoodie Foodie.'"

"At about Christmas time it is a 'piece de resistance' for turkey. 'Strenuous' hadn't been glorified last Christmas, so fancy the opportunity to ring it in in a description of a newboy's Christmas dinner like this: 'The youngsters, already filled to bursting with celery, cranberry sauce, coffee and cakes, fell upon the piece de resistance with strenuous ravenousness which brought tears to eyes of the charitable ladies who, etc.'"

"How's that? We'll have a strenuous administration, a strenuous president, a strenuous foreign policy, a strenuous campaign, a strenuous new congress, and we will lead strenuous lives. But it does not alter the rigid fact that some of us have a strenuous case for the 'strenuous copper cent, all right.'"
